

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 611 -

Chapter 611

Harpy glanced at Andrius.

Andrius hummed softly, but his expression was unreadable.

Harpy continued, "Also, Madam Montecarlo asked her grandson, Lester Cone ry, to ask the Wicked Doctor, Hugo Stark, to be your wife's teacher."

The Wicked Doctor, Hugo Stark....

Andrius had never heard of that name before. However, with that title, it was clear Hugo was not an upstanding man.

Thus, he asked, "Does the Hawkeye Group have information on Hugo?"

"Yes!" Harpy immediately recited Hugo's information. They knew every detail down to how many times he got up in the middle of the night to urinate..

Harpy added, "Also, Hugo told Lester to bring your wife to him tomorrow."

"Got it."

Andrius' eyes narrowed slightly after hearing Harpy's report.

Hugo was not a benevolent person at all.

The next day, early in the morning, Lester brought Luna to the private room where they had arranged to meet Hugo.

"Luna, this is the person I told you about—the Wicked Doctor, Hugo Stark!" Lester made a simple introduction. "Dr. Stark, this is my cousin, Luna Crestfall. She wants to learn some medical skills from you. I hope you will be willing to teach her."

"Hello, Ms. Crestfall!" Hugo's eyes lit up upon seeing Luna, and he immediately extended his right hand toward her.

Luna felt a little uneasy under his gaze, but in order to learn medical skills and achieve good results in the Grand Medicinal Competition, she extended her hand and shook his. "Hello, Dr. Stark."

Not bad. Her hand was fair, tender, and smooth.

Hugo enjoyed the sensation under his hand and seemed to space out.

Luna blushed and forcibly pulled back her hand.

Hugo coughed softly and said with a straight face, "Oh, Ms. Crestfall, I was just sensing the state of your body through your palm. I didn't mean to offend you. Please don't misunderstand."

The Wicked Doctor was indeed the Wicked Doctor. He used words to con his way through.

"Huh?" Luna felt strange and quickly asked, "What did you find out from my body, Dr Stark?"

Hugo mulled over it and said, "Ms. Crestfall, you occasionally experience sweating, dizziness, and tinnitus, am I right?"

Luna was astonished. Her symptoms were exactly as he described

She felt ashamed and quickly said, "You truly are extraordinary, Dr Stark!"

"Hahaha..." Hugo laughed mysteriously, playing the part of a famous doctor

Lester seized the opportunity to say, "Luna, Dr. Stark's medical skills are second to none in the capital. There's no need to doubt him. Dr. Stark, will you accept Luna as your disciple?"

Luna's expression was hopeful.

Hugo's diagnosis earlier won her over.

"Well..." Hugo looked at Luna. His expression seemed serious, but he was actually leering at her. "Ms. Crestfall, I always teach my disciples through words and deeds, treating them all equally. I won't lower my expectations just because you're a girl. Are you sure about this?"

Luna knew that Hugo's title was the 'Wicked Doctor', so he would naturally be eccentric. She was prepared for it. Thus, she replied firmly, "Yes, Dr. Stark!"

"Good, you're truly sincere, Ms. Crestfall!" Hugo's eyes focused on Luna's chest. "In that case, you as my disciple!"

I'll accept

He agreed!

Luna was immediately overwhelmed by excitement.

Lester nudged Luna, hinting that she should offer Hugo tea as a sign of respect.

Luna snapped back to her senses and quickly poured a cup of tea. "I look forward to learning from you,

Master!"

Luna was so sincere that she did not notice the cleavage she revealed when she bowed

Hugo accepted the cup in satisfaction with a smile on his face. "Mm. An excellent student!"

As he said that, he secretly shot Lester a look.

Lester left the scene.

Now, only Hugo and Luna remained.

Hugo sized her up and secretly swallowed his saliva, saying, "Luna, the medical field in Florence is as vast as the ocean. Where do you want to start?"

“Acupuncture,” Luna answered without hesitation.

