

Chapter 57 An Appreciation For Soft Supple Skin

Rena also possessed a fiery temperament, despite the fact that she usually look gentle and sweet.

Seething with anger towards Waylen, she distanced herself from him upon her return.

To get rid of the faint traces of oil and smoke clinging to her skin, Rena indulged in a refreshing shower, before leaning gracefully against the wash basin to embark on her intricate skincare routine.

To his credit, Waylen did not mistreat her. Merely two days after her arrival, he had generously sent her multiple sets of luxurious skincare products. Without a moment's hesitation, Rena directly utilized them, failing to consult him beforehand. She surmised that his gesture was motivated by an appreciation for soft, supple skin, an attribute he undoubtedly adored.

Applying the skincare products to her upper body, Rena then proceeded to tend to her legs, her actions exuding an air of effortless sensuality, accentuating her exquisite physique.

Waylen found himself irresistibly drawn to her allure.

Approaching her stealthily, he enveloped her in an embrace from behind. Rena experienced a surge of astonishment, yet chose not to resist his advance.

After a brief pause, he gently whispered into her ear, "Has your period arrived?"

Recognizing his lack of anger, Rena responded, "Yes, it began tonight."

Halting his exploratory caresses, Waylen rested his chin tenderly upon her shoulder. In a jovial mood, he engaged her in conversation, "What are your aspirations beyond the lawsuit? Surely, you don't intend to solely devote yourself to teaching Danna?"

Rena's thoughts swirled chaotically within her mind, and she confessed, "I yearn to teach in a different locale."

With a delicate nibble on her earlobe, Waylen conveyed both desire and intimacy.

"How about I arrange for you to pursue further studies abroad in due time?"

Rena comprehended his intentions all too well.

Their relationship had an expiration date. When he grew weary of her, he would whisk her away to foreign lands. On one hand, he aimed to compensate her, while on the other, he sought to keep her at a distance from Harold, thereby

Rena didn't inquire whether he would visit her overseas if she were to pursue her studies there.

Deep down, she knew he wouldn't.

When he dispatched her to foreign shores, it would signify the conclusive end of their association.

Rena harbored no ingratitude within her soul.

Perhaps it was her compliant nature that elicited Waylen's jovial demeanor. He playfully squeezed her slender waist and divulged details of a scandal he had recently heard. The revelation caused Rena's cheeks to flush and her heart to race with anticipation.

She looked incredibly endearing.

Waylen spun her around, pressing her gently against the wash basin, and their lips united in a kiss.

This passionate embrace possessed a fervor unlike any they had shared before.

She dared not entertain suspicions about his physical well-being.

His ardor was simply insatiable!

Just as their passion engulfed them, Rena's phone clamored for attention.

Vera's call had arrived.

"I must answer this," she gently pushed Waylen, asserting her need to respond.

With a mischievous gesture, Waylen extended his hand to retrieve her phone, activating the speaker.

Rena was momentarily rendered speechless. She pondered on his occasional childlike behavior. Given the nature of their relationship, he really shouldn't have done this. Why would he anyway?

Nonetheless, she chose not to evade his presence and engaged in a conversation with Vera.

"Hello!" she greeted.

Vera furrowed her brow and inquired, "What's wrong with your voice, Rena?"

"What? There's nothing wrong with it," Rena replied.

In a jesting manner, Vera teased her, "If you weren't single, I'd think you were being with a man!"

Rena's cheeks flushed and she playfully scolded her friend.

With a smile, Waylen whispered in her ear, "She's absolutely right!"

Apprehensive that Vera might overhear Waylen's voice, Rena swiftly retreated to the bedroom, draping herself with a bathrobe while grasping it with one hand. "Vera, I actually have something important to discuss with you. Can we meet tomorrow?"

Due to Waylen's intervention, the Gordon family's assets had been unfrozen. Rena felt compelled to return the money to Vera.

Upon hearing that Darren had been bailed out, Vera expressed her delight for Rena.

After engaging in pleasant conversation for a while, Vera shifted the focus of their call, stating, "I have two more things to share with you! Did you hear about the Moore Group being targeted? My husband informed me that Harold is facing significant trouble. He may end up in jail! It serves him right! I can hardly contain my happiness."

As Vera mentioned Harold, Rena grew apprehensive, concerned that it might displease Waylen.

She turned her head to glance at him.
