Chapter 1271

Comelia just yawned, but in Granny Luisa's mind, she had already imagined a hundred and eight possibilities.

Even though the possibility of Comelia being pregnant was slim Granny Luisa still cautiously asked, "Nelly have you been sleeping well lately?"

Before Comelia could answer, Patricia chimed in, "Nelly has been super busy lately Sometimes she just crashes right after work. Even dozed off in her study a few times."

Cornelia laughed and said, "Granny, don't listen to Patricia. My work isn't that exhausting, it's just that I've been feeling really sleepy lately Maybe it's the cold weather. It's so comfy that I just want to sleep Granny Luisa started getting excited "Patricia, is Nelly exceptionally tired? Patricia caught on immediately. "Granny Luisa, she does seem to be."

Granny Luisa asked again, "Any other symptoms? Like, Nelly, give Patricia your phone. I need to check with her and see if she's been taking good care of you' Cornelia obediently handed her phone to Patricia, "Granny, Patricia has been taking good care of me. I only got chubby from eating her cooking, don't blame her Patricia had already guessed what Granny Luisa was thinking. She took the phone and retreated to her room.

As soon as the door closed, Granny Luisa couldn't wait, Patricia, could Nelly be pregnant? Has she had her period recently?"

Patricia thought hard. Tve been living with Nelly for over a month now, I don't think I've seen her have her period."

No period the probability of being pregnant just skyrocketed. Granny Luisa was so excited that her hands were trembling, "Any other reactions from Nelly?"

Patricia thought again, but couldn't recall any pregnancy symptoms in Cornelia. Otherwise, she would have noticed, 'Nelly is healthy, she hasn't mentioned any other symptoms. The most obvious is that she's gotten rounder and sleeps a lot."

Granny Luisa said, "Well, regardless, we need to confirm it. I'll get someone to do a checkup immediately."

Patricia said, "Granny Luisa."

Granny Luisa said, "Spit it out, don't beat around the bush.'

Patricia said. "Nelly and Marc are divorced."

Granny Luisa was taken aback. Patricia continued, her voice lowered, "I heard from one of Nelly's friends. She was about to get married, but found out the guy was a fraud. Not only did she not get married, but she also abort their three-month-old baby."

Granny Luisa was stunned.

Patricia said, "Granny Luisa, I'm really worried."

Granny Luisa was even more worried.

If Comelia knew she was carrying Marc's baby and wanted to abort it, Granny Luisa knew she had no right to stop her. How could she ask a young woman to bear her ex-husband's child?

if Comelia did have this baby, it would definitely affect her future marriage.

Patricia said, "Granny Luisa, why don't I help you secretly find out if Nelly is pregnant? If she is, let's not tell her for now. When the baby is a bit bigger, she'll find out herself, and maybe she won't choose to have an abortion.

Honestly, for a moment there, Granny Luisa had the same thought cross her mind.

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1272

Cornelia had no experience with pregnancy, so unless there were very clear physical signs, she might not notice she was knocked up in the short term. Once the baby was formed, Cometa finding out about the pregnancy might be a tough pill to swallow

Granny Luisa thought this was brutal for Cornelia and decided, "Til send a doctor right over to do a quick pee test if she really is pregnant, we gotta tell her Whether she chooses to keep or abort, we cant pressure her. It's her call."

Patricia let out a sigh, looking really bummed out, "Before the divorce, Comelia was hoping every day to get pregnant but couldn't. Now that she's divorced, there's a high chance she is. Why does she always have it in for her?"

Thinking about the possibility of not having a great-grandchild, Granny Luisa was heartbroken. But she consoled herself, "Comelia is the only daughter in law accept Even if she's divorced from Mars, she's still my precious girl. If she ever remarries, any child she has will be my great-grandchild"

The realization that Comelia might be pregnant and the possibility that she might not keep the baby sent their emotions on a wild roller coaster ride. Especi ally for Patricia, who had been hoping that Comelia and Marcus would get back together. If Comelia was pregnant, the chances of reconciliation would be even higher Suddenly, there was noise from outside.

