

The Mans Decree Chapter 2775 -

Kai ignored her and simply glanced at the heavenly thunder tree before jumping straight at a heavenly thunder fruit.

He activated Golem Body in mid-air and covered his entire body with shiny, golden scales. Tyrone and the old woman gasped in shock when they saw Kai don his golden armor.

Even Salazar's jaw dropped when he saw that. It was their first time witnessing Kai's Golem Body in action. With his entire body covered in golden armor, Kai reached out and grabbed the first heavenly thunder fruit.

A huge lightning bolt then came from the tree and struck Kai square on his body. Golem Body emitted waves of golden light as it resisted the lightning attack.

Boom! The lightning bolt struck Kai back down and left a charred spot on his body. Quite a number of Golem Body's scales had disappeared as well.

"Hmph! So much for all that big talk he made! He still got struck down by lightning anyway!" the old woman said with a disdainful snort.

Tyrone, too, had disappointment written all over his face when he saw that. He had truly thought that Kai would be able to withstand the lightning bolts and pluck the heavenly thunder fruits.

Salazar gulped nervously when he saw Kai get struck down by the lightning bolt. Our bodily spirits are still in Kai's hands! If he dies, then we won't survive either! Suddenly, Kai, who was falling down to the ground, stopped his descent and jumped up again.

Right when another lightning bolt was about to strike at Kai, he grabbed hold of the heavenly thunder fruit and yanked hard at it, removing it from the heavenly thunder tree in an instant.

Kai's lips curled into a smile as he began falling back down, but the lightning bolt was already inches away from his head.

Kai knew that the lightning bolt was too fast for him to dodge, so he had no choice but to receive it head-on. He channeled his energy to his elixir field and unleashed the Power of Three, forming a protective shield of light around his body.

Boom! The lightning bolt broke through his shield and hit him on his body yet again. The speed of Kai's descent increased tremendously, and he ended up crashing to the ground. The impact was so great that it created a huge crater where he landed.

"Mr. Chance!" Salazar shouted anxiously while running toward the crater. Tyrone and the old woman, too, ran forward to check on Kai. Being hit by two lightning bolts in a row would normally kill a person for sure.

Upon arriving at the crater, however, they saw that Kai was completely unscathed. He stood in the middle of the crater and admired the heavenly thunder fruit in his hand.

Everyone was stunned speechless when they saw that. Not only did Kai survive being struck by two lightning bolts, but they didn't even do any damage to him whatsoever.

"I-Is that guy even human?" Tyrone exclaimed in shock. "His physical body is way too powerful! I bet even a Tribulator warrior isn't this powerful!" the old woman added.

Kai was so engrossed in examining the heavenly thunder fruit in his hand that he didn't notice their reactions. The heavenly thunder fruit emitted a faint glow, and one could clearly see tiny lightning bolts flashing inside it.

Kai could feel the powerful aura coming from the heavenly thunder fruit simply by holding it in his hand. Suddenly, some information on Thunder Palm flashed past Kai's mind.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2776 -

It seemed that the heavenly thunder fruit had some sort of connection with Thunder Palm. Will Thunder Palm become stronger if I eat this heavenly thunder fruit?

"Are you okay, Mr. Chance?" Crixus called out to him. He got worried when he saw Kai standing there completely motionless.

“I’m fine!” Kai replied as he put the heavenly thunder fruit into his pocket and jumped out of the crater. Tyrone and the old woman had conflicted looks on their faces as they stared at Kai.

“Well? Do you believe that I can pluck the heavenly thunder fruits on my own now? All you have to do is stall the guys from the Nesser family while I pluck as many heavenly thunder fruits as possible. You saw how hard it was for me to get a single heavenly thunder fruit, so you should understand why I can’t share it with you guys equally. You’ll get three at most!” Kai said to Tyrone and the old woman.

In reality, Kai wasn’t even planning on giving them any of the heavenly thunder fruits. He only said all that to earn their trust.

Besides, Kai knew full well that it would be impossible for him to get all ten heavenly thunder fruits even with his tough physical body and Golem Body.

The lightning bolts would surely have him reduced to ashes if he were to go for all ten heavenly thunder fruits.

Tyrone stared at Kai for a few seconds before shifting his gaze toward the old woman. “All right, we’ll settle for three, but you need to pick up the pace. I don’t think we’ll be able to hold Cameron off for long!”

Tyrone knew that they could only stall Cameron through lies as they were no match for him at all. A single slap from Cameron could very well kill them on the spot.

Even so, they would not be able to stall Cameron for long with their lies, so they needed Kai to be quick about it as well. “Don’t worry!” Kai replied with a nod..

Tyrone then led the old woman out the cave. “Are you sure you can trust Tyrone, Mr. Chance? There’s no way he’d let you leave if you ended up severely wounded by the lightning bolts!” Crixus warned Kai.

