

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 411 -

Chapter 411

Andrius and Rainbow went in.

The soldier closed the door without saying a word.

Then, he hopped into the driver's seat and drove off.

Back in the main hall, Renault looked at the time before he intentionally said goodbye to Luna and left for the military district.

The limousine with the military flag came to a slow stop in the Southern Warzone's military base.

Andrius and Rainbow came down from the car.

Further back at the entrance, Renault had just arrived and spotted the two of them. He was surprised because, from the back, the woman's figure resembled Rainbow's.

How?

With the question in mind, Renault strode forward.

As he got closer, he got a clearer glance at her face and realized that it was indeed Rainbow.

Renault was stunned. He then looked at the man beside Rainbow. It was Andrius!

The two of them were not soldiers and not related personnel, so how could they have gotten in?

Renault was stunned on the spot and started pondering. He had heard from S tella before that Rainbow was a military otaku. She was so fascinated by them to the point that she would go to extreme lengths to see one in person. She must be here in hopes to catch a glimpse of the Wolf King's face.

What about Andrius? Why would he be here as well?

He must have realized that he was not treated with respect back at the Coner ys and found out that the Wolf King was into his woman, so he got jealous and decided to come to reason with the Wolf King.

What a joke.

Renault shook his head with a frosty grin..

Once the Wolf King got mad, thousands of bodies would fall!

What Andrius was about to do was suicidal!

Renault strode toward them. He wanted to knock some sense into their thick skulls, to prevent Andrius from angering the Wolf King, which would indirectly bring himself down.

It was at that moment that the state military governor, Decker, and a group of high-ranking officers came by and stood right in front of Andrius, saluting him in unison.

“Wolf King!”

They were loud and energetic as if they were tigers and lions roaring. Their salute not only showed the discipline of the soldiers of the Southern Warzone, but it also shocked Renault.

Wolf King?

Andrius was a caveman to him, but the high-ranking officers called him the Wolf King?!

As though a bolt of lightning struck him, Renault was petrified on the spot.

What a ridiculous joke.

Wolf King, Andrius...

Andrius, Wolf King...

The names represented two people from two different social classes, yet they were now combined together to form that grand and reputable figure.

Renault was mortified, and it fueled his anxiety.

How could Andrius be the Wolf King?!

Renault could not accept the fact. He got in formation with his comrades, but his mind remained blank.

He was so carried away that when Decker invited Andrius on stage to inspect the soldiers and Spec Ops Forces, he still could not recover his composure.

Even when the captain of the Spec Ops Forces, Ace Graham, gave the command to fall in, he did not respond at all.

“Attention!” Ace roared.

The Spec Ops Forces member stood straight and firm except for Renault.

“At ease!”

Following the second command, the Spec Ops Forces members switched their stances, except for Renault

“To your right! Attention!”

When all the Spec Ops Forces members turned to the right, the blank Renault stood out. He did not follow orders from the start.

Ace frowned.

Before he could berate Renault, Andrius' voice could be heard from behind him.

“Is this how the Spec Ops Forces members of the Southern Warzone respond to commands? Even basic commands seem to be difficult to obey.”

Andrius did not mention or target Renault but simply stated a fact.

Blood rushed into Renault's mind. With the intense pressure and nervousness bombarding his mental state, he fainted on the spot.

Andrius did not expect Renault to be such a wimp. He simply stated a fact, and Renault already passed out!

Claim Bonus For Free Every Day>>

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 412 -

Chapter 412

Andrius raised his brow and looked at Ace.

“Who selected him to join the Spec Ops Forces? He’s weak, physically and mentally. His pressure tolerance is basically zero. Can he even go onto the battlefield? How can someone like him join the Spec Ops Forces?”

He was not targeting Renault in particular, but Renault’s performance was disappointing. Any common soldier could do better than him.

Andrius was rather annoyed.

Decker was fuming already, and so were the other members of the Spec Ops Forces. Renault’s poor performance did not only reflect on himself, but it also affected the entire Spec Ops Forces’ reputation and disgraced the entire Southern Warzone.

