

Chapter 693 Duel

Everyone gasped in shock at Timothy's words.

An excited Julie hid above the valley and pricked up her ears to hear what Liam would say.

Liam was shocked that Timothy had exposed his identity.

Then, he came to wonder how Timothy knew he was Liam in the first place. The only way he could have found out was through "Julie".

The thought that "Julie" had even told this important information to Timothy upset him even more.

Rennes too was staring at him, waiting for him to say something.

Since it was already out there, Liam didn't see the need to hide anymore. He cleared his throat lightly and said with confidence, "That's right. I am Liam!"

That said, Liam took off the fake face and revealed his true face.

Seeing that it was all true, not only was Rennes not scared, but he laughed. "Well, well, well... This is really a pleasant surprise. I only wanted to deal with this loser from the Ramirez family. I didn't think I would get you too. Since you've made things easy for me, I will get even with you and make you pay for your mistakes."

Liam was a little confused at what was going on. It had barely been a minute since he defeated Rennes, and now, he was talking quite confidently. Liam quickly got cautious. He looked at the two people behind Rennes who had been watching.

He understood that Rennes' renewed confidence must have come from these people behind him.

As if reading his mind, Rennes said over his shoulder to one of the two people behind him, "Boyd Estrada, I'll leave this man to you."

One of the two people slowly walked out from behind Rennes. He was dressed in purple and looked quite burly. His expression was very cold and could instill fear.

Then the man nodded curtly to Rennes and said, "I know what to do."

His tone and everything that went along with it put Liam on the look out.

The Dark Night Organization had collected some information about Boyd before. He wasn't a member of Rennes' Black Spider, but was the underling of his brother, Rohan.

This Boyd was only inferior to Rohan in the whole Duncan family.

Before Liam could complete his thought, Boyd was already launching an attack.

His opponent moved extraordinarily fast and was already in front of Liam.

Liam's fighting skills kicked in. He swung his left leg towards Boyd with great force.

Boyd quickly switched from sprinting to defending. He stopped in a hurry and raised his arm, connecting his left arm with Liam's leg.

A dull sound erupted from the contact.

Boyd then caught Liam's leg with his other hand, and without any hesitation, the two men went at it, punching each other mercilessly.

Liam realized something in fear as he fought against Boyd.

Boyd was stronger than Cannon who got stronger after his transformation.

At this point, even with Liam's strength, he realized that he couldn't gain the upper hand.

He couldn't make any mistakes now or act without thinking. He held the dark dagger carefully and cut Boyd's body several times. Boyd also had his own brass knuckles as a weapon, but Liam's dark dagger made of rare metals was more powerful.

Each time he was cut, a sound of metal colliding on metal rang out. Although Boyd successfully blocked Liam's attack several times, the sharpness of the dark dagger still left several wounds on his body.

However, Boyd kept attacking as if he didn't feel any pain or fatigue.

Just like Cannon, he couldn't be called a human being. With his attacks, Liam was forced to a position of defence. The two strenuous fights in a row had consumed a lot of his strength. If he continued like this, even if Boyd didn't defeat him, he would most probably die of exhaustion.

Thinking of this, Liam decided to stop defending and used the dagger to attack with all his might.

The sound of the two powerful men confronting each other echoed in the valley.

From the fiftieth move, Boyd gradually lost his confidence from Liam's crazy attack.

When it was the 130th attack, Liam let out a loud roar, holding the dagger tighter and going for Boyd's neck.

Boyd was about to turn to dodge, but Liam held the dagger down and instead punched him with all his strength.

The force of it hit Boyd directly in the gut, his muscles and bones of his limbs shattering. Slowly, he fell to the ground in a weak slump.

Also very weak, Liam tried to stand still, gasping for breath.