Patricia said, “Granny Luisa, it sounds like Augustine is back from the Capital. He mentioned going there for some important work a few days ago. I wonder what that was!

Granny Luisa said, “You go out, I’ll greet him.”

Patricia said “Granny Luisa, right after Comelia’s divorce, Augustine introduced her to a lot of potential mates. I think he was hoping for her to divorce Marc. If he finds out Comelia is carrying Marc’s child, I bet he’ll want her to abort.”

Granny Luisa had no words.

Patricia continued, “Didn’t you just say it should be Cornelia’s decision? I’m worried Augustine’s assertiveness will influence her choice?

Granny Luisa knew what Patricia was thinking, “Don’t think I don’t know what you’re up to.”

Patricia said, “Granny Luisa, let’s wait two more days. Two days won’t make a huge difference overall, but I believe Augustine would greatly influence Comelia’s decision before she makes it Granny Luisa also hoped the child would be born, so she compromised, “Alright, two more days. But no more delays after that’

Patricia said, “Okay. It sounds like there are other men’s voices outside, not just Grandpa Augustine. Granny Luisa, let me take you to see Sure enough, in the living room there was not only Augustine, but also a handsome young man.

The man was sitting upright on the sofa, not looking around. Grandpa Augustine was sitting opposite.

Comelia handed them two bottles of mineral water, one to Grandpa Augustine and the other one to the man. The man looked up at Comelia, smiles politely, and said, "Thank your Grandpa Augustine gestured Cornelia to sit down, then introduced, "Comelia, this is the man I showed you in the photo last time, Jarvis. Get to know each other?"

Comelia remembered Grandpa Augustine introducing someone, but she didn't remember his name, which made her feel a bit awkward, "Hello, Jarvia!"

Jarvis stood up immediately and shook hands with Cornelia briefly, "Ms. Stewart, nice to meet you! I'm pleased to make your acquaintance!"

Looking at that guy, he was totally into Nelly

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1273

In a hushed tone, Patricia said to Granny Luisa over the phone, "Granny Luisa, Augustine has brought a guy home for Nelly to meet."

Granny Luisa was taken aback, "What's the rush? Nelly's a catch, plenty of guys would want to marry her. Can't we give her more time to make a choice?"

Patricia peeked from the corner, "Granny Luisa, the thing is, this guy is not only good looking, but he's also tall. You can tell even when he's sitting. He's very charming and polite too."

Granny Luisa was uneasy but tried to comfort herself and Patricia, "Nelly and Marc are over now. If she meets another good guy, we should be happy for her."

Patricia added, "He seems great, but he's no Marc."

Granny Luisa replied, "It was Marc's loss for letting Nelly go."

Patricia stated worriedly, "Granny Luisa, if Nelly finds a new partner now, what about the baby in her belly..."

Thinking about the possibility of losing Comelia and her unborn child, Granny Luisa sighed, "I haven't heard from Marcus in a while, I wonder what he's up to

Patricia guessed, "Probably with that woman."

Granny Luisa fell silent.

Patricia urged, "Granny Luisa, we can't just let Nelly make this decision alone, right? At least, we can't let her start dating before she makes up her mind."

Granny Luisa said, "The doctor I sent is on his way. He'll be there soon." Patricia argued, "Granny Luisa, why can't you think for yourself for once? If not for yourself, think about Marc. I think Marc really likes Nelly. The way he looks at her is different, his smile is more genuine when she's around. Maybe he just made a mistake and he'll realize it soon."

Granny Luisa chuckled, "Who says I haven't thought about myself? No one has forever to wait for someone to amend their mistakes."

Patricia asked, "Granny Luisa, are we really going to let Nelly abort the baby?"

Granny Luisa didn't want to, but she also didn't want to bind Cornelia, "When Nelly first came to Riverton for school, I liked her at first sight. I thought it'd be great if she could marry Marc. So, I often praised my grandson to Nelly's granny. And eventually, she believed me.