Even Rainbow had a hint of contempt on her beautiful face. How dare Renault speak so loudly in front of her family with that weak mentality?

As the captain, Ace thought of giving his best performance in front of the Wolf King, but Renault’s poor performance ruined his plans. His expression turned grim immediately

He turned around and explained, “Wolf King, sir, his name is Renault Hill, and he was selected through the usual selection process, but we haven’t got the time to screen his mentality.”

He then turned back around to his troops and announced, “I hereby expel Renault Hill from the Spec Ops Forces. From today onwards, he is no longer one of us. Our team doesn’t need a weakling like him. You hear me?!”

He shouted the last few words to express his anger.

“Yes, sir!” the other members roared a reply to express their disappointment as well. They were so loud and grand that it felt like their shouts could annihilate their enemies.

“That’s more like it.” Andrius scanned over the Spec Ops Forces with a sharp gaze and said loudly, “Be proud that you are a Florencian, and may you be born in the same land again in your next life.”

“All of you are the elite soldiers of the Florencian army, the pillar of support of the people, the spear that fends off the enemy, and the walls that shield any intrusion.

“Everything you do represents Florence’s spirit, the history of this country. I do not wish to see something similar happen again in the future.”

Both Decker and Ace were embarrassed after Andrius’ speech. Even the Spec Ops Forces members lowered their heads in embarrassment.

Renault had humiliated all of them in front of the Wolf King!

After the speech, Andrius wanted to leave.

“Wolf King, sir!” Ace took a deep breath before he held Andrius back.

Andrius slightly turned around and asked, “What is it? Speak.”

A strange look flashed in Ace’s eyes. “I want to challenge you.”

“You? You are not my match.”

Andrius then made a move to leave.

“I didn’t mean me alone! I mean all of us, the whole Spec Ops Forces, against you, alone!” Ace explained.

“We developed a special tactical formation, named the Nine Dragon Cage Formation. With meticulous cooperation and tacit reaction, the Spec Ops Forces can trap a formidable target with ease.

“We used it against the Warzone Master before, and we managed to trap him for as long as ten minutes. I heard...”

A hint of excitement and anticipation appeared on his face. "I heard that you defeated the Warzone Master with just three attacks, Wolf King, so we want to have a spar with you. Please enlighten us."

Ace had planned this from the start. Fighting the Wolf King was an exciting thought.

In addition to Renault's embarrassment, Ace wanted to present his team even more in front of Andrius, in an attempt to regain their reputation and not end up as the joke in the Southern Warzone.

"Sure." Andrius was intrigued.

The Spec Ops Forces started to get into formation.

Ha!

The warcry they released sounded like a tiger's roar.

The members formed a strange formation in just a matter of seconds. They seemed to be moving around in disorder, but their movements actually contained a strategy.

Whenever any of them launched an attack at the trapped target, the other members could support or counterattack in the shortest time possible, which made the formation impressive.

"Attack!"

Following Ace's command, the Spec Ops Forces members started to move rapidly.

There were only a dozen of them, but it felt like there were ten thousand soldiers behind them. They undulated like a continuous tidal wave. Their aura alone could destroy enemies and instill fear into their opponents

Swoosh!

Multiple figures attacked from the front, the left, and the right at the same time, leaving no space for the trapped target to dodge.

Andrius grinned. He stood firm and entered an alert state.

He reached out to the first Spec Ops Forces member and grabbed him by the wrist. Then, he lifted the member up and used his body as a blunt weapon

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 413 -

Chapter 413

The Spec Ops Forces members from the right and left were flung away easily

As soon as the formation was disrupted, the spar was over.

Ace, Decker, and the Spec Ops Forces members did not expect the spar to end so quickly and so thoroughly. They were all devastated and stunned on the spot.

It was not Rainbow's first time seeing Andrius in action, but she was still stunned and fascinated by his clean and unpredictable moves. It was considered eye candy to her.

Andrius said, "The formation is strong, but individually, you guys are too weak. It's only a matter of time before you face defeat in front of absolute strength."

