

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 601

Everyone in the Conerys was shocked upon seeing this news.

For a moment, they all held their phone and froze in place, their pupils dilated. It was as if time had stopped, and everything came to a standstill.

No one moved or reacted.

It was too shocking.

Andrius actually dared to assault a princess from a foreign country...

This was not just shocking. It was explosive news!

It was simply astonishing!

After half a minute, the Conerys finally started to regain some composure and looked at each other. Then, they saw the smiles on each other's faces.

What an unexpected but pleasant surprise!

They were just worrying about how to get rid of Andrius, but he committed such a huge crime on his own. This was truly a delightful surprise!

With this incident, they did not have to worry about Luna staying with Andrius. It was as if the heavens avored them.

Jane's mouth nearly split open with a smile, and she signaled to Alec, "Go and tell Luna this good news! I believe that she'll be overjoyed when she sees this news."

Alec was also excited. "We'll go right now, Mom."

"Luna is free!"

"We've been waiting for so long, and our dreams are finally coming true..."

"Hahaha, what an awesome day!"

The group of people arrived at the door of Luna's room.

Just as they were about to knock, Luna emerged. She looked at the obviously delighted people in front of her and asked in confusion, "What's going on?"

Alec grinned and said, "Luna, we come bearing good news."

"Good news?"

"Yes, it's news that will make you jump for joy!" Alec laughed, then said proudly while emphasizing his words, "Your husband, Andrius, assaulted Princess Yule of Bardan last night!"

Luna was stunned.

Andrius assaulted a foreign princess?

Was this a joke?

It was early in the morning.

"Uncle, what..."

Luna stared at Alec and was just about to say something, but he raised his hand to interrupt her. He handed her his phone and said, "You don't need to say anything, Luna. Just see for yourself!"

Luna took the phone and looked at it.

Sure enough, the headlines were clear, and there was even a picture of Andrius being handcuffed. There was no mistaking it.

"T-this..." Luna was at a loss for words.

Rainbow and Renault, who had come after hearing the news, were also stunned.

Andrius Moonshade, the Wolf King of Florence, assaulted Princess Yule of Bardan?

How could that be?

It was impossible. Absolutely impossible!

Why would the esteemed Wolf King need to force himself on anyone?

If he simply said the word, the princesses and queens from various countries would flock to him and form a line twice as long as Florence's borders.

Just by sitting there, the daughters of royal and noble families would gladly serve him. It was nothing out of the ordinary.

Why would he need to assault someone?

It must be fake news!
