

The Mans Decree Chapter 2661 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2661-Ebenез exited the room and made his way toward Emerald Cauldron Sect's warehouse.

The disciples guarding the warehouse were all under his command, so when they saw him arriving, they didn't attempt to stop him.

Once he was inside the warehouse, Ebenез walked to a corner and opened a secret room.

The room was filled with an array of high-grade pills and various herbs, all neatly arranged.

Without any hesitation, Ebenез swiftly collected numerous pills and herbs before stashing them into a cloth bag. He then took out a charm and placed it gently on the ground.

Biting his finger, he let a drop of blood fall onto the charm. Soon, the intricate arcane array inscribed on the charm began to glow with radiant light. Stepping into the arcane array, Ebenез's body gradually faded from view.

When he emerged again, he found himself in a pitch-black space, surrounded by flowing black mist. In front of him stood a man engulfed in what seemed like burning flames, watching him silently.

"Has the time finally come?" The man spoke slowly, addressing Ebenез.

Ebenез shook his head. "No, but I need to utilize you ahead of schedule. I need you to kill someone for me."

"Kill someone?" The man froze briefly, and he appeared somewhat surprised as he asked, "Who do you want me to kill?"

"Faiyar, I saved your life and nurtured you for all these years so that you would obey my commands without question. Whatever task I assign you, you will execute it without hesitation, understood?" Ebenез's response was cold and firm.

Faiyar didn't reply to that, but the flames around him intensified, clearly showing his dissatisfaction. Despite so, he managed to keep his emotions in check and refrained from erupting in anger.

Seeing Faiyar's reaction, Ebenezer felt satisfied and tossed the herbs and pills he held in his hand toward him.

"Here, these are Emerald Cauldron Sect's top-grade pills and herbs. Naturally, I won't let you work for nothing. Once I become the sect leader, there will be no need for you and your kind to hide anymore. Right now, you demons are nothing more than despised vermins. If it weren't for me back then, you and your subordinates would have died a miserable death!" Ebenezer proclaimed.

He had risked everything to save Faiyar back in the day, all with the goal of having the latter's help in seizing the position of sect leader one day.

Despite his seemingly lackluster performance and poor alchemy skills within Emerald Cauldron Sect, Ebenezer's actions were merely a ruse to deceive Hosen.

In reality, his ambition was no less than that of Hosen's.

"I understand. I'll send someone to take care of it right away. Just let me know who the target is and leave the information for me," Faiyar finally replied.

"No. I can't take any chances. You must personally lead the team to handle this. The person we're dealing with is very powerful, and we can't afford to be careless. If this person remains alive, it will jeopardize my quest to become the sect leader," Ebenezer emphasized.

"All right. I'll lead the team myself, then," Faiyar conceded with a nod.

After leaving Kai's information behind, Ebenezer vanished instantly and reappeared back in the warehouse.

"Just you wait, Kai. The consequences of crossing me will be something you won't ever forget!" His eyes gleamed with fierce determination as he walked out of the warehouse.

Meanwhile, inside the secret cave, Ghaylen and Kai convened with Viola once more. Their objective was to devise a plan for her to seamlessly blend in during the upcoming opening of the medicinal pool in a few days.

Unlike their previous encounter, Viola's attitude toward Kai had noticeably improved, and a hint of bashfulness could be seen in her expression.

Having been saved by Kai, Viola couldn't help but feel remorseful for her misunderstanding and actions against him.

"Kai, I want to apologize for what happened a few days ago. I've checked, and I realized that you didn't actually touch me," she said earnestly, extending her apology to Kai.

"Well, it's a relief that you've checked it yourself. Otherwise, my reputation would have been completely tarnished..." Kai feigned a pained expression.

Upon hearing this, Viola furrowed her brows and retorted, "You rascal, would it really have hurt you that much to have slept with me? I might not be as pretty as those other women you've been with, but I'm not that bad either, am I?"

The Mans Decree Chapter 2662 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2662-"You're right. You're not bad at all," Kai replied with a smile. "Just try to be a little gentler in your demeanor and maybe hold back from resorting to violence at the drop of a hat."

"You..." Infuriated, Viola raised her hand, ready to strike Kai once more.

"See? You can't just go around hitting people like that. It's not very ladylike." Kai quickly retreated, seeking refuge behind Ghaylen.

Seeing the playful banter between Kai and Viola, Ghaylen allowed an amused smile to form.

"Mr. Chance, why don't you step outside for a moment? I need to discuss something with Ms. Viola," he said to Kai.

"Sure. I'll wait for you outside," Kai replied and promptly left the cave.

The moment he was gone, Viola inquired, "Mr. Samoll, what was it you wanted to discuss?"

"Ms. Viola, what are your thoughts on Kai as a person?" Ghaylen asked.