Then, he grabbed Rainbow, who was still dumbfounded, and left.

A while later, Ace regained his composure and looked in the direction where Andrius walked away. He sighed emotionally and exclaimed, "As expected of the No. 1 soldier of Florence. In a single move, he easily destroyed the formation that we practiced for so long. I'm impressed."

Although he sounded disappointed, he had endless respect for Andrius.

As the soldiers selected into the Spec Ops Forces, they might be defeated in battle, but they would never lose the war!

Losing to the Wolf King would only encourage them to train themselves harder and become stronger.

Back at Kavo Estate, when Andrius and Rainbow came back, the celebration in the main hall was still going on with the Wolf King remaining the topic of discussion.

The Conerys could talk about Luna and the Wolf King for at least three months.

When Luna saw Andrius, she asked, "Where have you been?"

"I went out for a walk," he simply said.

She hated his nonchalance and frivolous attitude, even more so after the Conerys brainwashed her into believing that the Wolf King liked her.

She started to feel the same. Once the seed of thought was planted in her head, it would only sprout into a massive tree that would take over her mind.

Andrius, who barely occupied a corner in her mind, would be shoved away under some storage memories.

It was not entirely Luna's fault though.

The Wolf King's name alone was a lethal temptation. One could be lost and infatuated with him.

Moreover, Luna and Andrius were playing pretend, so they were not a real couple. Even if she fell in love with the Wolf King and had s*x with him, it would not consider a betrayal to Andrius either.

After all, Andrius was seeing a few women outside as well!

Then, one of the servants rushed into the hall nervously and cried, "Madam, something has happened!"

Jane was having the time of her life. Her granddaughter, Stella, scored a boyfriend who was a member of the Spec Ops Forces with a bright future. Her other granddaughter, Luna, was the Wolf King's favorite

Even the Astons, a powerful and wealthy family, came to her birthday even to congratulate her, not to mention the state military governor, Decker Armstrong.

She enjoyed every moment until the servant came in with an anxious look.

Displeasure, Jane shrieked, “What is it?! Can’t you read the room? Today is a good day for our family. Don’t come in here and scream like it’s the end of the world!”

“Hit’s... Mr. Hill! Mr. Hill was just sent back from the military!” The servant lowered her head and continued, “The two soldiers who sent him back said that he is too weak mentally, and he has been expelled from the Spec Ops Forces, so...”

Her words shocked everyone in the hall.

“How is this possible?”

“Shouldn’t there be an official call from the military?”

“Is this fake news?”

Alec and the others were horrified and refused to believe the servant.

Stella wore a frosty look and bellowed, “What nonsense? Renault was handpicked to join the Spec Ops Forces.”

She was interrupted when two other servants helped Renault into the hall.

Renault looked lifeless as he was carried in. He could not even stand on his feet properly, and the confidence and pride in him were gone. He was like a lifeless ragdoll.

Jane, Alec, Stella, and the others were confused. They went up to him in concern and bombarded him with questions.

“Renault! What happened?”

“What happened to you?”

“Renault, my dear, don’t scare me!”

Renault looked up. He wanted to say something but then he saw Andrius smiling further away. His legs turned weak and he collapsed onto the floor again.

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 414 -

Chapter 414

The two servants holding Renault felt the sudden dead weight. He collapsed onto the floor just like that. Not even the two servants could hold him up.

“Renault!”

“My dear!”

The Conerys were shocked. They all went up to him, pushed the servants away, and helped him up themselves.

They patted his back and massaged his philtrum. Someone went to grab a glass of warm water for him.

The entire family was in an anxious mess. Everyone was all over the place.

After a while, although everyone was exhausted, they managed to keep Renault from passing out.

Renault caught a breath of relief, but when he saw Andrius' disgust in his eyes, he immediately thought of Andrius' true identity.

“Uh... Uh...” His eyes rolled back and almost passed out again.

Andrius was speechless. He said emotionlessly, “Aren't you a member of the Spec Ops Forces of the Southern Warzone? You're so weak! Where are your guts? Can't you look more alive? Stop passing out!”