"When Nelly graduated from college, I proposed marriage to her granny who agreed without much thought. I promised her that my grandson was a good man who would take good care of Nelly. She entrusted Nelly to us without any worry. But what actually happened? My grandson went abroad right after their marriage and didn't return for a year. When he finally did, he wanted a divorce from Nelly

"Nelly's granny passed away because of our family issues, leaving her without any family. Nelly never blamed us for her granny's death. She continued to live each day to fulfill her granny's last wish. She even tried hard to get pregnant. I knew how much she wanted a child with Marc and how much she wanted me to hold my great-grandchild. She wouldn't want me to leave this world with regrets like her granny. She has always been a kind and filial girl who puts us elders first. I didn't expect Marc to disappoint her, and their marriage ended in divorce. We owe Nelly so much. I have no right to ask her to do more for us."

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1274

Granny Luisa continued, "T! Nelly could find someone she likes, someone who could really treat her well, we should wish her well Patricia said. "I get what you're saying I also want Nelly to be happy. But selfishly, I think Nelly's happiness should come from Marc." Granny Luisa said "Happiness shouldn't be decided by other people; happiness should be something you give yourself Patricia fell silent.

Granny Luisa said "Thang up now. When the doctor is done with the tests, let me know the results."

"Okay" Patricia thought of Comelia and Marcus, possibly never having a chance again, and she felt really bummed out. As she looked up, she saw Jarvis's gaze rest on Cornelia. His eyes were filled with admiration, scrutiny, and a hint of unyielding determination.

This wouldn't do. She couldn't let Nelly be snatched up by someone else so quickly, she had to think of a way to stop this.

After a moment, Patricia suddenly said loudly, "Nelly, Granny Luisa hasn't been feeling well lately and she could really use some company. Marc and Bri are both super busy, leaving her all alone in the Hartley Mansion, it's heartbreaking. Do you want to come with me to the Hartley Mansion to keep Granny Luisa company?"

As soon as she finished talking, Patricia appeared in front of everyone. She pretended to just notice the others, "Oh my, Augustine, you're back so soon? And who is this gentleman? Is he your driver?"

Mistaken for driver, Jarvis was not offended, but nodded to Patricia with a smile, "Sorry to bother you."

Grandpa Augustine asked, "Did you just say you want Nelly to go back to the Hartley Mansion?"

Patricia said, "Yes. Granny Luisa has always spoiled Nelly, she hopes Nelly could come back to keep her company."

Grandpa Augustine said, "If she really thinks of Nelly as family, she wouldn't tolerate her grandson treating Nelly this way. Tell her, Nelly and Marcus are divorced now. Nelly is looking for a new partner, and I hope she won't interfere with Nelly's new life."

Patricia fell silent. Grandpa Augustine had caught her off guard. Her plan had failed.

Comelia was sitting in between, feeling super awkward. She couldn't take sides, so she changed the subject, "Grandpa Augustine, have you and Jarvis had lunch? Should I..."

Grandpa Augustine interrupted her, "We've already eaten. I brought Jarvis over without telling you in advance, fearing you would find all sorts of reasons to turn us away."

Comelia fell silent. Grandpa Augustine was too blunt.

Jarvis unscrewed the bottle cap, handed it to Cornelia, and took one for himself. This small detail had Grandpa Augustine very pleased, "Jarvis, Nelly, do I need to introduce you two again?"

Comelia turned to Jarvis, smiling, "Jarvis, do you know I just got divorced not long ago?"

Jarvis nodded, "Grandpa Augustine has already made it very clear to me."

Comelia said, "I'm not planning on starting a new relationship right now, might be a letdown for you guys."

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1275

Chapter 1275

Grandpa Augustine was getting edgy “Comelia, are you still hung up on that jerk who betrayed you? I know Marcus was a catch, but what’s it wo Hearing this, Comellia felt a pang in her heart. She knew Marcus didnt have her in his heart. She didn’t need anyone to remind her when he doeprit even have you in his heart?

