

Chapter 698 Drastic Measures

It was a call from Julie who had come all the way here from the Sea God Island!

She had recently reached the delta region, accompanied by the old lady and Sarai. At that moment, Julie was making hand gestures, signaling for Sarai to interpret her words.

The call connected almost immediately.

However, the voice on the other end wasn't Liam's. It was a woman's. Julie felt very familiar with the voice, but couldn't quite place it!

"Who are you trying to reach?" Vivian inquired.

Caught off guard, Julie gestured to Sarai, who cautiously said, "Where's Liam? I'd like to see him."

Not pleased to hear a woman asking to see Liam, Vivian retorted, "Who might you be? I'll pass along the message."

Sarai, following Julie's guidance, replied, "I'm a friend of Liam in Kingland Group."

Vivian was taken aback!

Kingland Group!

In that case, there could be only one person among Liam's friends at Kingland Group who would be calling him.

That was the real Julie!

No one else would take such a step!

A chill ran down Vivian's spine. She quickly glanced over at Liam, who was sprawled out on the bed, snoring lightly. A sense of relief washed over her.

Vivian felt fortunate to have picked up the call.

Had Liam been the one to answer, her schemes would've fallen apart.

Quietly, she snuck out of the room, softly shutting the door behind her. Once she found a secluded spot, she feigned composure and said, "Ah, he's utterly drained today. Already in bed. Can you call him tomorrow?"

At this, Julie grew tense and directed Sarai to reply, "This is urgent. Could you wake him, please?"

Sensing Julie's persistence might cause issues, Vivian sighed and responded, "Look, he's really tired. How about we set up a meeting for tomorrow morning? I'll brief him when he's up."

Upon hearing this, Julie instructed Sarai to agree.

Vivian promptly ended the call. Julie sensed something wrong but was too preoccupied with her anticipation of seeing Liam to dwell on it.

The following morning, Riel escorted Jaxtyn to the Dark Night Organization's hospital in delta region.

Since Rennes was already aware of his identity, Liam openly declared who he was to the organization there.

The revelation, while not entirely unexpected, left them stunned.

Still, they unanimously acknowledged Liam's capabilities and readily accepted his guidance.

Liam rushed into the hospital, anxious to catch up on Jaxtyn's condition after a prolonged absence.

Vivian was also there, but her thoughts were clearly elsewhere.

Ever since that phone call from the previous night, she had messaged Timothy, urging him to deal with Julie. If her real identity got out, Timothy's plans would crumble.

She glanced nervously at her watch, believing Timothy's men should be closing in on their target.

The thought of this deepened her resentment.

"Julie, you managed to survive last time. How fortunate. But you shouldn't have tempted fate by returning. If you're going to corner me like this, don't be surprised when I take drastic measures," Vivian muttered under her breath.