

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2447

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2447-After sending Mia home, David took everyone back to Earth.

The Milky Way was not too far from Earth. It was much closer than the distance between Star Kingdom and the Milky Way.

In the twelve-dimensional space, they arrived in the blink of an eye.

Inside the solar system, the smallest galaxy, where Earth was located.

A huge crack suddenly appeared in space, and an enormous tortoise crawled out.

It was David and the gang.

Then, the enormous tortoise turned small quickly and was put away by Celeste.

The gang hovered in the void and looked at the blue planet, joy on their faces.

They had been away for so long. Now, they were finally home.

Behind them was a huge fireball, the sun.

Normal people could not get close to the sun as its extremely high temperature could turn anything nearby into gas.

However, at David's level, a small huff from him could blow out the sun.

Earth was the only living planet in the solar system. The rest of them were all dead stars with horrendous conditions where nothing could live.

Nine planets revolved around the sun.

From where David and the gang stood, they could see Earth rotating quickly and revolving around the sun.

"Is that where you're born?" Nova pointed at the blue planet.

'Yes, Master. That's Earth, where we're born," Selena answered.

‘That small?’

“Compared to the living planets in the Milky Way and Star Kingdom, Earth is indeed pitifully small, but even though it’s small, it has everything we need,” David said.

“Such a small living planet could give birth to such an insane genius like you. How unbelievable.” Nova lamented.

She had previously wondered what the planet that gave birth to a weirdo like David looked like.

In the end, it was just a small living planet.

It was so unbelievable.

David smiled but did not say anything when he heard that.

He would not tell Nova that everything he had came from the system, and the system was something from the God Tier Civilization.

In another timeline, Earth did not have a system. It had been taken over by the Tuffin family and everyone became slaves that could never make a comeback for eternity.

“Since we’re at the front door, let’s go in. I believe everyone is in a hurry to see their family members too.”

After David said that, he was the first to fly toward Earth.

The rest of them followed closely behind.

After they arrived on Earth, they parted ways.

They each went back to their own homes and their parents.

It had been so long since they left Earth, and everyone missed their families very much. They could not wait to see their parents and family members.

David brought Celeste and Nova to where he stayed.

Even though it had been very long, and there had been astronomical changes on Earth, David's old house was still the same. Plus, there were still people cleaning his place every day.

As for David's East League International, it had become the biggest commercial group in the world and had countless wealth.

East League International was not the same as the other capital financial groups. While it was making money, it continued its charity work.

Because of this, it grew bigger and bigger. Everyone knew that this was Savior David's asset.

After settling Celeste and Nova, David got ready to meet his old friends and visit Celia and all the other women's families.

No matter what, they all left with him. So, to the women's families, they already belonged to David.