The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1411

Chapter 1411

Zenobia came running, leaving Osborn somewhat helpless.

He stopped: "Zenobia, I've told you, she won't..."

"Osborn, Alan suddenly coughed up blood and fainted!" Zenobia yelled, ignoring the nearby presence of Rosalynn and her group.

Osborn was stunned, his face turning serious. "He was fine just a moment ago, why would he suddenly cough up blood?"

"I don't know, you better go check it out!"

"Someone got hurt? I brought a medical team, need any help?" Rosalynn's voice echoed from a distance.

Zenobia looked hopeful at the sound of it.

Just as she was about to accept the offer, Osborn declined it.

"Don't worry about it. Alan's been under the weather, I got this!" With that, he took off, dragging Zenobia along without even a goodbye.

Once they were out of Rosalynn's earshot, he lowered his voice: "Have you lost your mind? Didn't I tell you not to let them see Alan?"

"But Alan is..." Zenobia was scared to death at the sight of the blood on the ground.

"He's been worse off before, and I managed to patch him up. Nothing is gonna happen to him. Anyway, remember my words, if you don't want to lose Alan, listen to me!"

Osborn's tone was unusually serious and domineering.

The words “losing Alan’ made Zenobia immediately compliant.

Rosalynn stood still, watching the frantic siblings..

“Weren’t they supposed to be educated?” She was puzzled, “They seem a bit reluctant to accept treatment?”

“Alan? They’re not talking about that troublemaker, are they?” Felix asked with a low voice, “Turns out he’s a sick man?”

“Don’t know, he’s quite mysterious. Heard he’s a good friend of Osborn from school, but not many people have seen him.” Sean said, “Anyway, we shouldn’t take everything these islanders said seriously. They’re crafty, don’t expect them to tell you the truth.”

“Indeed, not much to go on. For all we know, these natives might be worshipping him like a god, they won’t reveal his identity that easily. Felix complained.

He was really pissed off! Rosalynn glanced back towards the inn.

“When’s the marine biologist we hired arriving?” Rosalynn asked.

“He’ll be here by tomorrow afternoon. Should arrive around the same time as the expert volunteer.” Sean replied.

Rosalynn nodded and headed back.

Osborn rushed into Alan’s room, the sight of blood and his frantic mother greeting him.

‘Osborn... what do we do?’ Viola asked as soon as she saw him.

Osborn didn’t respond. He went over to Alan, lifted his eyelid to have a look.

Osborn and Zenobia’s father used to be a fairly well-known doctor before they ended up on this island, so Osborn had learnt a lot from him.

“He’s always had a chest issue, the coughing blood is probably due to him getting overly angry.” Osborn looked at the man lying unconscious on the bed, then at the blood on the floor.

The blood was near the window, and a pair of binoculars was still clutched in his hand.

Could it be...

Osborn stood up, walked over to the window, and looked out. The window directly overlooked the distant beach.

Chapter 1412

Before they bought the island last year, those guys were hanging around there for quite a while.

They were just there...

“How come Alan suddenly started throwing up blood? Mom, did you have a fight with Alan?” Zenobia asked anxiously.

Viola looked frustrated. “I didn’t do anything! I just brought up some food. As soon as I opened the door, I saw Alan throwing up blood. I didn’t even say a word!”

“Osborn said it was because he got angry!”

“Enough!” Osborn glared at Zenobia. “How can you talk to Mom like that?”

Zenobia looked at her mother. Viola looked upset, as if she was about to cry at any moment.

“Mom, I’m sorry, I’m just really worried about Alan. You know that he’s barely made it through a few times before, and now he’s throwing up blood.” Zenobia said, tears falling from her eyes.

Viola didn’t say anything, just looked at her son.

Osborn thought for a moment, picked up a pen and paper from the table, and wrote a note. He walked over to Zenobia and said, “Stop crying. Alan will be fine. Go get him some medicine. He’ll be better in a few days...”

“Alright...”

Zenobia wiped her tears, looked at Alan, took the note from Osborn, and went downstairs.

Osborn and Viola looked at each other, speechless.

“Mom, once Alan gets a bit better, you can leave with him and Zenobia.”

Viola looked down and said, “Osborn, are we doing the right thing?”

“What’s wrong with it? Alan lost his memory and thinks he’s Zenobia’s fiancé, and Zenobia really likes him. If we keep things as they are, everyone will get what they want. That’s a good thing!” Osborn said excitedly.

Viola looked serious.