Noticing the pain in Comelia’s eyes, Jarvis quickly cut in, “Grandpa Augustine, I personally think lack plays a big part in whether two people end up together it’s not like we can just pair up because our parents want us to. Despite pushing thirty. I still don’t have plans to tie the knot. I’m just here to fulfil a duty assigned by the elders Hearing that the guy was on the same page and also had no plans to marry, Comelia breathed a sigh of relief, “You’re right, Jarvis Fate and feelings for each other matter a lot

Comelia’s sincerity was not lost on Jarvis, but he chose to remain silent Grandpa Augustine glared at Jarvis, “Jarvis, you didn’t say that before you came here You changed your tune after meeting Comelia Is it because you don’t like the look of my granddaughter? Or do you think she’s beneath you because she’s divorced?”

Jarvis responded, “Grandpa Augustine, you’ve got the wrong idea about me. I’m not that kind of guy How about this? Comelia and I can exchange contact information and start off as friends.”

Patricia was listening from the side. She noticed how quickly he transitioned from calling her Ms. Stewart to Comellia Started off as friends? The look in his eyes when he looked at Cornelia hardly screamed just friends Comelia was no fool. She must have seen through him. She couldn’t be fooled by him.

Without giving Cornelia a chance to respond, Jarvis immediately took out his phone, “Comelia, can you give me your contact information?”

The phone was already in front of her. Cornelia instinctively took it

Looking at the name on the social media account, Jarvis chuckled. “Nelly? That’s a cute name.”

Comelia responded, “Only my friends call me that. You can just call me Comelia.”

Jarvis replied, “Alright. My social media account name is Jarvis. You can just call me Jarvis.

Patricia was getting antsy on the side. Cornelia was usually so sharp. Why couldn’t she see through this man? He was just trying to lower her guard before making a move.

Could Comelia, with her limited experience in love, handle a man who had looks, wealth, and a mind for strategy?

After some thought, Patricia spoke up, “Comelia.”

But Grandpa Augustine beat her to it, “Patricia, could you do me a favor and make me a cup of coffee? I don’t like drinking water I prefer coffee” “Comelia. Patricia echoed.

“Patricia, please.” Cornelia insisted.

“Alright.” With a tinge of reluctance, Patricia went to make the coffee, but she couldn’t take her eyes off the living room.

In the living room, Jarvis got up, “Grandpa Augustine, Cornelia, I have some matters to attend to, so I’ll be going now. I’ll be staying in Riverton for a while. I’ll treat you guys to a meal when I have the time. How does that sound?”

“Go ahead and take care of your business. When you have the time, I’ll arrange a meal.” Grandpa Augustine said.

Comelia also cheerily saw the guest out, “Take care.”

Before leaving, Jarvis gave Cornelia another look, “Nelly, you seem to have a red rash on your neck.”

Comelia had felt an itch on her neck earlier but didn’t pay much attention to it. It wasn’t until Jarvis pointed it out that she realized it could be an allergic reaction to peanuts.

Patricia had forgotten about her peanut allergy, so there were peanuts in her lunch today. Seeing how happy Patricia was, Comelia didn’t have the heart to reject her kindness. She thought it would be fine to just eat a little. But she underestimated her allergic reaction to peanuts, “It’s just a bit of an allergy. I’ll be fine.”

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1276

Grandpa Augustine immediately stood up and walked towards Comelia. Because of the close distance, he could see Comelia more clearly neck had turned a fiery red, and he could only imagine the state of her concealed skin, “What on earth are you allergic to it seems really bad?”

Jarvis interjected, “Grandpa Augustine, my driver is still downstairs. Can I take Nelly to the hospital?”

Cornelia replied, "Grandpa Augustine, Jarvis, you guys don't need to worry I have some allergy medication prescribed by Dr. Lester in my room be fine after taking it"

Hearing the commotion, Patricia hurried over. Upon seeing the rash on Comelia's neck, Patricia smacked herself hard in regret, Nelly, I can't believe I forgot about your severe peanut allergy I'm so careless'

Comelia reassured her, "Patricia, it's okay. Don't blame yourself. Can you fetch the allergy medication from my bedside table? The one Dr. Lester gave me."