Kai’s lips curled into a smile as he replied, “There’s no way I’d trust him! I will never let him have the heavenly thunder fruits, I want you three to search for other ways out of this cave. I doubt Thunderhawk’s cave has only one exit! If you guys manage to find another exit, I’ll flee through it after getting the heavenly thunder fruits!”

Salazar nodded when he found out that Kai had come up with a plan. They then split up and started searching the cave for another exit. Kai took a deep breath and jumped up the heavenly thunder tree again.

Meanwhile, the massacre continued outside Hawk King Cave. In order to keep the cultivators out of Hawk King Cave, the demon beasts attacked them with everything they had.

Cameron was engaged in a fierce battle with the huge Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk, and they were both evenly matched for the time being. As no one noticed Tyrone and the old woman coming out of the cave, they quickly joined the battle.

This time, however, they secretly told the cultivators, whom Tyrone had brought from the airship, to conserve their strength in case the Nesser family's men tried to hog the heavenly thunder fruits for themselves.

As Tyrone was the one who brought them over, they believed him readily and began holding back on their attacks to conserve their strength. Only the men from the Nesser family were giving it their all while fighting the demon beasts.

Realizing that he could not kill the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk swiftly, Cameron shouted, "Mr. Stone, come give me a hand with two of your men! Let's kill this Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk together!"

"Hang in there, Mr. Nesser! We've got our hands tied up here as well!" Tyrone shouted back at him.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2777 -

After knocking the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk back with a palm strike, Cameron glanced in Tyrone's direction. He exploded with anger when he saw that Tyrone and his cultivators were hardly putting in any effort.

The fact that a cultivator at Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm and a low-level demon beast were evenly matched made it incredibly obvious that they were only pretending to fight.

The Nesser family's men, on the other hand, were covered in wounds. There were dozens of them at first, but only five or six of them were still alive. Cameron got so angry that he jumped into the air and landed in front of Tyrone.

“What the f*ck are you guys doing? You’ve brought so many men with you, so why aren’t they even putting in any effort?” Cameron questioned him furiously..

“Nonsense, Mr. Nesser! It was us who killed most of these demon beasts here!” “Now that we’ve killed most of these demon beasts here, let us team up and kill this. Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk! After that, we’ll enter the cave and share the heavenly thunder fruits!”

Tyrone shorted inwardly. Hmph! There aren’t hundreds of heavenly thunder fruits in that cave! Even if we did kill this Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk, there’s no way Cameron would share the heavenly thunder fruits with me!

However, he couldn’t afford to argue with Cameron as he needed to keep him from entering the cave to buy Kai some time.

Tyrone acted weak as he replied, “I do want to help you kill that Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk, Mr. Nesser, but it is far too powerful for us to handle. You are the only one here who is strong enough to fight it. Besides, we’re all exhausted now, so we won’t be able to do much anyway. I think you should let us take a short break to regain our strength. Once we’re rested, we’ll team up and kill that Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk together!”

Cameron was livid, but he knew it wasn’t the time to go against Tyrone just yet..

The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk is still alive. If I attack Tyrone now, we might all end up being killed by the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk! Cameron nodded helplessly and said, “All right, then. We’ll take a short break...”

The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk, too, was resting atop a gigantic tree. As its duty was to protect the heavenly thunder fruits, it chose not to attack as long as Cameron and his men stayed out of the cave.

As long as the heavenly thunder fruits were safe, it would be able to answer to Thunderhawk when the latter returned.

The sounds of battle ceased as the cultivators and demon beasts all took a break in unison. Of course, Tyrone was incredibly anxious. He hoped that Kai would be able to pluck all of the heavenly thunder fruits.

He was planning to create a chaotic scene after Kai plucked all the heavenly thunder fruits so he could escort Kai out of the cave without being noticed.

Meanwhile, Kai's Golem Body had been completely destroyed, and his body was charred all over from the lightning bolts. Even so, he remained completely unscathed.

"If this is what happens if I collect two heavenly thunder fruits, then I will probably be at my limits if I collect one more," Kai mumbled to himself as he felt his internal organs boiling within him. "We've found another exit, Mr. Chance!" Salazar exclaimed excitedly while running toward him.

They had managed to find an exit after searching the cave thoroughly, and Salazar had come to report their findings as soon as he could.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2778 -

Kai felt relieved when the Three Bandits told him they had found another exit. Even if the men from the Nesser family came in, he could still get out of there safely.

"I'll pluck another heavenly thunder fruit and we're pulling out. The strength of the heavenly thunder from the heavenly thunder tree is ridiculous!" Kai said.

His body couldn't withstand another series of heavenly thunder strikes from the heavenly thunder tree anymore.