Three months ago, Osborn, who was working outside, suddenly dragged out a seriously injured and unconscious man from the cabin.

He was dying and barely hanging on.

Osborn said this was his friend Alan, but Viola felt that this man looked familiar.

A few weeks later, when the man got a bit better, Viola found a group photo while cleaning up her husband’s belongings.

It was a photo of the rich businessmen who came to buy the island and the island owner from last year.

Her husband had quite a reputation on the island and was also in the photo.

And the handsome businessman in the center of the photo was exactly the same as the man Osborn had brought back.

She panicked and immediately confronted her son.

Osborn explained, “Mom, it’s not what you think! He was injured, and I happened to be passing by. I found him washed up on a deserted island. I jumped off the boat and ran over. After confirming that he was still breathing, I saved him!”

“Saved him? Why didn’t you hand him over to the police? Why did you bring him back?” Viola didn’t believe him at all.

Her children loved this inn deeply. To keep the inn, they were willing to do anything, which didn’t surprise Viola.

“I want him to live. And since I saved his life, after he recovers, I’ll ask him to keep Dad’s inn. He’ll definitely agree!” Osborn said firmly.

But later things didn’t go as they had planned.

Another half a month later, the unconscious man finally woke up under Osborn’s care.

Chapter 1413

That day, he woke up to find Osborn and Viola had gone out to negotiate with the construction crew.

Meanwhile, Zenobia rushed back from overseas and immediately fell for this handsome man..

By the time Osborn and Viola returned, the guy had been given the name Alan and was now Zenobia's fiancé.

Osborn and Viola were dumbfounded

Soon, they learned from Zenobia that the man had amnesia. He couldn't remember a thing.

Osborn was shocked. If he can't remember anything, how could he help them keep their father's inn?

Viola decided to contact his family and send him back.

The next day, Viola left the island and flew to H Country.

Without any contact information for Alan's family and not wanting to cause any trouble for her son, she had no choice but to wait near the Bane Corp Center.

After two days of waiting, she overheard a conversation.

"The relationship between tycoons is so unpredictable. I can't believe Rosalynn has a new lover so soon after Wayne's death."

"That guy is also a looker, even younger than Wayne. Secretary Tesdal can't be alone forever after her husband's death, right? I think it's good."

Viola was stunned.

That night, she saw a handsome man drive to the Bane Corp Center to pick up Rosalynn, who happily got into his car.

Viola's mind was filled with complex scenarios. She wasn't sure whether to tell this woman that her husband was still alive.

The next day, she returned to the island. Hoping to discuss it with her son, she found her daughter had somehow found a wheelchair and was wheeling Alan out of the inn.

She had never seen her daughter so happy.

She thought about the tycoon's wife who already had a new lover. If he went back now, they might try to kill him over his assets, just like in the movies.

Since her daughter liked him and he had no memory, why not just let him be Alan?

Osborn had been worried about this for days.

Hearing his mother's idea, he was shocked, "Mom, Zenobia is mad enough to fall for him, but have you gone mad too?"

"What should we do then?" Viola asked seriously, "I've checked where his accident took place. No matter how the sea flows. it couldn't have brought him here! What will you say when they ask how he ended up here? I only found out when I got to H Country that the woman had been looking for him for a long time. Do you think she will thank you or blame you for hiding him?"

Osborn was a bit nervous.

Viola continued, "The way things are now also protects him. We don't know his wife, but she already has a new partner in such a short time. Obviously, she didn't really love him. From what I know, all his wealth and company now belong to his wife. Faced with such a massive fortune and a new wealthy boyfriend, I'm not sure she would choose him again. If she didn't, what would happen to a man as wounded as him?"

And so, reluctantly, Osborn had to give in.

If he had known that Wayne would lose all his memory when he woke up, he would have definitely sent him back.

But, it's all too late now

He took care of Wayne as best as he could, watching him recover day by day, eventually accepting the fact that he was now

Alan

This was until Bane Corporation sent a new deputy manager with all the court documents, insisting on forcibly evicting the island's residents.

When Osborn found out, it was already too late.

From the moment he knew that the online incident had caused a sensation, a large

He had a hunch.

That woman was coming.

He and his mother looked at the unconscious Wayne and were silent for a long time

"He must have seen her," Osborn said in a low voice while wiping the blood off the floor

"Will he remember then?" his mother's lips trembled, "What will happen to Zenobia if he does?"

Osborn didn't speak.

He cleaned up the blood on the floor and on the glass: "Mom, let's take a bet."