Patricia replied, "Of course, I'll get it right away"

Now, Grandpa Augustine was genuinely angry, "She knew you were allergic to peanuts, yet she still included them in the food. I don't think she meant well"

This, Comelia couldn't take, "Grandpa Augustine, you can't say that. I know how much Patricia cares for me. Besides, I'm a grown woman. I should take responsibility for what I eat or don't eat. We can't blame others."

Grandpa Augustine apologized, "Nelly, I'm sorry!" He had spoken out of concern and didn't mean to hurt her feelings

Cornelia then told Jarvis, "I guess I won't be able to see you out today"

This was her polite way of telling Jarvis that it was time for him to leave.

He got the hint. Cornelia didn't want him to stay longer. But he wasn't in a hurry. He had been waiting for so many years. What was another day or two?

Seeing her calm demeanor, he guessed she had had many allergy attacks before and was probably okay. So, he just said. "Alright"

As Jarvis headed towards the door and opened it, he bumped into someone who was about to ring the doorbell.

The visitor, seeing the unfamiliar man, paused, "Is this Ms. Stewart's place?"

Jarvis replied, "Yes. And you are?"

Cornelia quickly walked towards the door, ‘Dr. Charlie, what brought you here?’”

“Granny Luisa asked me to come over for your routine check-up.” Dr. Charlie looked up and saw that Cornelia’s face and neck were all red “Nelly, you had another allergic reaction?”

Cornelia replied, “Yeah.”

Dr. Charlie said, “Let me check you.”

Comelia reassured her, “Don’t worry, I have the medication Dr. Lester gave me. Patricia has gone to fetch it.”

The medicine’s here!” Patricia hurriedly brought the medication, “Nelly, take it quickly. Dr. Lester’s medicine works really well, you’ll feel better soon.”

But if the medicine’s ingredients were unknown, and if Cornelia was indeed pregnant, would it affect the baby?

Dr. Charlie intervened, “Nelly, can you hold off on taking the medication for a bit?”

Grandpa Augustine protested, “She’s breaking out in hives! You want her to wait?”

Dr. Charlie insisted, “Allergy medications shouldn’t be taken lightly. Let me examine Nelly first.”

Patricia was overcome with guilt, “It’s all my fault, I forgot.”

Dr. Charlie shot Patricia a knowing look, “Don’t blame yourself. Let’s help Nelly back to her room. I’ll give her a thorough check-up.”

First off, Dr. Charlie would perform a simple urine test on Cornelia. This would give them a preliminary idea of whether she was pregnant or not.

Chapter 1277

furangue Augustine were totally in the dark, lovely saying. If you guys are going to check on her get on with it. Don’t dawdle Comella looks like she’s not doing so hot”

“Grandpa Augustine, chill out. The at my first raders Adicine and be right as rain” Comelia massured Grandpa Augustine with a smile, right before she went into the room.

in the past, she had an allergy attack that nearly had her to death Bhutto put Grandpa Augustine at ease, she downplayed the gravity of the situation. Everyone went into the room, leaving Grandon Augustine all by his lonesome in the living room „Jarons didnt konset at. (in the contrary, he came back, “Gandpa Augustine, FI stick around a bit longer Once we’re sure Comelia is okay, I take a hike Grandos Augustina che farm a back, his eyes trimming with discontent You’re as useful as a chocolate teapot! Before you came, you told me to trust you, that you’d do your dam nedest to win Comella over. But now you can even muster the courage to tell her how you mally feel. How am I supposed to trust you in the future?”

Janine helped the old man to sit down, “Grandpa Augustine, love ain’t something you can rush. It takes time.”