He spoke with the utmost contempt.

Stella could not bear the insults. She wanted to reason with Andrius, but then again, Andrius' words somehow triggered Renault, and he managed to stay conscious.

“My dear...” Stella did not lash out at Andrius but chose to stay beside Renault. “How are you? What happened?”

Jane, however, was more concerned about Renault's position in the Southern Warzone.

She had one last bit of hope that the servant was misinformed, so she asked, "Renault, the servant was talking nonsense just now. She said you were sent back from the military. Is it true?"

"I..." Renault had a sip of water to calm himself down. He looked complicated when he explained, "I saw the Wolf King at the event earlier. I was excited, but the Wolf King's aura scared me, so... I underperformed during the event and passed out."

He had a subtle glance at Andrius when he explained.

Jane, Stella, and the others were stunned by his words and did not notice his little glance.

Rainbow, on the other hand, was present at the event and knew what exactly happened. She almost burst into laughter when she heard Renault. While she managed to hold her laughter back, her body twitched uncontrollably.

Passing out in front of the Wolf King was solid proof of underperforming.

Jane looked gloomy. She asked, "Then, how did the Spec Ops Forces react? Are you still with them?"

Renault knew that if he told them that he was expelled, everyone would abandon him and look down on him, so he did not reveal the disappointing fact at first. He had another glance at Andrius.

If Andrius gave him a chance, he could be reinstated any minute.

However, after what he did and said to Andrius, would he get a second chance?

He should be grateful that Andrius did not take his life. The thought put a bitter scowl on his face.

Andrius said with protruded lips, "You passed out in front of the Wolf King. It means you are weak, so it's impossible for you to go back with them."

Renault's face turned pale.

"Andrius! Shut your dirty mouth! Keep quiet!"

"Andrius, you are jealous of him!"

"Since you came to our house, you have been cursing Grandmother and now Renault. What are you trying to do?!"

"Can you shut your piehole?!"

Alec, Stella, and the others scolded him, venting out their grievance at him after what he said.

Renault was shocked. He immediately revealed the truth and said, "I... I was expelled by the Spec Ops Forces..."

Right after his confession, Renault looked even more dispirited as if his soul had left his body.

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 415 -

Chapter 415

"Huh?"

"What?!"

"Oh..."

The Conerys were disappointed.

Jane and Alec returned to their seats, leaving Stella by Renault's side.

Stella refused to give up the last bit of hope.

Renault was chosen to join the Spec Ops Forces because of his capabilities. If he had the chance, he might be able to make a comeback.

Then, Renault would appreciate Stella for encouraging him and staying by his side in his darkest days. He would only love her more and it would make her dream of being a general's wife a reality.

With that, Stella decided to bite the bullet and went over to Luna. She said humbly, "Luna, I was ignorant. I apologize for my attitude. I'm sorry, but you are still one of us, so please help Renault. You wouldn't want to see him like this either, right?"

Luna was caught off guard by the question.

What? Since when was she involved in this?

Confused, she asked, "Stella, what are you trying to say?"

"Well, you are the Wolf Queen!" Stella looked inspired as she explained, "If you can just talk to the Wolf King and say something good about Renault in front of him. Renault can then be reinstated!"

Her words enlightened everyone else in the family.

Jane, Alec, and the others were struck by the same realization.

"Yeah! Luna!"

Jane held Luna's hands and said with a pleading gaze, "You and Stella are family, and family should help each other out to overcome obstacles. Why don't you talk to the Wolf King?"

Alec added, "The Wolf King did so much for you. If you can just ask him, he will definitely do it! Until then, you can marry the Wolf King, and Stella can continue to be Renault's girlfriend. Both of you will become the wives of powerful generals. You two can look out for each other, and our family will be proud of you!"

Alec looked like a pig articulating his absurdly stupid thoughts. Neither of them had started anything, but Alec had already painted the ending for everyone.

Rainbow almost burst out in laughter again.

Fortunately, everyone's attention was on Luna, thus no one noticed her reaction.

"I..." Luna found herself in a difficult position. "I've never seen the Wolf King before in my life."