"Bet about what?" his mother was anxious.

The last person Zenobia saw before going to bed every day was him, and the first person she saw when she woke up was still him.

Even after such a long time, he couldn't even accept physical contact with Zenobia, but she didn't mind at all and had no complaints.

Zenobia never asked them who Alan really was, where he came from. It was as if he was the Alan she talked about her fiance.

Viola was very worried. If he regained his memory and no longer needed Zenobia, Zenobia would be devastated.

He was Zenobia's first love!

"If he wakes up, regaining his memory, we'll send him back. If he wakes up, without regaining his memory, I'll arrange a boat tomorrow and let Zenobia take him away."

Osborn said in a deep voice.

Viola frowned, was silent for a long time: "Alright, let's settle on that. Whether we can be a family or not, let's leave it up to fate!

Osborn responded.

He stood up, walked over to Wayne, and put the telescope tightly held in his hand back on the table.

At this moment, night had completely fallen, making the sea and the sky merge into one, indistinguishable

Osborn looked out the window, the image appeared again in front of his eyes, the woman looking up at him, that heart-racing look.

Chapter 1415

What Osborn didn't expect was that a whole night had passed Wayne had so no signs of waking up

Wayne's condition was like when he was first rescued, he fell into a coma again

By lunchtime, Zenobia came back from outside

"Has Alan not woken up yet? Zenckisely

Osborn shook his head. I checked his pulse, didn't find anything wrong. How's the situation outside? Have the marine biologists arrived?"

"They have Zenobia nodded a bit impatiently. "But I was a step too late, they were already taken away by that woman?"

Rosalynn's image popped into Osborn's head

“Zenobia, let’s not meddle in this anymore, let the other islanders deal with it. You stay here with Alan, don’t go out and clash with them, Osborn continued

Zenobia clearly didn’t want to “Osborn, why do you and mom always say that? You’re scared of her, but I’m not “Just do as I said Osborn suddenly got angry, “Why won’t you listen?”

Zenobia was so scared she started shaking, hugging her arms tightly to herself “Fine, give me a reason! If you can convince me, I won’t go She really wanted to know why mom and Osborn’s attitude towards that woman had changed so drastically.

Osborn looked at Zenobia, his breath becoming heavier

He thought for a moment, then gritted his teeth: “If we keep hiding this from you, you’ll do something you’ll regret for the rest of your life.”

Zenobia frowned: “Are you and mom really hiding something from me?”

Osborn’s face turned pale: “Do you know who that woman is?”

“I know, right? The heiress of a tycoon, the wife of a CEO.

“She’s Alan’s wife,” Osborn cut her off.

Zenobia was stunned, then her voice started shaking, “Osborn, what nonsense are you talking about? Do you know what you’re saying?”

“Alan’s real name is Wayne, he’s from the Silverman Group, the CEO of Bane Corporation!” Osborn said, “He was kidnapped in H Country and fell into the sea. I saved him when he was on his last breath. I originally planned to save him, so he would owe me a life-saving favor, then use this as a reason to keep our dad’s hotel. But I didn’t expect him to lose his memory, and you lied when we weren’t around saying he was your fiancé, and he really believed it...”.

“That’s impossible. You’re lying to me!! I’ve seen Wayne in the news, he doesn’t look like Alan, Alan is much more handsome!!” Zenobia refused to believe it.

Osborn didn’t say anything else. He took out his phone from his pocket, found some photos of Wayne and Rosalynn he found when he couldn’t sleep last night.

In addition to some early photos, there were also high-definition photos of the two at Natalie Stein’s funeral, and photos of Wayne at various events.

“See for yourself!”

Zenobia was trembling as she flipped through the photos, flipping faster the more she looked.

“They just look a bit similar..Zenobia muttered, Rosalynn’s image kept popping up in her head.

She quickly threw the phone to the side, looked at Osborn with tear filled eyes, “Why didn’t you say it earlier?”

“Are you guys arguing?” Viola heard the arguing and immediately rushed over

“I told her the truth.” Osborn said bluntly

Viola asked in shock, “You”

Chapter 1416

“Mom, if we don’t spill the beans, she’ll keep chasing after Mrs. Silverman. It’s gonna blow up in our faces sooner or later!” Osborn said, a touch of exasperation in his voice.

If it wasn’t for Zenobia, things wouldn’t be so messy!

“Mom, you knew about this?” Zenobia was even more shocked. She couldn’t believe it, “You all knew he was married and still kept me in the dark? What the hell were you thinking?”

