

Chapter 692 He Is Liam

Javier himself who was just saved hadn't quite realized what happened to him yet.

It took a few seconds for him to come to and express his gratitude to Liam. "Buddy, thank you so much."

He had forgotten that a member of the Dark Night Organization of the Hoffman family was still here. A person like him wouldn't easily die.

Almost at the same time, Rennes regained his composure and squinted his eyes at Liam. After a few seconds, he recalled where he had seen him. It was the same man who destroyed his wedding on the gambling ship.

But... Cannon had gone to the delta region earlier to get rid of this man. With a frown, he murmured, "It's you. Why are you still alive? Didn't my brother go to kill you?"

Liam sneered and spat back, "You're really heartless if you are aware of your brother's transformation. Cannon was completely transformed into a monster."

Rennes shouted in irritation, "Do you think I wanted him to turn out like that? Of course not! You caused this!

Don't you dare pin it on me. You're lucky because I have something important to deal with today and don't have time to personally take care of you. I'll let you kill yourself. That way, it'll be fast, save us some time and save you from a long period of suffering."

Liam's face was filled with disdain as he assessed the other man.

Cannon only had that astonishing strength after his complete transformation. Liam doubted that Rennes could be as strong as Cannon was.

There was only one way to be certain. In a split second, Liam aimed a kick at Rennes' head.

He was precise, and used all of his strength.

Rennes had a quick reflex and blocked the attack with his hand. The force of Liam's attack pushed him back only a few steps, already proving that he was strong enough to withstand a full attack from Liam.

After that, they both stared each other down.

Rennes had seen Liam's strength a few times, but this time was different. He had a feeling that it wouldn't be easy to neutralize him.

His palm was still numb from blocking that one kick just now.

Liam, on the other hand, reevaluated the leader of Black spider.

Sure enough, Rennes wasn't as strong as Cannon after his transformation. However, even without the transformation, he was already very powerful. Rennes could very well be regarded as a force among the masters.

What Liam had to do now was finish this battle as soon as possible because he wasn't fighting on familiar ground.

Without further ado, Liam launched a second attack. His kicks and moves were so powerful, all aiming at Rennes' vital parts.

Rennes kept stepping back, blocking Liam's attacks and dodging.

Many trees around them were broken by their strength as they both fought. They had fought thirty times already, and no one had gained the upper hand.

At least, that was how it seemed to those watching.

But in reality, Rennes had defended more than he had attacked, and now, while Liam's breathing was still even, Rennes' breathing was a little quick.

For warriors, uneven breathing was a bad sign.

Rennes soon realized that he was in a weak position.

He tried to distance himself from Liam to buy some time to even his breathing.

Naturally, Liam wouldn't let him get a second. Each move came with more force, and in no time, Rennes' breathing was more uneven. Even his moves became sloppy.

After another twenty moves, Rennes finally gave up, having reached his limit.

"Go to hell!" Liam shouted and threw one last punch.

Rennes saw the attack coming, but couldn't dodge. Liam hit him with all his force, sending him back dozens of steps. He fell down on one knee and spat out a mouthful of blood.

Rennes couldn't believe it. He couldn't have lost to a nobody.

He wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth with his arm. With a grim face, he stood up and stated, "You are definitely not an ordinary member of the Dark Night Organization. So, who the hell are you?"

When Timothy heard this, he saw it as a chance to save his head. As if grasping at a life-saving straw, he shouted, "I know who he is! I know! Let me live and I'll tell you!"

Rennes nodded noncommittally and snapped, "Tell me!"

Chapter 692 He Is Liam

 +90 Points at most

Timothy seemed relieved that Rennes agreed to spare his life. He pointed at Liam and said, "He is the heir of the Hoffman family, Liam. The face you see is just his disguise."

 I want no ads >