Taking in Kai's charred body, Salazar couldn't help asking, "Mr. Chance, can your body take it? Please don't put your life at risk!" He didn't want Kai to die because the three of them would suffer the same fate.

"What nonsense are you talking about, Salazar? Mr. Chance will surely be okay!" Crixus reprimanded Salazar before turning to Kai. "Mr. Chance, you look like you've reached your limit. Don't force yourself!"

"Don't worry. I'll be fine." Kai moved toward the heavenly thunder tree once again. Before Kai could reach the heavenly thunder fruits, he was struck by the heavenly thunder tree.

He gritted his teeth and endured the pain as he grabbed one of the heavenly thunder fruits before plucking it off the tree.

Boom! Right after Kai plucked the heavenly thunder fruit, he was struck by another bolt of lightning. This time around, Kai was flung away into the distance like a kite with a broken thread and landed heavily on the ground.

“Mr. Chance!” The Three Bandits rushed toward Kai. “Let’s retreat! We need to leave now,” Kai instructed the Three Bandits.

At that point, Kai appeared to be extremely weak. Seeing that, the Three Bandits hurriedly carried Kai and ran toward the other exit.

Meanwhile, the people outside the cave were still resting, and the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk wasn’t attacking anyone. Both parties seemed to be minding their own business. Soon, however, the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk that was resting on a tree suddenly widened its eyes.

It let out a shriek and rose into the air. Jolted in surprise, Cameron immediately got ready to fight the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk.

To Cameron’s surprise, the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk flapped its wings and flew into the cave instead of launching an attack.

Cameron was baffled when he saw the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk flying into the cave in a state of panic. What is the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk doing?

Tyrone felt trouble was on the horizon when he saw the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk flying into the cave. Kai is still plucking the heavenly thunder fruits. If the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk flies in, he will be doomed. I won’t be able to share the heavenly thunder fruits with him anymore!

Tyrone shot the elderly woman a look, and they both dashed into the cave. A sense of foreboding crept into Cameron’s heart when he saw Tyrone going after the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk. He led his men into the cave as well.

After they followed the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk into Hawk King Cave, they saw the heavenly thunder tree, and most of the cultivators were in awe. Instead of stopping on the heavenly thunder tree, the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk flew in another direction.

Everyone at the scene was bewildered upon seeing the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk flying away. What’s going on? What is the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk doing? Why is it not guarding the heavenly thunder tree?

Despite having those questions in their minds, none of them bothered to go after the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk because they spotted the heavenly thunder fruits. Tyrone grew anxious when he couldn't find Kai and the Three Bandits in the cave.

Seeing that only seven heavenly thunder fruits were left, Tyrone cursed, "F*ck! I've been tricked! That fellow ran away with three heavenly thunder fruits!"

Cameron soon noticed there were fewer heavenly thunder fruits left on the tree and realized why Tyrone had been stalling outside the cave.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2779 -

"Tyrone, how dare you collude with others to fool me? You were after the heavenly thunder fruits yourself!" Cameron thundered and enveloped Tyrone and the elderly woman with a wave of menacing aura.

Tyrone almost peed his pants when he felt Cameron's aura. If Cameron wants to kill us now, he can do so with his thoughts!

After all, the gap between their cultivation level was too great. Cameron could easily smash the two into pieces with his aura.

"Calm down, Mr. Nesser! I was tricked by Kai! Luckily for us, he only took three heavenly. thunder fruits. There is still plenty left on the tree. I'm willing to let you have all the remaining heavenly thunder fruits, Mr. Nesser. I won't fight with you!" Tyrone quickly apologized to Cameron.

Only then did Tyrone withdraw his aura. Fortunately, Kai had only plucked three of the heavenly thunder fruits. If he had plucked all of them, Cameron would've killed Tyrone there and then.

Right then, a few cultivators had already jumped onto the heavenly thunder tree, and they were reaching out toward the heavenly thunder fruits.

Before they could reach the fruits, however, a few lightning bolts flashed across the heavenly thunder tree. The cultivators were all struck by the lightning bolts and fell off the heavenly thunder tree.

The weaker cultivators died on the spot, while the stronger ones had their bodies pierced by the lightning. Although the stronger ones survived, they had lost their aura. The other cultivators, who had been filled with excitement a few moments ago, were dumbfounded when they saw what had happened.

They also understood why the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk didn't bother to stay and guard the heavenly thunder tree. It was because the heavenly thunder tree was well-guarded by heavenly thunder.

"Where's my Beast Mirror?" Cameron shouted, and a member of the Nesser family quickly delivered him a bronze mirror.

With the bronze mirror in his hand, Cameron approached the tree. The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk must've gone after Kai after he plucked the heavenly thunder fruits. I have to take the opportunity to grab a few heavenly thunder fruits for myself!

