Married at First Sight Chapter 2511-Camryn looked at her mother-in-law, Rosella.

Rosella understood what she meant by looking at her like this. She tapped her forehead in a funny way and said to her, "Don't look at me like this. Don't tell me that your body can be adjusted well. Even if you really can't give birth, I can't despise you. If I had despised you, I would have stopped Callum when he pursued you."

I will not let you two develop to this day. When I first met you, you were still invisible, and your aunt Azalea (Evelyn) has been taking you everywhere to seek medical advice for ten years, but she can't cure your eyes.

As long as my son likes you, no matter what you are, we will accept you and we will not dislike you; even if you are a man and Callum likes it, we can all accept it."

Camryn said movedly, "Mom, thank you for making me feel the warmth of family and maternal love."

The mother-in-law-to-be loved her as much as her own daughter.

Rosella: "My daughter-in-law, if I don't hurt, who should I hurt? Camryn, you don't have to feel burdened. Trust Dr. Carden and trust us."

Camryn nodded vigorously.

She believed it!

The three women walked back to the door of the main house in the center while chatting.

Callum was waiting at the door of the house.

All the gifts he bought were placed in the house. Callum was waiting for Camryn.

"Grandma is not in the house." Camryn saw Callum waiting at the door and asked him.

She had been to Wildridge Manor several times, and she also knew that the York family's son and Grandma May had a very good relationship. As long as Grandma May was at home, they usually stayed in the house to talk to her.

"Grandma will be back soon and asked me to cook first." Callum naturally took her hand and smiled: "I feel like I just came back to work as a coolie."

"If you need help, just ask." Serenity took over what his brother-in-law said: "Your eldest brother is also idle at home; you can ask him to help."

"Your father is also idle. Your uncles are idle. When you need someone, go to them. Let's prepare tea, snacks, and fruits, and let's chat."

It was naturally Rosella who said this. When she ordered Callum around, she was not polite or distressed.

When Grandma May trained these boys, she worked hard, and the results were quite good.

As long as the sons were at home, as parents, all they had to do was ask for anything they needed. With their sons at their disposal, nothing could trouble these boys.

They could even make their own clothes.

Callum: "..."

He just said one thing and then got a lot of helpers, fearing that those helpers would blame him.

"Mom, Camryn, and I will send things to my third uncle first. We will be back soon."

Rosella: "Well, go ahead."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2512-Only then did Callum have a chance to be alone with Camryn.

He held the gift in one hand and Camryn's hand in the other. He walked far away before he dared to complain.

Camryn smiled and said, "I see you are enjoying it."

She took out her mobile phone, broke away from Callum's hand holding her, and said, "My mobile phone kept ringing just now. I don't know who it is." The other party sent me a lot of WhatsApp messages. I was chatting with your mom, but I didn't read them."

She clicked on WhatsApp and saw the messages from the Newman family's butler.

All were photos and videos.

After seeing the photos and videos, she said to Callum, "I can guess that Carrie will go to her two aunts for help, but the new number is not my eldest or second aunt's."

"The result of the search is that the person with the new number is surnamed Janzen. I checked it out and found that I don't know anyone named Janzen. I asked brother Dal, and brother Dal also said that there is no one in the Newman family. None of my uncle's so-called friends and brothers have this surname.

Carrie must be related to the person surnamed Janzen when she called him, but I don't know the identity of the person surnamed Janzen. The person contacted Carrie just after she came out. Callum, do you think my mother's dark influence has not been wiped out?

They are waiting for an opportunity to contact Carrie, use Carrie, and then concentrate their power to retaliate against us."

Callum took the phone from her hand, and after looking at the photos and videos, she said, "Start with it first; Carrie is not a very powerful character; she is too young. Without too much scheming, even if someone wants to take advantage of her, sooner or later there will be flaws. As long as you continue to stare at her, you can always know the identity of the person surnamed Janzen.

If it is really your mother's remaining power, then don't worry. If they make a comeback and gather a force to take revenge, it will just happen to bring them to justice again.

However, as far as I know, so many police forces were dispatched at the beginning. Anyone who showed up was arrested, and those who ran away were also wanted. I guess they were not so bold and dared to return to Wiltspoon.

If you are worried, I will tell my elder brother after dinner and ask him to contact Mr. Bucham and ask him for help in checking.”

Callum comforted her, “Don’t worry, Carrie dares to be involved in gangs like her mother. Let’s send her in again and let her mother and daughter reunite.”

He was eager to send Carrie in again.

If Carrie no longer committed crimes, she would be outside and target Camryn all the time. Although it wouldn’t make a difference, it would still affect Camryn’s mood.

Camryn was silent for a while and then said, “Based on what I know about her, she won’t dare commit any more crimes in a short period of time. She was spoiled by her parents before. She doesn’t know how high the sky is and thinks the sky is falling.

I also thought that everything could be explained and settled with money. After suffering a loss, her parents have been severely sentenced again, and no one can support her or pamper her. She can only speak loudly and scold me, and she doesn’t dare to commit murder or arson again.

My two eldest aunts will use her to come back to compete with me for family property and company. They are living a miserable life now. They hate me in their hearts, but they can’t fight for it. Carrie suddenly came out early, which just gave them hope. In any case, Carrie can get a part of the Newman family’s property.”

Camryn suddenly chuckled. “I want to see what tricks they can play.”

She had endured for many years and finally overthrown her mother and uncle. She took charge of everything in the Newman family and sought justice for her father.

Carrie wanted to take everything back from Camryn, but she had to agree that she didn’t have that ability.

Callum: “If you need help, be sure to tell me. Don’t bother brother Dal with everything. Although Dal is an older brother, he has a wife. If we keep bothering him, my sister-in-law will have objections.”

Camryn laughed. “You call him brother, but in your heart you still regard brother Dal as your love rival. I have said it N times: Brother Dal and I are brother and sister.”

Callum secretly cursed in his heart: ‘Dalton loved her; I just didn’t dare to express my feelings, and now I can only keep it buried deep in my heart.’