“Zenobia, listen to me. His wife has another man now. And he’s no longer Wayne, he’s your fiancé!” Viola quickly reassured her, “Osborn and I have decided, once Alan wakes up, we’ll take him away from here, far from Bane Corporation and the Silverman family!”

Osborn looked conflicted, but he didn’t argue with Viola.

There was this nagging reluctance deep within him. The idea of handing Wayne back to Rosalynn was like a knife to his heart.

Zenobia slowly calmed down, “How long has it been since Wayne’s accident, and his wife already has another man?” “I saw it with my own eyes when I went to H Country to find her!” Viola declared firmly, “A man came to pick her up from work, and they looked close.”

In reality, all Viola saw was Evan opening the car door for Rosalynn. They didn’t even touch each other.

“That’s so shameless!” Zenobia didn’t like Rosalynn to begin with, hearing her mother’s words, she disliked her even more, “She doesn’t deserve my Alan!

“Zenobia, if you really want to be with Alan, then listen to Osborn. Stop messing with her, Osborn said seriously, “From now on, I’ll handle any dealings with them. Once Alan wakes up, you guys should leave the island, got it?”

This time, Zenobia didn’t insist on holding on to her father’s hotel.

She nodded without hesitation.

She won’t let a woman like that tarnish Alan!

After lunch, Osborn stepped out in place of Zenobia.

“Why isn’t Zenobia here?” The others were somewhat dissatisfied when they saw Osborn.

Zenobia had been leading the group in recent events, she was their leader.

“Alan’s sick, she’s staying with him, taking care of him,” Osborn responded.

Upon hearing that Alan was ill, everyone expressed concern and inquired about his condition.

Osborn brushed it off saying it was nothing serious, he just needed a few days to rest.

He was in the middle of speaking when he spotted the beautiful woman surrounded by a crowd.

After entertaining the marine botanists, Rosalynn led them to the dock to board a boat to the corals.

“I thought you’d put up more resistance to our visit, but it seems you’re being quite cooperative, Ms. Jared.” The marine biologist brought by the islanders and influencers was a slightly overweight, middle-aged Latino man.

“Mister, my daughter is a huge fan of your ‘Marine Life Encyclopedia’ published ten years ago. I’ve always hoped to meet you, so I could give her a chance to meet you as well,” Rosalynn said gently.

Hearing this, the professor smiled happily, “Sure, I’d be delighted to meet your little angel!”

As they were chatting, the island residents and volunteers came over.

Rosalynn looked up and saw the man who almost got a boot to the face from Felix last night.

“Professor Welson, you have to help us protect our home!” Before Osborn could say anything, a middle-aged man behind him rushed toward Professor Welson, tears in his eyes.

Chapter 1417

Osborn always knew that the remaining locals had some extreme opinions about Bane Corporation. The moment he saw one of the islanders charging, he feared that the man might attack Rosalynn. Without a second thought, he stepped forward, grabbed the man by his clothes, and pulled him back. The force was too much, and the man was running too fast.

Result, the man lost his balance and landed flat on his butt, screaming out in pain.

“Osborn, what the hell are you doing?”

The man’s wife seeing this, quickly ran over, shoved Osborn, and checked on her husband.

Osborn was taken aback, his eyes instinctively went to Rosalynn.

That beautiful woman was staring at him.

Osborn quickly looked away, nervously.

“You okay? Do you need a doctor?” Rosalynn asked.

“We don’t need your fake concern!” The man’s wife shot back angrily.

Over the years, more and more tourists came to the island, everyone’s income got better.

But these sudden people from H Country, with their money, wanted to drive them out, what the hell?

They were the ones who had been living on this island for a long time!

Seeing this, Rosalynn looked away and stopped bothering with them.

She walked towards the pier with two marine botanists.

“Osborn, have you lost it? Why did you pull me? You trying to kill me?” The man who fell shouted, pointing his finger at Osborn.

“I should be asking you, what were you trying to do?” Osborn asked in a low serious voice.

There were volunteers nearby, but they had kept their distance from the locals since Rosalynn arrived.

Osborn said loudly, "Whatever I do, it's for protecting our island, our home!"

Just as he suspected, this guy wanted to harm Rosalynn.

"You're so stupid!" Osborn exclaimed, "You think her people are just for show? You wouldn't even touch her before they pin you down!TM

He remembered the leg that almost hit him in the face yesterday evening.