Grandpa Augustine shed back, “You’re always saying ‘wait Comelia’s a catch If you don’t win her heart soon, some other guy will „Jarans repoland” Alright, I get it but you’ve got to malize, Comelia’s pretty standoffish with me. It’s not just me, she’s just gotten out of a relationship and she’s not ready for another one. Anyone who approaches her now will face resistance You pushing me at her might just backfire”

Granudos Augustoran peked, “So you’re saying I should lay off Comelia?” Jarvis anewered ‘Yes’

Granga Augustine went on, “But if I don’t push her, she might get stuck in her old, failed relationship. Don’t you young people say the best way to get over a relationship is to start a new one?*

Jaws and “Grandpa Augustine, who’s been feeding you this nonsense?”

Grandpa Augustine replied, “1 read it online Don’t think I’m too old to use the internet. I’m always online reading news to keep up with you youngsters.”

Jenis said, “There’s a lot of bogus info online. You’ve got to judge for yourself.”

Grandpa Augustine shot back, “Stop beating around the bush. Just tell me, how long will it take for you to make Cornelia fall for you and bring her home?”

Jarvis said, ” cart say for sure”

Grandpa Augustine insisted, “You’ve got to give me an answer

Jarvis thought for a moment, “Maybe a year?”

Grandpa Augustine replied, “A year’s too long Half a year. That’s all you get.”

Jarvis said “Grandpa Augustine, half a year probably won’t cut it.”

Grandpa Augustine said, “If you can’t do it, I’ll find someone else for Cornelia,” Jarvis's voice suddenly fell, sounding very firm, "Grandpa Augustine, that's not on! Besides me, you can't introduce Cornelia to any other guys."

Grandpa Augustine said, "Then you'd better pull your socks up. Marry Cornelia soon and bring her back to the Capital. I can't stand to see her wandering around anymore. I want to take her back to the Capital, where no one can bully her

Jarvis said, "I'll give it all I've got Trust you once again" Grandpa Augustine looked worriedly towards the master bedroom, "We still don't know how Nelly's doing."

Jarvis followed Grandpa Augustine's gaze, "She should be better soon.

Grandpa Augustine, "I'll wait outside the door,"

Grandpa Augustine said, "Just wait here"

Jarvis said, "if Nelly comes out and sees me still here, it might leave a bad impression. I'll slip out quietly if Nelly's okay. But if anything's up, remember I'm right outside."

Grandpa Augustine said, "You're a thoughtful lad

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1278

Jarvis quipped with a grin, "If I wasn't smart, how could I possibly be good enough for your granddaughter?"

"Off you go then" Grandpa Augustine waved him off.

No sooner had Jarvis stepped out, the door to Cornelia's room swung open.

Grandpa Augustine quickly headed towards Cornelia's room. Over the past period, Cornelia's condition had not only not improved, but had worsened. Her face was covered in red patches, the whole of it, looking utterly terrible.

Greatly worried, Grandpa Augustine asked "Nelly, didn't the doc give you any meds? Why are you getting worse?"

Dr. Charlie answered, "Grandpa Augustine, due to Nelly's condition, we can't just give her any drugs now. We'll have to endure it with her. It'll pass soon"

Dr. Charlie had just tested Cornelia with a pregnancy test strip. The two red lines on the strip, indicating positive, pretty much confirmed that Cornelia was indeed pregnant Comelia was pregnant, and the medicine Dr. Lester prescribed had hormones, which pregnant women couldn't take. Dr. Charlie wasn't well-versed with allergic reactions, so he suggested Comelia to tough it out, and it would get better.

"What sort of condition doesn't allow for taking medication?" Grandpa Augustine asked.

1, uh... Dr. Charlie started.

Or Charlie Comelia, itchy and scratching at her neck, scratched out two bloody marks, I'm not refusing to endure, it's that I can't. Grandpa Augustine, I'm feeling awful, so breathless, please take me to the

Before she could finish her sentence, Comelia feebly collapsed onto the floor. Fortunately, both Grandpa Augustine and Patricia were by her side and managed to catch her in time.

"Jarvis! Grandpa Augustine shouted out.