After the brainwashing session earlier in the afternoon, Luna really wanted to meet the Wolf King in person. Unfortunately, love was not something on sale in the supermarket, and the Wolf King was not a Youtuber that anyone could see on YouTube.

“Luna...” Stella refused to give up. She continued, “The Wolf King obviously likes you. If you can just express your feelings, he will come to you!”

“Yeah! Luna!” Jane echoed, “You said the Wolf King will help you whenever you are in trouble, so it means he is watching you. If you can just help, Renault will be reinstated in no time!”

Alec humbly said, “Luna, Stella is your cousin. You wouldn’t want her future husband to lose his position, right?”

“Yeah!”

“Help Renault!”

“It’s a piece of cake for you!”

The Conerys were trying to manipulate her with their sentiments.

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 416 -

Chapter 416

Luna felt extremely helpless. She was forced to agree. “If I see the Wolf King, I will let him know.”

“That’s great!”

Everyone else breathed a sigh of relief.

The Wolf King was a lot stronger than a Spec Ops Forces member, but the Wolf King’s name alone felt distant and surreal, to the point that he was like a myth to most people.

Renault, on the other hand, was in front of them.

Therefore, Jane and the others chose to help Renault to secure his position rather than invest all their hopes in Luna because she was favored by the mythical Wolf King. They could not just abandon Renault like that.

Renault's incident brought everyone's mood down for the day.

After dinner, Luna was thinking about the Wolf King and Andrius. She was under the brainwashing effect of Jane and the others. Now, her head was in a mess.

"Grandmother, Uncle..." Luna took a deep breath and said, "You guys continue. I'm going out for some air"

No one said a word or stopped her. They even hoped that the Wolf King would meet her when she was alone.

When she was at the exit, Andrius came over and asked, "Do you need me to drive you?"

"It's okay." Luna shook her head and walked off.

Rainbow hopped her way to Andrius' side and asked, "Andy, you're never going to give Stella's boyfriend a second chance, right?"

Andrius said, "Be it my soldiers back at the Western Frontline or the soldiers here in Southern Warzone, every soldier was selected based on their capabilities. I will never open back doors for anyone. Neither will I be biased nor target anyone."

"As for Renault..." Andrius had a hint of contempt on his face. "I don't know how he made it through the selection process, but his mental strength is not on the same standards as the Spec Ops Forces. Even if he is reinstated, going on missions will only put him and his team in danger. It's not that I don't want to give him a chance, it's he who does not appreciate it. He should train himself more."

Rainbow agreed with what Andrius said. The Wolf King was indeed a wise and kind person.

Rainbow added, "Andy, Luna looks like she's into the Wolf King. Are you never going to tell her about your identity?"

She asked the question to satisfy her personal desire.

If Andrius revealed his identity, Luna would fall for him instantly, then Rainbow would lose the chance.

“Like?” Andrius shook his head. He knew what was happening with Luna. “She likes the title of the Wolf King, not me as a person. You saw how she treats me. Do you call that liking me?”

Rainbow was silenced.

Andrius was not bothered as well. He explained, “Besides, I married her because I am here to repay the debt of my master, and I don’t want Master Crestfall to be sad. After all this is done, I will go back to the Western Frontline. That’s where I should be.”

Rainbow said immediately. “Andy! When you and Luna are over, I will chase you back to the Western Frontline!”

Andrius glanced at her and asked, “Why are you going to the border instead of staying here on the mainland?”

“I want to chase you! I want to have your babies”

The girl was at it again

“No You are too small” Andrius expression turned gloomy and he quickly walked away

“Small!?” Rainbow was annoyed She lifted her chest up and asked, “Which part of me is small? Hey! Don’t go’ Andy! Make yourself clear or else.”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 417 -

Chapter 417

N

Chapter 417

Luna somehow wandered to Astral Auction House without realizing it.

Since the auction owner said the Wolf King gave her the wild king ginseng, he must know something about the Wolf King. She came here to find out more about this mysterious man.