"What can I do? She's brought some so-called professors and experts. If they say the coral isn't rare, we still have to leave!" Osborn didn't say anything.

In fact, Alan had mentioned to him that even if the coral was identified as common, it didn't matter.

There were rainforests, countless plants and animals. They could find some rare ones and say they were rare as well.

By doing this, they could stall for a long time.

With so many workers on the island, stalling for a day meant wasting a day's budget.

When Bane Corporation could no longer bear it, he would sit down and talk with them. They didn't mind Bane Corporation building a resort, but Bane Corporation had to provide a plan that the unwilling locals could accept

If Bane Corporation couldn't propose a good plan, then the struggle would continue.

There were so many plants and animals here, they all needed to be slowly identified.

The locals were making a racket.

Osborn remained silent, his gaze passed through the crowd and locked onto that figure.

There were too many similar corals, and rare corals were extremely scarce.

The professor teams from both sides went to the coral sea, they carefully filmed the scene, then carefully took samples.

These samples would be taken back to the lab for further analysis, to determine if these corals were rare corals, or a new species.

Rosalynn didn't go with them. She just waited at the pier.

Chapter 1418

At this point, Jaime's live stream was flooded with netizens from all over the world, with most of them being from H Country.

They were drawn in by rumors that Rosalynn could be spotted in the stream,

Jaime had added a small window into his stream to shoot the dockside.

"Dang, has Rosalynn lost weight or what? Looks like a gust of wind could blow her away!"

"Don't exaggerate, man! Rosalynn's vibe is incredibly strong!"

"I just looked into this whole thing. Do some people really lack basic common sense? Wayne paid for the island and even compensated the residents, but they still refuse to leave. How did this become Rosalynn's fault?"

"Right, they never even had property rights on the island. The land was leased to them by the island's owner. Even if they've been renting for a lifetime, they still don't own the place!"

"So, I really don't get what some people are ranting about?"

"What else can they rant about? Being wealthy is a crime now?"

"I wonder if Rosalynn can solve this problem. She's spent so much money. It'd be a huge loss if she fails!"

"Heard that the big shot rumored to be involved with Rosalynn has his IP address showing up at her end!"

"Oh my God! I just checked, it's true!"

"Those who don't know better should keep their mouths shut. Evan is pursuing Rosalynn, but she hasn't agreed to anything. Stop spreading rumors about the girl!"

The netizens were probably the best rumor-mongers in the world.

Besides exposing celebrities' relationships, they're also top-notch at stirring up all sorts of messy stuff.

Right now, Evan has indeed arrived. He is waiting at the harbor for a seaplane.

He's been trying really hard these past few months.

He's been rejected countless times, but each time he brushes it off and tries again to get close to Rosalynn.

His mom once told him that as long as he's sincere, he can solve any problem.

He's not going to back down just because Rosalynn pushes him away, not like before.

After two teams of experts took their samples, they didn't linger on the island, leaving only two students to continue observing and recording.

Once the experts were sent off, Rosalynn was about to retire for a rest.

Just then, Evan's seaplane arrived.

"A tourist?" Rosalynn frowned.

Then she saw a familiar figure descend from the plane.

Rosalynn was speechless.

"Rosalynn!" Evan waved and called out.

He wasn't dressed in a suit and looked similar to the first time she met him on the cruise ship.

Evan called out Rosalynn's name excitedly.

He didn't even bother to fetch his luggage and rushed towards her.

Rosalynn sighed in resignation, "So this is your idea of a vacation?"

Evan grinned, "It's beautiful here, perfect for a vacation!"

"Mr. Lockner, your intentions are clear as day." Sean Hudy was not pleased with Evan.

President Silverman had only gone missing, not passed away.

15:20

Chapter

These past few months, this guy had been actively courting Secretary Tesdal.

The folks in the CEO's office knew all about it, they were all chattering about it daily.

They even said Evan was adorable and very handsome, but Sean didn't see it that way.

He simply found Evan particularly annoying.

Seeing him now, Sean's impression of him worsened.

He bet Evan was just good at playing innocent!

Evan is a decent guy

Whenever he prepared gifts for Cory Jared and Ivy Jared, he never forgot about Molly

Soon, Evan picked up his luggage and followed Rosalynn. He joked around with her as they walked towards her residence

He roughly knew what Rosalynn liked, and his suitcase was filled with snacks.

If it wasn't so hot here, he would have bought some cheese cakes and other stuff.

