Married at First Sight Chapter 2405-Noah snorted, "Sister Serenity doesn't need Hunt family to support her."

They were thinking that after such a long time, maybe Serenity's anger dissipated, and they could use the wedding opportunity to ease the relationship with Serenity.

They dared not say that they would be blessed, but at least they would be able to seek some benefits from others under the guise of being relatives of the York family.

Let's see if they could bring their Hunt family back to the top.

Everyone looked at Old Mr. Hunt, waiting for him to make a decision.

If it wasn't for the fact that Serenity gave back some face to their grandfather, they didn't need Old Mr. Hunt to make up his mind, and went directly to York's house for a wedding.

Zachary and Serenity's wedding was reported by paparazzi a few days ago, and the whole Wiltspoon knew about it.

Come to think of it, the wedding would be unprecedentedly grand.

The Hunt family all wanted to see the real world.

They even thought about going to the wedding banquet, where they could not only eat tasty food but also take some home with them.

Anyway, Serenity didn't care about her natal family, and she didn't care about whether they were ashamed or not.

It's just that Serenity was also ruthless. In the end, they were the ones who suffered the most from the previous incidents. After their vitality was severely injured, they still hadn't recovered.

That's because she was merciful, and she didn't let them go bankrupt and their wives and children be separated.

"Husband, what's your opinion?" old Mrs. Hunt asked old Mr. Hunt.

After pondering for a long time, old Mr. Hunt smoked a few more shishas and said, "Serenity didn't invite us, so no one should go. She doesn't want to reconcile with us, and it won't happen."

The house was for them to live in, and the rent was for old Mr. Hunt and his wife's retirement was due to the law, and it was also Serenity's reward for asking them to help.

It didn't mean that the Serenity forgave them.

Don't say that so many years have passed; she still cares about so much; she's too stingy; and so on.

Don't persuade others to do good without the suffering of others.

The pain experienced by the Serenity couldn't be overcome with a few words.

They would never forget the pain of losing their parents, the helplessness and despair of being kicked out of their homes.

Old Mr. Hunt was also regretful now.

Especially when old couples needed their children to take care of them, they pushed them out one by one. Even though they were wealthy, they didn't want to give them money to live on. The house was so well made that the two elders couldn't fit in it.

They took the money earned by the third couple's lives and helped other children. In the end, it was the third daughter's daughter who gave them a house and living expenses so that they would not go hungry.

It's ridiculous and sad.

They didn't know who said that the children that parents love the most are often the least filial and the least grateful, and the children that parents dislike the most are filial.

Old Mr. Hunt understood it. Fortunately, He and his wife were lucky that they could still take care of themselves.