“Ms. Crestfall!” Taylor, the secretary, saw Luna and invited her in.

A while later, the owner, Joel came out with a wide smile on his face.

“Mr. Smith.” Luna skipped the chatters and asked, “You said that the Wolf King gave me the wild king ginseng. Can you give me his contact information?”

“Huh?”

Joel was stunned.

The Wolf King had been right beside her that day. Based on what he knew, the two of them were husband and wife.

With that thought in mind, Joel was struck with a realization—Luna was unaware of the Wolf King’s true identity, hence her presence.

If the Wolf King chose to hide his identity, should Joel leak his identity, he would suffer grave consequences.

“Actually,” The thoughts flashed in his mind as arranged his words. “The Wolf King got the wild king ginseng, but he wasn’t here himself, so I can’t help you either.”

“He wasn’t here?”

Luna was disappointed, but she refused to give up.

A quick thought later, she asked, “How did he make payment?”

She wanted to find more clues via the payment method.

“Uh” Joel quickly ran out of excuses. He told Taylor to bring the invoice over “ Ms. Crestfall, this is the invoice for the wild king ginseng the Wolf King paid for the other day”

Luna took the invoice for a look

The one who paid was actually Sonia, the CEO of Celestial Enterprise

As the Wolf King. Andrius would never simply accept other people’s kindness. He asked Sonia to send the invoice over after the purchase, hence the existence of the physical evidence

“Sonia Timberland?!”

Luna’s heart pounded wildly when she saw the name

on the invoice

The secret boss behind the Celestial Enterprise was the oil King

It connected many dots instantly

Luna was able to meet her questions with answer S.

Why would Sonia and Celestial Enterprise help her again and again?

When New Moon Corporation needed funding Celestial Enterprise masked. They had no budget as per consideration and asked for no return, it was like a free kanche

Chapp

2/2

It was all made possible because the Wolf King was behind it.

After getting her answer, Luna left the auction house.

On the way back, she pondered and imagined what it would be like to meet the Wolf King in person. She wanted to ask him why.

Her mind was boggled even after reaching Kavalo Estate and returning to her room.

She tossed and turned on the bed several times and could not fall asleep.

The next day, the other family members of the Conerys, who came just to celebrate Jane's birthday, went back.

Luna and Andrius got into Bernard's car to go to the train station.

As they departed, the thoughts in the Conerys' minds fizzled out.

Renault watched as Bernard's car drove off from his sight. He was left with a complicated feeling.

If he had not been that arrogant, would the outcome have been different?

Unfortunately, he could not rewind time.

"Stella!" Rainbow came over and said, "May I have a word with your boyfriend?"

Enjoy Ad-Free Reading>>

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 418 -

Go

Chapte

Chapter 418

"Huh?" Stella was slightly surprised.

Renault's heart raced.

Rainbow had been with the Wolf King during the event and knew the Wolf King's true identity.

What did she want to talk about?

There might be a chance to make things right!

Therefore, Renault said, "Stella, may I talk to Rainbow alone?"

Stella felt strange but did not say anything. She left and gave them the space.

Rainbow said, "Renault, Andy told me that it's not impossible for you to go back to the Spec Ops Forces."

Her words reignited hope in Renault's heart.

A chance from the Wolf King!

"But you must first train your mind and not feel defeated so easily. And don't get ahead of yourself because of a tiny victory," she explained.

"I understand!"

Rainbow was no longer the little sister of his girlfriend. She was the Wolf King's messenger, Renault's savior!

Renault said respectfully, "Rainbow, please tell the Wolf King that I will do my best to train and thank him for the lesson. I will hone myself properly to have the will of iron and go back to the Spec Ops Forces."

His tone and attitude were completely different from his previous self.

Pfft.

Rainbow found his reaction amusing. She said, "You'd better work hard."

She then wanted to leave.

Renault held her back. "Rainbow, wait."

"What is it?"

Renault mustered the courage to ask the question that has been bothering him. "I want to know why the Wolf King married into the Crestfalls. It seems like Luna doesn't know his true identity yet."