That was the main topic of the medical book that the Wolf King gave to her. Furthermore, she had also learned from Thedus for a while, so she knew the basics.

“Acupuncture is good!”

A wicked light flashed in Hugo’s eyes as he thought of an idea.

“Since you want to learn acupuncture, let me explain the distribution of acupoints in the body and how to locate them. Listen carefully, watch closely, and remember it well.”

Then, Hugo took the opportunity to occasionally tap Luna’s body while demonstrating the acupoints, claiming that it was part of teaching through direct experience.

Although he did not go too far, Luna still blushed.

“Let me tell you about the Shanzhong point!” Hugo grinned.

The Shanzhong point was right in the middle of the chest.

Luna was startled. She blushed and stammered, “Master, I know where that point is. We can skip it and move on to the next one...”

Hugo’s expression grew into a teasing one when he saw her reaction. He said, “Well, I’ve told you about a lot so far. You can go have a drink and take a break, and we’ll continue later.”

“Okay!”

Luna could use the chance to regain her calm and think of what to do next. Thus, she picked up the teacup on the side and drank it.

Hugo’s smile widened.

After resting for a while, Luna still did not feel comfortable being touched by Hugo, so she suggested. “Master, I already know where the acupoints are. Can we learn something else?”

“Sure.” Hugo took Luna’s hand and gently caressed it “Then... I’ll explain to you the physical differences between men and women.”

Luna instantly paled, but before she could react, she collapsed on the table.

“What a beautiful body!”

Hugo could not resist anymore. Transparent drool dripped from the corner of his mouth. He stripped Luna’s clothes happily, then reached out toward her chest.

Swoosh!

Just as his hand was only an inch away from its target, a hand suddenly reached out from an angle and grasped his wrist. It was like an iron vice.

Hugo could not move or break free no matter how hard he struggled.

He was enraged.

When he turned his head to look, he saw a man with an icy expression. It was Andrius!

Chapter 613

“You...”

Crack!

Hugo glared at Andrius and was just about to say something, but before he could, he felt an intense pain in his arm.

Andrius snapped it violently. Then, he unleashed a fierce attack on Hugo, as if he were a swift blade.

“Ahh... Argh...”

Hugo’s cries of pain echoed throughout the room.

Whenever Andrius moved an inch, Hugo would let out a scream. It was almost like a rhythm.

After venting his anger, Andrius threw Hugo to the ground and checked on Luna’s condition.

“G—Goddammit!” Hugo struggled to get up from the ground, his face bruised and full of resentment. “Guards! Kill this damned b*stard!”

Rumble...

With his words, over a dozen men rushed into the room. The burly and muscular men cracked their knuckles, making a series of popping sounds.

However, before they could approach Andrius, he easily defeated them with a single punch each. They lay on the ground, groaning.

Hugo did not expect Andrius to be so good at fighting.

However, as the renowned Wicked Doctor of the capital, he could not bear this humiliation. He pointed at Andrius and threatened, “If you have the guts, then kill me! Otherwise... Ahhh-”

Andrius always disliked scum like Hugo.

He rushed forward and grabbed Hugo’s finger, and bent it at a 90-degree angle, instantly causing blood to gush out.

Hugo screamed in pain. Cold sweat beaded his head, and his veins bulged. His agonizing cries rang out as he quivered. It was a shame he did not join a singing competition.

Then, Andrius tossed him away and said with a vague smile, “Well, it’s the first time I’ve heard such a request.”

Swoosh.

Just as he spoke, a flash of silver light swiftly pierced Hugo's body.

Hugo felt his body cool, and his expression instantly changed. "W— what did you do to me? Agaga Gaga

His head suddenly jerked, and his mouth twisted, drool flowing from the corner of his mouth. His expression also turned idiotic.

It was clear that Andrius made him a fool.

Then, Andrius called Dax.

"Wolf King! Don't tell me someone caused you trouble again."