Jarvis immediately dashed in, opening his arms to scoop up Cornelia around her waist, "I'm taking Nelly to the hospital right now."

He was strong and fast, and quickly disappeared out the door with Cornelia in his arms. Patricia was momentarily stunned before she thought to follow.

Grandpa Augustine shot a glance at Dr. Charlie, coldly saying, "If anything happens to Nelly, none of you Hartleys will get away with it!"

By the time Cornelia was rushed to the hospital, her face had turned a ghastly shade of blue. They pulled some strings to get her into the emergency room. After a series of frantic efforts, they barely snatched her back from the jaws of death.

According to the attending physician in charge of her treatment, she had suffered from severe allergic reactions which led to her respiratory distress. Had she arrived at the hospital a few minutes later, she might not have made it. For now, Cornelia's life had been saved, but her body was extremely weak. She needed to be observed in the ICU for a while,

Upon hearing that Cornelia was out of danger, Grandpa Augustine, who had been waiting anxiously at the doors of the ER, let out a sigh of relief. He then turned to Granny Luisa beside him, "Granny Luisa, I think you owe me an explanation."

Upon hearing of Cornelia's fainting, Granny Luisa had also rushed to the hospital. Like Grandpa Augustine, she was extremely worried while Cornelia was in the emergency room.

Now that Cornelia was out of danger, Granny Luisa also let out a sigh of relief, as if she had just overcome a serious illness, "I owe you an explanation for this."

Although Granny Luisa seemed kind and friendly in daily life, when it came to crucial moments, she could make people like Dr. Charlie tremble with just a glance, "You two, come with me."

Dr. Charlie and Patricia immediately followed.

Dr. Charlie lowered his head, "Granny Luisa, I was worried that the allergy medicine would harm the baby in Nelly's belly, so I stopped Patricia."

Granny Luisa glared at Dr. Charlie, "You're worried about the baby getting hurt? You don't even care about Nelly's life? Do you think that an undeveloped fetus is more important than Nelly's life?"

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1279

Dr. Charlie was totally clueless about his mistake, she even felt like she was being treated unfairly, "Granny Luisa, Nelly's child is the future of the Hartley family of course is the most important thing. This is to save your family's lineage I had no selfish intentions."

These words made Granny Luisa furious. Charlie, as a doctor do you even know what you're saying?"

Seeing that Granny Luisa was really angry. Dr. Charlie shut his mouth. First of all let me tell you there's nothing more important to me than Nelly's life. Even if she loses this child, she can have another one, but Nelly's life is replaceable if something happens to Nelly because of me, I wouldn't be able to face her grandmother even in death.

Dr. Charlie remained silent.

Granny Luisa continued Charle, as a doctor, don't you even have basic medical ethics? Don't you know that saving people is the most important thing? Don't you know that if Helly is gone, the char wought exist either? Dr. Charlie tried to defend herself. "Granny Luisa, I didn't expect Nelly's condition to be so serious if I had known how senous it was, I would have let her take the medication sarfer Granny Lussa said "A doctor should have compassion Saving lives should always be the first priority, and you failed to do that Just leave, I can't accept you anymore!

Graney Luisa, Dr. Charlie wanted to plead but knowing Granny Luisa's temper, she thought better of it, "Granny Luisa, I'll leave now, please take cams of yourself

Graney Luisa didn't even look at her. She was really angry, she wasn't just putting on a show

As Or Charlie left, she kept looking back, hoping that Granny Luisa would change her mind and let her stay, but it never happened

Once

Charlie left, Granny Luisa turned to Patricia, "And you, I've told you countless times. Nelly is severely allergic to peanuts, and she can't be around them How could you forget such a serious issue? Letting you take care of Nelly was a total mistake."