"Indeed, she doesn't." Rainbow pondered and she believed it was no secret either, so she said, "Their marriage was actually Luna's grandfather's idea.

Master Crestfall?

He was the one who made the Wolf King marry his granddaughter?

He must be someone powerful!

Renault was in deep thought.

Rainbow then left.

Stella saw Rainbow walk away. She came back and asked Renault, “Dear, what did you guys talk about?”

“It’s nothing.” Renault put his thoughts away and said to her, “Stella, we should be more respectful to

Chapter 418

Luna and try to strengthen the bond with the Crestfalls. If possible, let’s go visit sometime and meet Master Crestfall.”

Stella was stunned.

Renault talked to Rainbow about Luna and did not want her to know about what they spoke about?

What was so secretive that her boyfriend did not want her to know?

2/2

Jealous, she said, “What do you mean? You saw what happened. I lowered myself in front of Luna, but she still doesn’t care. Does she really think she’s above us because the Wolf King likes her? I think the Wolf King is just trying to toy with her. When the feeling fades, she’ll be nothing!”

Renault was speechless.

He was in no position to leak the Wolf King’s identity, so he simply explained, “Stella, listen to me. I can’t tell you everything, but I know what I’m doing.”

Stella simply hummed and put the conversation to an end.

Andrius and Luna were silent on the train back to Sumeria.

The strange atmosphere continued until Luna picked up her ringing phone.

When she took her phone out, her grandfather’s name was displayed on the screen.

“Luna, I have news for you. East River State Medical Society recently just launched a joint project on a particular medicine.”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 419 -

Chapter 419

Chapter 419

192

“If we can get this project, we will be able to get a recommendation from the East River State Medical Society and participate in the Grand Medicinal Competition!

“The competition is held once every 20 years. If we can get a good result, we will be able to make our name in the pharmaceutical field of the East River State in the next 20 years!

“New Moon Corporation has made its first step into the pharmaceutical field. Be it the joint medical project or the qualification to enter the competition, both are similarly important to us! We must do our very best to make it happen. So...”

Belarus took a deep breath and said solemnly,
“In the coming months, New Moon Corporation should focus on developing in this particular sector.”

Not only Luna, but Andrius was also listening as well. He never planned to stay for long.

Now that Luna was infatuated with his other identity, he should take the chance to leave.

However, he must first make sure the Crestfalls and New Moon Corporation were on track. After setting them up in a good position and removing the obstacles, then making sure that the family and the company could develop properly in the future, there would be nothing else he could do.

Therefore, when he divorced Luna and got questioned by his master, he would have a solid reason to back himself up.

“The joint medical project...”

Andrius pondered and soon thought of an idea.

The project was actually a mini competition to find out which medicine had the best effect, the brightest prospect, and the highest profit.

However, Andrius knew a lot of medicine prescriptions, so it would be difficult for him to come up with a steady and profitable one in a short time.

On the way back, he was thinking about which prescription to use.

When the train reached Sumeria, Luna returned to the Crestfalls' mansion immediately.

A family meeting was being held. All the family members were there, including Harry, George, and Dick “Grandfather.” Luna had contemplated a lot on the way back. She said, “This competition and project are crucial. Should we inform Celestial Enterprise?”

“I have it all figured out!” Belarus smiled and added, “Go to Celestial Enterprise and ask Ms. Timberland’s opinion and what are her plans for this.”

“Alright”

Luna had plans to visit. She wanted to see if she had the chance to meet the Wolf King, so she agreed to go without a second thought

A while later, Luna arrived at Celestial Enterprise

Rainbow had yet to return from the Conerys, so it was Sonia who waited for her in the parlor. She welcomed Luna passionately. “Ms Crestfall”

“Ms. Timberland, hi!” Luna stated the intention of her visit, “I am here because of the project issued by the East River State Medical Society and the competition. I want to know what Celestial Enterprise’s thoughts are on this.”

Sonia nodded. “I heard about it. The project can bring us a promising future and a sizable profit, and the Grand Medicine Competition has a heavy influence on the pharmaceutical field. If New Moon Corporation decides to bid for the project, then go ahead.