Although puzzled by his question, Viola still answered truthfully, "To be honest, he doesn't strike me as the most trustworthy person, but oddly enough, I do feel a sense of security when I'm around him."

“Ms. Viola, let me tell you this, Kai is no ordinary man. Despite being only at Manifestor Realm, he was able to single-handedly slay Bilius. Even the formidable ultimate demon beast within Octo Ruler couldn’t win against him. Besides, he owns numerous precious treasures, including the legendary Divine Cauldron coveted by the alchemy world. Although I haven’t unraveled his true identity yet, his courage and strength are anything but ordinary. I wouldn’t be surprised if he turns out to be an esteemed heir from a powerful family!” Ghaylen praised Kai with great admiration.

“Mr. Samoll, what exactly are you trying to tell me?” Viola asked, her curiosity piqued.

“Ms. Viola, given our current strength, it would be quite challenging to reclaim Emerald Cauldron Sect from Hosen’s grasp, especially now that he’s allied with Norwal City. Therefore, if we want to take back the sect, we’ll need allies, and Kai is the perfect candidate for that!” Ghaylen explained earnestly.

“Then ask him to help us. What’s the problem? After all, he has been helping you frequently, hasn’t he?” Viola pointed out, well aware of Kai’s previous assistance to Ghaylen.

“Well, there’s something you may not be aware of, Ms. Viola. The reason Kai has sought refuge in Emerald Cauldron Sect is to await the opening of the medicinal pool. Once it opens, he might leave immediately after soaking in it. Hence, if we want Kai to wholeheartedly assist us, we must... we must...” Ghaylen trailed off, appearing rather embarrassed.

“What is it that we must do? Just tell me directly, Mr. Samoll,” Viola urged, growing more impatient.

Gritting his teeth, Ghaylen finally revealed his plan. “Ms. Viola, you must become Kai’s partner. Once you two have slept together, he won’t be able to refuse to help you.”

Viola’s face flushed red when she heard this, and she quickly shook her head, saying, “That won’t do; I’m not that kind of person...”

“Ms. Viola, don’t you want to reclaim Emerald Cauldron Sect from Hosen’s grasp? Are you willing to let all the hard work of the previous generations of sect leaders go to waste? Your father dedicated himself to the prosperity of the sect, building its illustrious reputation. Yet now, that very reputation is being tarnished by Hosen. Will you stand idly by while the former sect leader’s legacy remains unavenged?” Ghaylen purposely brought up Viola’s father, knowing that if they could get Kai on their side, Emerald Cauldron Sect would be within their grasp.

“I...” Viola hesitated, biting her lip tightly. After a moment of contemplation, she said, “Even if I wanted to, Kai might not be willing. After all, all his women are far more beautiful than me.”

“Ms. Viola, no matter how stunning Kai’s companions are, they are not by his side now. As the saying goes, a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. As a man, I understand their nature best. If you take the initiative, Kai won’t be able to resist and will surely fall for your charms,” Ghaylen reassured.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2663 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2663-“Okay, I’ll give it a try.” Viola made up her mind and decided to give it a try.

“Ms. Viola, I have a bottle of aphrodisiac. If Kai remains resistant, you can use it on him. He won’t be able to resist you that way,” Ghaylen said, pulling out a bottle from his pocket.

Viola accepted the bottle from him as her cheeks turned pink in embarrassment. It felt embarrassing for her to take the initiative.

However, she had no choice but to go all out for Emerald Cauldron Sect’s sake.

When Viola emerged from the cave, Kai was leaning against a tree, whistling in boredom.

He was taken aback to see Viola coming out alone. “Why are you out here? Where is Mr. Samoll?”

“Mr. Samoll has something else going on. It has been some time since I last walked around. Can you go on a walk with me?” Viola asked softly.

Kai was surprised to hear her soft voice. He had no idea why she had changed her attitude toward him.

As he remained silent, Viola pouted and added, “Why? Do you not want to go on a walk with me?”

Kai nearly lost his cool upon hearing her coy voice.

“Okay, let’s go,” he agreed with a nod.

Kai and Viola walked through the forest together. Viola appeared to be filled with excitement as she took in the surroundings, likely due to having been confined to the cave for an extended period.

Taking in the wonder and joy on her face, he suddenly felt bad for her.

Despite her young age, she had been burdened with significant responsibilities. He wondered whether she had the capability to wrest Emerald Cauldron Sect from Hosen’s control.

Suddenly, Viola asked, “Kai, after coming to Emerald Cauldron Sect and soaking in the medicinal pool, where are you planning to go next?”

Kai was caught off guard and unsure of how to respond.

His plate was already full with numerous tasks: locating the Divine Bow, rescuing Josephine and the other women, searching for Infinides to save Ira, and journeying to Fire Incineration Sect to save the leader of Divine Smithing Sect. Explaining any of these matters to Viola would be a complex endeavor.