Dax was already used to this. He had just pulled Andrius out of the police station yesterday.

Now, Andrius was calling him the next day...

Come on!

He was the Southern Warzone Master. He was a man who stood above other men! It was not his job to clean up other people's messes!

Andrius got straight to the point and said, "Send someone to close Hugo Stark's clinic."

"Hugo Stark? The Wicked Doctor?" Dax remembered the title and instinctively asked, "What did he do?"

Andrius said coldly, "He made a move on Luna."

Dax hissed at those words.

Wow.

Who was Luna?

She was the Wolf King's wife!

Hugo did not know what was good for him and actually tried to make a move on her, making the Wolf King a cuckold...

He should change his title from the Wicked Doctor to the Dead Doctor!

Dax hung up with cold sweat and immediately made another call, ordering his men to go over.

Meanwhile, Andrius checked Luna's condition. Fortunately, she was just drugged with a strong sedative, so her condition was not that serious.

Andrius removed her outer garments and began to administer acupuncture treatment. "Mmh..

Chapter 614

Luna

let out a moan, whether it was due to the cooling effect of the silver needle or the strong sedative kicking in.

Her charming body and alluring voice were irresistible.

Even Andrius, who had undergone professional training, could not help but tremble when he touched her tender skin. He hissed and forcibly suppressed the throbbing in his heart, muttering for himself to stay cool to prevent himself from making a mistake.

Even an old and experienced veteran could not resist such a temptation!

“W–Wolf King...”

When Andrius gradually regained his composure, Luna suddenly opened her eyes and murmured while looking at him. She had seen the Wolf King up close at Celestial Enterprise.

Although he had worn a mask, she remembered his bright eyes clearly.

When she saw Andrius' eyes in her dazed state, she mistook him for the Wolf King and could not help but throw herself at him, wrapping her arms around his neck.

Goddamnit!

Andrius felt the weight of two mounds pressing against him, as well as her strong scent that assaulted him. He almost gave into his primal instincts as the Wolf King.

No! He could not continue like this!

Seeing how aggressive Luna was, Andrius immediately pushed her away and swiftly pricked a silver needle into her body to make her fall asleep again.

Even so, he still could not dodge her fierce kiss.

Whoosh...

After administering the acupuncture, Andrius suppressed his urge to surrender and knocked her out.

“You really are a fierce woman. You almost made me lose my glory! You’re probably the only one in Florence who can make the Wolf King so wretched.”

Andrius looked at Luna with lingering fear and hurriedly dressed her, then washed his face with cold water.

Soon, Dax’s men arrived outside. The group was led by Drogo, whom Andrius had met briefly at the Grand Aurelia Hotel.

“Wolf King!”

Drogo still remembered the scene where Andrius had defeated Dax in just three moves. Thus, even though he did not work for Andrius, he still showed great respect and saluted Andrius.

“Mm.”

Andrius nodded in response and ordered, “Take her back to Kavo Estate and inform Madam Montecarlo about the situation here. Remember, don’t reveal my identity

“Yes!”

At Kavo Estate, when Jane saw Lester return so quickly without Luna, she had a suspicion in her heart. She pulled Lester aside and asked, “Lester, how did things go with Luna’s apprenticeship?”

Lester felt a little guilty and stammered, “I—it’s done. D—
Dr. Stark accepted Luna as his disciple...

Jane was overjoyed and praised, “Great! You did well. I’ll increase your allowance next month!”

“Thank you, Grandma!” Lester did not expect such good news.

“Haha, you can do whatever you want Now, Luna should be able to learn some excellent medical skills”

Jane waved at him and began to fantasize. She imagined Luna’s medical skills greatly improving, and achieving excellent results in the Grand Medicinal Competition. Then, she would marry into a top-class prestigious family.

The Conerys would rise to power....

What a satisfying and delightful thought!

Lester could not help but sneer in his heart when he heard Jane mutter to herself.

