I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2521-“Mayor Salem, the reason I come here today is to hope that you can do me a favor.” David did not waste any time and went straight to the point.

“You can just tell me anything, David. I will definitely not say no to anything I can help you with. However, if it’s out of my power, then I can only say sorry if I can’t do anything about it as well.” Salem’s statement was watertight.

He would help if he could but if he could not, then there was nothing he could do.

To put it more simply, he would help with minor matters but not big ones.

For example, if it was about the Campbell and Marche families, then he would not be able to do anything. i

Of course, David knew what Salem was saying.

He did not want Salem to help him with the Campbell and Marche families.

However, he did not want the Marche and Campbell families to attack suddenly when he left the Spirit Cage to go back to the real world to have a breakthrough. He hoped Salem could help him delay if he was not around.

Judging from the past, if it was quick, it would only take him about a day.

Even though that was not too long, David had to consider what to do if the enemies came when he was not around.

Once he went into seclusion, the little girl would surely wait outside and not allow anyone to disturb him. Moreover, she would not leave.

He was worried that something would happen to Pebbles.

David would never be able to accept this.

If they hurt Pebbles, David would not be able to stop himself from wiping out the Campbell and Marche families.

For the sake of the little girl's safety, he would use a room in the mayor's residence to go into seclusion and leave The Spirit Cage.

With Mayor Salem here, everyone would be fine.

Plus, it had been five days and there was no news from the enemy.

So, nothing should go wrong for one more day.

"Mayor Salem, I want to borrow one of the rooms in the mayor's residence for about a day. If the Marche and Campbell families arrived during this period, please protect the little girl in my arms. I will be eternally grateful to you when I come out," David said seriously.

"You want to go into seclusion in my residence?" Salem asked in disbelief.

He thought something was wrong with his ears and that he heard David wrongly.

Did David seriously want to go into seclusion at this time?

Would it do anything?

Plus, what could he do in just one day?

Was he trying to escape?

The spies from the Campbell family had seen David entering the mayor's residence from the outside.

If David left this place without anyone knowing, wouldn't the mayor's residence become the butt of public criticism?

How would Salem explain to the Campbell and Marche families?

"Yes, I would like to go into seclusion for one day at your place. You only need to make sure my sister is safe on this one day. You can think of this as me owing you one, what do you think?" David said affirmatively.

Salem thought to himself, 'Well...'

Salem was in a dilemma.

To be honest, he needed David to be indebted to him.

After all, this might be a young man with a promising future.

So, he had a very high chance of managing the top force of Leila in the future.

He would benefit a lot from having a good relationship and favor from this kind of person.

However, the gains would not make up for the losses if he offended the Campbell and Marche families just for this favor.

The most important thing was that Salem did not know why David wanted to go into seclusion.

So, Salem did not know what he should do. If he agreed, it would be a major gamble.
