

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea Chapter 704

”

Chapter 704

Andrius smiled brightly and changed the topic while walking out. “I’ll go check up on the soldiers’ injuries first. Talk to you later!”

“I’ll go with you!” Emmy skipped after him and asked, “Mister, when are you going back to East River State? I’ll go with you.”

Emmy was serious!

Andrius

was suddenly overwhelmed: “I might have to stay in Kiyoto for a while. I’ll wait until the situation calms down before leaving.”

Emmy nodded deeply and said, “Okay, I’ll wait for you!”

Andrius was speechless.

In the Hall of Serenity in the Forbidden Palace...

Bam!

Crash!

Boom!

Upon hearing the news, Registus swept aside the recently redecorated furnishings and ornaments in the hall, trampling and smashing them as he roared furiously.

His fury could be felt even from a mile away.

“Your Majesty...” Baron saw the emperor’s expression but advised, “Please calm down. This matter isn’t as complicated as it seems.”

He had enough reason to suspect Andrius, and he also had multiple allies with the same suspicion, such as the Second War God.

#

After speaking, he exchanged a look with the Second War God.

The Second War God instantly understood and stepped forward, saying, "Your Majesty, the Black Hawk had some connections with the massacre of the Kleins that year.

"Furthermore, after you first took action against Andrius, the Hawkeye Group began to frantically search for information about the massacre. It's very likely that Andrius had already gained control over the Hawkeye Group at that time.

"Thus, there's a 99% chance that he's the one behind the prison break this time!

"Moreover, he now has the Black Hawk in his hands, and the latter is a crucial piece. It won't be long before Andrius finds out the truth of that incident. The consequences of this matter will be catastrophic."

He was not exaggerating. His analysis was reasonable and accurate.

This was the reality.

"That's right!" Baron added, "Although we didn't find any evidence at Calmert Estate today, I'm certain it was Andrius!"

Registus fell silent.

Of course, he understood the seriousness of the matter.

Andrius Moonshade...

He was the Wolf King!

He was an uncrowned king who could make anyone lose their will to resist him. Furthermore, he commanded the invincible Lycantroops..

If he went out of control, heits would undoubtedly be a disaster.

However, Registus did not have the confidence to completely sever ties with him.

1

Seeing

his hesitation, the Second War God said sternly, “Your Majesty! Although Andrius is strong, we can strike first! I think that we should declare war and completely eradicate Andrius and the Lycantroops!”

That was undoubtedly a difficult decision.

It was a decision that contradicted their traditions.

The

Lycantroops’ achievements brought permanent stability to Florence’s western border, and their terrifying combat prowess...

Just thinking about it sent a chill down Registus’ spine.

“Your Majesty, as long as Andrius lives, we’ll never have peace of mind!”

“Your Majesty, if Andrius dared to blow up the Dragon’s Dungeon today, he might dare to blow up the palace tomorrow!”

“Your Majesty, have you forgotten the last time when Andrius charged into the Forbidden Palace? At that time, he didn’t treat you with any respect though you were the emperor!”

eve

The other Warzone Masters and War Gods exchanged looks and stepped forward to offer advice.

The Second War

God said earnestly, “Your Majesty, if Andrius discovers the truth about the past, he’ll definitely go berserk on the spot. None of us will survive if he leads the Lycantroops to Kiyoto! At that time, it’ll be too late for regrets!”

Those words struck a chord in Registus’ heart.

Images of the past emerged in his mind.

He recalled that day when Andrius had stormed in in a rage. His aura was overwhelming, and his strength was unmatched.

If

found out what he did that year, would he be as easy to deal with as the first time?

Registus knew without thinking.

“In that case...

A resolute killing intent flashed in Registus' eyes. He looked down at the Warzone Masters and War Gods below and said, “Declare war! Exterminate Andrius and the Lycantroops!

“Go and make the preparations!”