Luna had fallen into Hugo’s hands. She would not be learning medicine. At most, she would learn how to use her hands...

She was wasted on that lecherous man.

Screech...

Just as Jane was fantasizing, a car suddenly drove into the estate.

She looked up and saw two soldiers supporting an unconscious Luna. Drogo also got out of the car.

Chapter 615

“What...”

Jane was dumbfounded.

She hurriedly went forward and asked, “What happened? Wasn't Luna supposed to learn medicine from Hugo Stark?”

Drogo glanced at Jane and said, “You must be Madam Jane Montecarlo of the Conerys, right?”

“Yes, I am!” Jane nodded.

Drogo continued. “The Wicked Doctor, Hugo Stark, often deceives young women under the guise of teaching them medicine, and has done unspeakable things to them. We've been investigating him and finally caught him in the act today.

“Fortunately, we arrived just in time, so Ms. Crestfall was not harmed. We currently have him under control and we have closed his clinic, so we are bringing Ms. Crestfall back to you.

“However, I can't guarantee that we'll always be this timely. Please tell Ms. Crestfall to be more wary and not believe the words of deceitful people.”

The words of deceitful people...

Jane was stunned.

Why did she feel like he was talking about Lester?

With that thought, she immediately responded, “I understand, sir.”

“Les Ter Crest Fall!”

After Drogo and the others left, Jane's shrill voice reverberated throughout Ka vo Estate. "Get over here

It turned out that Hugo was a lecher, and Lester was the one who had taken Luna there...

Jane had to find out the truth.

Before long, Lester came out. He realized that there was something off about Jane's expression and asked nervously, "What do you need me for, Grandma?"

"What do I need you for?" Jane snorted coldly and questioned, "Hugo Stark is clearly a dirty old man, but you took Luna to him. Explain to me what happened!"

"Huh?" Lester trembled and avoided eye contact, stammering, "Grandma, w w hat do you mean? W-what did Dr Stark do..."

Jane was a distinguished person. She was the 70-year-old leader of the Conerys, after all! She could tell at a glance that there was something off about Lester, and her expression turned even colder "What did you do, Lester?"

"1. I didn't do anything!" Lester completely panicked and did not dare to look at Jane

Jane became even more convinced that something was going on between Lester and Hugo

By that point, Luna had been brought back to her room

Upon hearing that Drogo came. Bernard and Alec rushed over However, the y were too late and did not hear Drogo's words. Thus, they still did not know what was going on

"Alec!"

Jane pointed at Lester, her face like ice. "Go and find out what's going on between this kid and Hugo Stark!"

Dr. Stark and Lester?

Alec was completely clueless.

However, he was good at reading the room and sensed that this was no small matter. He replied, "Okay, I'll go check."

Then, he left.

Jane glared at Lester, who did not even dare to breathe loudly. He occasionally raised his head to sneakily glance at Jane.

"What did you do, you little brat?"

Dwight also rushed over and kicked Lester when he saw that things were awkward.

Lester did not dare to speak. He only hoped that his uncle would not find anything out. If his father and grandmother knew that he lost a billion in gambling and sold Luna to Hugo....

His legs would be broken!

Just then, Alec came back, gasping for breath. "Mom..."

Lester's heart instantly sank, and he almost collapsed on the spot.

"Lester ... Lester..." Alec pointed at Lester, his expression full of disbelief and disgust, saying, "He went gambling at Paradise and owes Hugo a billion!

"Hugo said that his debt would be clear as long as he brought Luna to satisfy Hugo ten times."

Many people were present at the gambling den when this incident occurred, making it easy to investigate

Everyone was stunned by Alec's words. They all looked at Lester in shock.

Lester felt his strength leave his body, and he collapsed on the ground, muttering, "No, I—I didn't! I was tricked by them..."

"You beast!" Dwight was also shocked and angry. He kicked Lester, causing the latter to fall to the ground, and yelled, "Luna is your cousin! How could you.