As he remained silent, Viola quickly offered a reassuring smile and pressed on, “If it’s too complicated to explain, don’t worry about it. I actually have another question for you. What are your thoughts on Emerald Cauldron Sect? We’re the sole alchemy-focused sect within a thousand-mile radius, earning respect from numerous other sects. Moreover, we’ve established collaborations and acquired abundant resources. Would you be interested in having access to all these resources?” Viola fixed her gaze on him, her eyes filled with a hint of fondness.

Kai avoided her gaze and replied, “I’m not sure I fully understand what you’re talking about.”

“Okay, I’ll be straightforward. I want to become your partner. By then, the entire Emerald Cauldron Sect will be yours, including me. I might not be as good as your other lovers, but I will do my best to satisfy you.”

Viola went all out, her cheeks turning pink in embarrassment.

“Y-You want to be my partner?” Kai could barely hide his surprise.

He had no idea Viola was bold enough to say that out loud.

“Yes!” Viola nodded. “If you agree to help me get Emerald Cauldron Sect back, I’ll be your lover. You’ll get both fame and fortune. Isn’t that good?”

Hearing that, Kai chuckled aloud. It looks like Viola said that only so that I would agree to help her get Emerald Cauldron Sect back.

“Why are you laughing? Did I say anything wrong? After you help me regain control of Emerald Cauldron Sect, and we become partners, you can stay here and cultivate in peace. The entire sect will be yours. Whenever you need me, I’ll be at your beck and call,” Viola said, sounding serious about it.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2664 -

The Mans Decree Chapter 2664-“You’re right. If we become partners for life, I can get both Emerald Cauldron Sect and you. However, there’s no way I can stay in Emerald Cauldron Sect forever. I have many other things to accomplish! The sects and factions under my control are far more powerful than Emerald Cauldron Sect. I also have a lot of other confidantes, so giving them up for you is impossible,” Kai said calmly.

Viola’s expression briefly faltered before a hint of disappointment crept in.

She had not expected Kai’s reply.

His words left her feeling deeply embarrassed, yet they also served as evidence that Kai was far from an ordinary individual.

The fact that the sects and factions under his control surpassed the might of Emerald Cauldron Sect suggested that he hailed from a wealthy and influential lineage.

It was clear that Kai had no use for the mere resources and forces of Emerald Cauldron Sect.

“I’m sorry,” Viola apologized awkwardly before hurrying away.

To ease the awkward situation, Kai offered, "I didn't agree to be your partner, but I can help you get back Emerald Cauldron Sect. After all, I am now a disciple of the sect."

"Really?" Viola exclaimed, surprised by the offer, before breaking into a grateful smile. "Thank you, I appreciate it."

"It's getting late, so we should get back. Otherwise, Mr. Samoll might overthink things again," Kai told her.

Viola nodded and followed him back.

They had barely taken two steps when a few figures in black blocked their path.

Kai's brows knitted together, and he swiftly positioned himself in front of Viola in a protective stance. Although it was an instinctive reaction, Viola couldn't help but feel a sense of security at the sight of his broad shoulders.

"Who are you?" Kai asked.

A man whose body was on fire stepped forward to ask, "Are you Kai Chance?"

It was none other than Faiyar, the demon Ebenezer had hired to kill Kai.

"Yes, I am Kai Chance!" Kai gave a curt nod.

He sensed their auras and immediately discovered that they were demons.

The man enveloped in flames exuded an aura reminiscent of Skylar's.

Kai was confused. Aren't demons despised by everyone in Ethereal Realm? Why do they have the guts to reveal themselves in public?

"That means you're our target," Faiyar said.

He waved his hand, and a flame appeared on his palm.

"Wait up. You need to explain why you're here. Why are you seeking me? I don't believe we're acquainted. Moreover, you're demons, yet you're revealing yourselves openly. Aren't you concerned about being discovered?" Kai inquired, clearly puzzled.

Faiyar responded with a cold snort. "That's not your concern. In any case, someone has ordered me to end your life. You're going to die soon, so there's nothing you can do even if you discover our identities."

He compressed the flame in his palm until it burst into an explosion.

Boom!

The fiery eruption sent out shockwaves, enveloping an area spanning hundreds of miles.

It was evident that Faiyar had established a protective arcane array, confining his aura within it. This way, the telltale demon energies wouldn't radiate outward and attract unwanted attention.

Kai's frown deepened when he sensed the aura.

"Do you have the Inferno Devil's Form?" he asked.

He couldn't help but feel that this man's fiery aura resembled that of Skylar's Inferno Devil's Form.

Faiyar's expression shifted to one of surprise upon hearing that. "You're familiar with the Inferno Devil's Form? Well, my body isn't anything extraordinary, but I've mastered the Enchanted Flame. It can reduce anything to ashes," he proclaimed with a hint of pride, clearly confident in his abilities.