Osborn saw the experts leaving, he intended to tell Rosalynn that their family had agreed to move

But, as soon as he came over, he saw another man besides Rosalynn.

Last night, according to his mother's words, he searched online, and this man was the one who was with Rosalynn

"Do you need something?" Rosalynn looked at Osborn and asked softly.

She didn't sense any hostility from this young man.

It was like this yesterday, and he even helped her today.

The man who rushed over was obviously targeting her.

Although he charged, Felix was there, so she was not harmed.

But Rosalynn was still grateful for his kindness.

“No... Osborn shook his head, then said, “Zenobia might have been a bit impulsive earlier. She just wanted to protect our father’s inn. She meant no harm, I hope you don’t mind.”

“If you’re really sorry, then go persuade those who don’t want to move,” Felix didn’t particularly like Osborn.

He always had an intuition for bad people or things, so he thought Osborn and Zenobia were not good people

I will, Osborn immediately replied.

Felix was a bit surprised, “You agreed to move?”

Osborn lowered his eyes, noticing Evan from the corner of his eye.

The men by her side, they’re all so dazzling, huh....

“Yes,” Osborn nodded, appearing somewhat dejected.

Osborn swallowed, “Alan is fine, you don’t need to worry about him. We’ll start moving tomorrow.”

“Alright.”

Rosalynn nodded slightly. She didn’t say anything more. These people should move in the first place.

Since they’ve agreed now, there’s no need for her to be overly grateful

And then, Rosalynn headed towards her residence.

Chapter 1420

“Rosalynn, after dinner, can you show me around? Can we go out to sea? I brought my snorkeling gear, how about we go together? Hilaria said you love snorkeling!”

They kept walking, further and further away.

Rosalynn seemed to say something, but Osborn didn’t hear it clearly.

Osborn stood there, feeling down, and kicked the sand in frustration.

“Who’s that?” Jaime was enjoying his meal.

That guy had been sneaking peeks at Rosalynn, suspicious indeed.

“That’s Osborn, Zenobia’s relative,” answered a volunteer nearby, “You guys from H Country have so many delicious foods. how can this canned food taste so good?”

Jaime simply handed him the whole can he was holding: “He’s that wild woman Zenobia’s relative, huh? He’s been eyeing Rosalynn...”

Jaime almost misspoke.

“He’s been eyeing that pretty heiress, could he be...” Jaime suddenly changed his expression, “Could he be up to something?”

The people around were silent. They thought Jaime was going to say seduce.

Jaime felt a bit nervous, he walked aside to call Rosalynn.

Rosalynn picked up the phone: “I thought you would pretend not to be on the island.”

“Rosalynn, that boy who was talking to you, have Felix and the others keep an eye on him,” Jaime said in a low voice, “I suspect he has ill intentions!”

“What happened?” Rosalynn also felt Osborn’s attitude changed a bit too quickly, Zenobia was still yelling and refusing to compromise in the morning, but now he was volunteering to say they would move....

“Nothing, I just feel this boy has been secretly watching you!” Jaime sneered, “I heard from the volunteer who lives at his place, the islanders were gathering at his house earlier, he even said if things get really bad, he’ll kill the person in charge!”

“Don’t worry, Felix is here, and all the mercenaries you guys brought. Even if they dare to make a move, they can’t do anything.”

“Alright, just be careful, Jaime grumbled, “And why is Evan here? You guys aren’t really dating, right? He’s not good enough, Wayne is better!”

Rosalynn was getting a headache from Jaime’s nagging, she missed the silent IT genius from the past.

How could someone become more talkative as they grow older?

“Alright, alright. You really can talk, sneak over later, I’ll save a big lobster for you.”

“Sure!” Jaime agreed excitedly.

Rosalynn hung up the phone.

At this time, the person who went to investigate Zenobia's fiancé called.

Rosalynn frowned after listening

"There's no such person?"

"According to the information we have, this person is called Alan. He was Osborn's friend when he was studying, but we investigated all his relationships and didn't find anyone named Alan. He seems to have appeared out of nowhere!"

"How can someone just appear out of nowhere? Keep investigating Rosalynn's frown deepened

Then, she thought of Osborn's sudden decision to leave

Could this Alan be a refugee here?

But no matter who he was, as long as they moved out quickly, she couldn't care less about his identity.

The person on the phone agreed and then hung up.

Evan was tilting his head looking at her.

He suddenly raised his hand, his fingertip touched her forehead and gently pushed:
"You're frowning so hard!"