“We shall share the funding for the R&D and other costs. We will invest half of what is required.”

The funding for research and development for medicine was a huge obstacle because the pharmaceutical field was known for its high risks—high returns business model.

Once succeeded, the following profit would be sizable. One must risk it to win it all.

With Sonia’s assurance, Luna decided to enter the bid for the project.

“Thank you for your support, Ms. Timberland.” Luna smiled and thanked Sonia for her support.

“New Moon Corporation is free of worries now!” Sonia smiled. “I wish you and your company all the best.”

“Ms. Timberland...” Luna’s expression turned serious and then asked, “I wonder if I can meet the boss behind Celestial Enterprise.”

The Wolf’s Bride by Coffee’s Tea Chapter 420 -

Chapter 420

“Uh...” Sonia was stunned for half a second before she asked, “Ms. Crestfall, why the sudden interest in our boss?”

“Because...”

A hint of anticipation flashed in Luna’s crystal-clear eyes. “I know the Wolf King is the secret boss of Celestial Enterprise, so I want to thank him personally for doing so many things for New Moon Corporation.”

“Uh...” Sonia was speechless. She had a hunch that Luna found out about something.

If she allowed Luna to meet Andrius, Luna would never agree to leave him anymore, meaning that Sonia would lose her chance to get Andrius.

On the other hand, she could not make the decision on behalf of the Wolf King

Judging from Sonia’s troubled look, Luna was slightly disappointed. “Ms. Timberland, can I?”

Sonia answered, “It’s not impossible. Since you already know the Wolf King is the secret boss behind Celestial Enterprise, I guess your request is only understandable.

“But I cannot make decisions for the Wolf King. I cannot decide if you can meet him or not. All I can do is ask him, and whether he wants to meet you depends on his mood.”

It was the truth, but it fueled Luna’s concerns.

She was asking to meet the Wolf King. Even though people called her the Wolf Queen, she felt lost and insecure when it came to meeting the Wolf King in person.

“Alright.” Luna forced a smile and said, “Thank you, Ms. Timberland. I’ll go back and wait for your news.” Then, Luna left Celestial Enterprise.

Back at Dream’s Waterfront, Andrius was reading the military news on the couch.

Clack!

The door handle was pressed, and Luna came in.

However, the furrowed brows and the dispirited expression on her face spelled trouble.

Andrius did not overthink. He gave her the prescription that he wrote and said, “Luna, this is the new prescription that I came up with for herbal medicine. I created it during my early days, and it’s my personal prescription.

“It is one-of-a-kind in the pharmaceutical field and will earn the recognition of the East River State Medical Society. Use it to enter the tender for the project.”

Andrius was confident about his prescription.

However...

“Forget it.”

Luna did not take the prescription. In fact, she did not even look at it. She denied Andrius by saying.” Those who enter the project tender have medicines that are the product of years of research and are crafted by teams of hundreds of people. They’ve been thoroughly tested. Yours is...”

She did not continue, but it was self-explanatory.

On the way back, she thought about the Wolf King and started to plan her divorce with Andrius. With that, she did not want to be in Andrius’ debt anymore or have anything to do with him.

“As for the prescription for the project tender...” Luna realized she was being harsh. She explained, “We will wait for Celestial Enterprise’s news.”

Andrius shrugged helplessly and returned to his room.

As soon as he closed the door, Sonia called.

“Mr. Moonshade, Ms. Crestfall came just now and talked about the East River State Medical Society’s joint medical project. She also wants to see you. Do you think...”

Andrius was hit with a realization.

No wonder Luna had a long face when she came back. She had gone looking for the Wolf King.

Sonia could not make the decision without his permission, hence what happened.

If Luna did not accept the prescription from this identity of his, he could hand the prescription to her using the Wolf King’s identity.

With that, Andrius said, “Tell her that the Wolf King will be waiting for her in the office tomorrow morning.

“I understand.”

Luna was doing her work in her room.

While she was away in the capital, there was a pile of documents that needed her signature, and she had to go through them as soon as possible.