Cameron leaped into the air with the bronze mirror in his hand and reached toward a heavenly thunder fruit.

Boom! A lightning bolt was discharged, and Cameron instantly shielded himself with the bronze mirror. The lightning struck the bronze mirror and reflected off the mirror.

Although the lightning didn't strike Cameron directly, the force that struck the bronze mirror made him fall.

The crowd was filled with envy as they watched Cameron pluck the heavenly thunder fruit with ease with the bronze mirror in his hand. However, he was at Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm, so none of them dared to snatch it from him.

After that, Cameron kept the heavenly thunder fruit away and leaped into the air once again while holding the bronze mirror. This time, he quickly retreated after he plucked another heavenly thunder fruit.

That move was proven to be futile because, in the next moment, a lightning bolt was discharged from the heavenly thunder tree. Cameron used the same trick again by shielding himself with the bronze mirror.

However, something unexpected happened. Next, as another lightning bolt was discharged immediately after. Once again, Cameron held the bronze mirror tightly and shielded his body.

Boom! A loud, resounding noise split the air. Although the lightning bolt had been reflected, his bronze mirror had shattered. The intense reverberation from the impact made Cameron scowl.

Cameron was heartbroken when he looked at his broken bronze mirror after he landed on the ground. This is the Nesser family's heirloom, and it's ruined! I don't get it! I had to use a bronze mirror to pluck two heavenly thunder fruits! How did Kai pluck three heavenly thunder fruits and get away?

The Mans Decree Chapter 2780 -

"Dad, what should we do next?" Chev asked, looking at the broken bronze mirror and the heavenly thunder fruits on the heavenly thunder tree.

Cameron was filled with reluctance when he gazed at the heavenly thunder fruits. "Let's retreat. We need to get out of here as quickly as we can."

Cameron knew they couldn't pluck the heavenly thunder fruits without the bronze mirror. Now I know why Thunderhawk dares to leave and let a Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk at Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm guard Hawk King Cave. The power of heavenly thunder isn't something an ordinary person can withstand! Heck, even a Tribulator warrior will have trouble plucking the fruits on the heavenly thunder tree!

After plucking two heavenly thunder fruits, Cameron led the members of the Nesser family out of Hawk King Cave in a hurry.

Tyrone and the other cultivators were reluctant to leave. They stared blankly at the heavenly thunder tree. The heavenly thunder fruits are right before our eyes, but there's nothing we can do to grab them! This is devastating!

In the end, a couple of cultivators gave in to temptation and unleashed all the aura they had to dash toward the heavenly thunder fruits.

Needless to say, they were struck by the lightning bolts, and their bodies vanished into thin air before they could come close to the heavenly thunder fruits. That scene humbled the crowd, and none of them dared to take another step closer toward the fruits.

"Let's go..." Tyrone heaved a sigh and headed out of the cave. The other cultivators followed suit. Since we can't pluck any heavenly thunder fruits, staying here longer will only lead to death. If the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk returns, we won't be able to outrun it!

Meanwhile, the Three Bandits were carrying Kai and running for their lives because the huge Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk was on their tails.

The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk was as fast as lightning, and it was closing in on them rapidly. "F*ck! Why won't it stop chasing us?" Crixus was sweating bullets.

"It must be because I plucked the heavenly thunder fruits! If this goes on, we're all going to die..." Kai uttered weakly.

Kai had used up a huge chunk of his spiritual energy when he plucked those three heavenly thunder fruits. He was too weak to deal with the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk.

As for the Three Bandits, they were even less capable to deal with the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk. Right when Kai and the others thought they were about to get caught, a series of loud roars rang out in the sky.

The four lifted their heads and saw three wyverns charging toward them. One of the wyverns flapped its wings gently, and a gust of wind carried the four onto the wyvern's back.

Immediately after, the three wyverns flew forward at top speed. Just like that, the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk was left in the dust.

Shriek! The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk screeched in anger and flew back toward the cave. Kai and the Three Bandits heaved sighs of relief as they sat on the wyvern's back. If these three wyverns hadn't shown up, that Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk would've eaten us alive!

The Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk returned to Hawk King Cave and noticed that there were even fewer heavenly thunder fruits left. Enraged, it flew out of the cave.

While Kai and the others were saved by the wyverns, Tyrone and the others weren't as lucky. Soon, the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk caught up to them.

The cultivators led by Tyrone fled in various directions as the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk went on a killing spree. By the time they got out of the Bloodthirsty Thunderhawk's territory, only a few out of the almost one hundred cultivators on the airship had survived.

Although Tyrone and the elderly woman were utterly disheveled in the end, they were lucky enough to survive to see another day. Tyrone and the rest of the cultivators had to go to Jipsdale by foot, and they were all in a wretched state.
