

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2434

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2434-“Who knows? But I’m sure it’s something serious.” “Aren’t you spewing nonsense? Why would the three Overlords summon us if there’s nothing serious? Even the ones living in seclusion have to come out or they’ll be kicked out of Leila.”

“Do you think the Robotias want to invade Leila again?”

“I think it’s possible! Among the level 9 civilizations near Leila, only the Robotias’ resources are exhausted. It’s been a while since they had the idea of invading us.”

“It seems that we haven’t taught those scrap metals a severe enough lesson last time! We have to teach them a severe lesson this time so that they will unconsciously feel fear whenever they even think about Leila in the future.”

“In the future? I suggest we beat them back to their lair, destroy their mother brain, and cut off their inheritance so that there won’t be any future trouble.”

“I agree! We have to prevent those scrap metals from wanting to invade us and steal our resources whenever they’re done recuperating.”

‘That’s enough. Be quiet, everyone. We have no idea what’s going on so let’s stop discussing. Even if it’s about the Robotias, they will surely come prepared after the lesson from last time. We just have to follow orders and leave everything else to the five Overlords,’ the old man who spoke first said.

Even though they were all partial Overlords, the old man clearly had the highest status among them.

At this moment, the old man added, ‘We’re all here.’

The other partial Overlords felt three energies approaching too.

After the old man finished speaking, three figures appeared on the platform one after another.

They were two middle-aged men and one middle-aged woman.

“Everyone, since it’s too far away, we’re a little late. Please forgive us,” one of the middle-aged men said.

“It’s fine. It’s fine. We just got here anyway,” someone said politely.

“Since we’re all here, let’s inform the three Overlords.”

The old man stood up after he said that.

Then, he lifted his head to look at the gigantic statues.

“Overlords, all of the partial Overlords in Leila are here.

We’re patiently waiting for your order.”

His voice penetrated a distance of ten thousand miles and reached the top of the statue.

Lufian, Valentin, and Drogo, who were sitting on the statues, opened their eyes at the same time.

Their bodies slowly dissipated and when they appeared again, they were hovering above the platform under the statues.

“Greetings, Overlords!”

All of the partial Overlords in Leila knelt on one knee and shouted together.

“You may rise,” Lufian, Valentin, and Drogo said together.

‘Thank you, Overlords.’

After they thanked the Overlords respectfully, the partial Overlords who wielded absolute power in their area, stood up and waited patiently.

“We called you here today because we have something to tell you. You’re not allowed to spread this after you go back,” said Lufian. He could not wait anymore.

He wanted to finish his task here and go back to see Elora.

‘We understand,’ the partial Overlords replied together.

“I believe most of you here participated in the battle with the Robotias the last time. We got the final victory and seriously injured the Robotias. However, after a long recuperation, those scrap metals have become restless again. The reason we summon you here is to ask you to go back and prepare to fight at anytime.”

After Lufian said that, the partial Overlords began to discuss among themselves.

“Don’t worry, Overlords. We will do our best to protect our home. If we can defeat them once, we can do it again the second time,” the old man responded loudly.

‘We will do our best to protect our home!’

The others chimed in as well.

Lufian lifted both hands to tell everyone to stay quiet.

The scene immediately became silent.

‘This will be different from the last time. The Robotias are working with the Soul Devourers and they want to destroy us in one fell swoop. If that happens, the Robotias will take over Leila’s resources while the Soul Devourers will devour our souls. Therefore, we have to give everything we have to face this incoming crisis. No one is allowed to slack off! If not, the Robotias and the Soul Devourers might succeed!’