Patricia had been following along, watching Cornelia go into the emergency room, her eyes swollen from tears of worry, "Granny Luisa, it's my fault, I don't deserve to take care of Helly'

Patricia dedicated her entire youth to the Hartley family and regarded Marcus as her own son Granny Luisa eventually softened at her tears, "Whether you stay or leave, let Helly decide"

Patricia wiped away her tears again, Granny Luisa, I can't take care of Nelly anymore, I'm afraid I'll make more serious mistakes I didn't deliberately forget about Helly's peanut allergy Lately I've been so absent-minded, I cant remember things"

Granny Luisa probably understood why. Patricia had always treated Marcus as her own son, and she also liked Cornelia, always hoping that they could be happy forever

Marcus and Cornelia, living a peaceful life, suddenly announced their divorce, which was like a bolt from the blue for Patricia. She couldn't accept this reality, every day hoping that they could reconcile. Thinking about these things, she naturally couldn't focus on other things.

Granny Luisa gently patted her shoulder, "Patricia, you need to accept the fact that Marcus and Cornelia are divorced, don't let your thoughts wander Patricia still didn't want to give up, "Granny Luisa, Comelia is pregnant now.

Could she reconcile with Marcus for the sake of the child?"

Granny Luisa answered, "No way. Comelia is very strong-minded, she would never forgive a man who betrayed her"

Patricia was speechless, 'So... Was there really no hope for Marcus and Cornelia?

Granny Luisa looked back. In the hospital corridor, a man named Jarvis was always by Grandpa Augustine's side. He was calm and composed, and it was him who brought Comelia to the hospital in time today, otherwise the consequences could have been severe.

Granny Luisa had to admit, he was a very outstanding man, and he was definitely worthy of Cornelia.

Chapter 1280

Patricia piped up again, "Granny Luisa, how're you gonna explain this to Old Augustine?"

Granny Luisa shot back, "You guys are all my crew. If you screw up, it's on me."

Patricia felt guilty as hell, "I should apologize to him?"

Impulsive Vow to an Enigmatic Husband ( Cornelia

Chapter 1280

Granny Luisa retorted, "You? You seriously think you can handle this mess?"

They were talking about the Durans here, Augustine was the big shot in their circle. His granddaughter was almost killed because of them, did they think he would let it slide without a proper explanation?

Granny Luisa straightened herself up, walked back to Grandpa Augustine, "Old Augustine, the mess today was my people's fault, I'm here to apologize" Grandpa Augustine waved her off, "No need for apologies. Just take your people and leave. And promise me, none of you Hartleys will ever show up in front of Nelly"

Granny Luisa replied, "I consider Nelly my own granddaughter, there's no way I can avoid her. Plus, she's carrying a Hartley baby"

Grandpa Augustine snapped, "Your Hartley baby? We're not even sure if it's viable yet, and you're all ready to risk Nelly's life for it. And here you have the nerve to tell me you consider Nelly as your granddaughter. Tell me, if it were your own Briana, what would you have done?"

Granny Luisa never had such thoughts before, but if her people messed up, it was on her, it's my fault. But I promise you, nothing like this will ever happen again."

Grandpa Augustine replied, "There's no 'again! Nelly and Marcus are divorced, she's got nothing to do with your family Don't bother her again, let her start a new life, and that's the best thing you can do for her

With such a stern rejection from Grandpa Augustine, could Granny Luisa even stay here? She opened her mouth to say something, but was interrupted by a sudden voice

"Granny Luisa, something's up" Her driver ran in, panting.

Granny Luisa asked, "What's got you so worked up?"

The driver handed his phone to Granny Luisa, "The whole world is talking about this"

Granny Luisa looked at the headline on the screen, "The Hartley Group changes hands! Former CEO Brennen Hartley reclaims the throne"

Granny Luisa quickly dialed Marcus's number. Sure enough, it was Ben who picked up, "Granny Luisa, did you see the news?"

Granny Luisa demanded, "Put Marcus on."

Ben replied, "Granny Luisa, President Hartley is tied up at the moment, he can't take your call. But about the Hartley Group, don't worry, everything's going according to President Hartley's plan."

Granny Luisa snapped, "Unless he's on his deathbed and can't pick up the phone, get him on the line"

After hearing this, there was a long silence from Ben on the other
