An Understated Dominance by Marina Chapter 1924

Chapter 1924

“Young man, you didn’t even look at the condition and just said you were sure of the cure. Are you a little too proud?” The village doctor was obviously dissatisfied.

Although he is a barefoot doctor, he has more than ten years of medical experience and has treated many people.

Even he was helpless to treat a disease. How could a child with a yellow mouth be cured?

“The patient has thirteen external injuries, the most serious of which are penetrating injuries to the chest and back. Fortunately, he is physically strong, so it is not fatal. The real trouble is that the patient has been poisoned, and his internal organs have been affected in different ways. If the poison is not detoxified in time, the patient will not survive tomorrow.”

Dustin Rhys explained Stefan’s condition in detail, as if he were familiar with every detail.

“You...how do you know this?” The village doctor was shocked.

He came to the corresponding conclusion by taking his pulse and carefully examining it. How did the kid in front of him know this?

“There are many diseases that can be understood at a glance.” Dustin Rhys responded calmly.

“Ah?” The village doctor was startled: “Just a look?”

The village doctor’s mouth twitched and he was speechless for a moment.

Judging from the calm and calm look on the other side, maybe he actually has some ability.

“Little brother, are you really sure?” Arthur asked tentatively.

“Would you know if you try it? It’s better than doing nothing.” Dustin Rhys said.

“Okay, I’ll help you little brother.” Arthur said no more, took the initiative to get out of the way, and invited Dustin Rhys to come forward.

Judging from Stefan’s condition, it is very likely that he will not survive tomorrow. It is too late to send him to the hospital. Now he can only be a dead horse and a living doctor.

Dustin Rhys walked to the hospital bed, first took out an antidote pill and fed it into Stefan’s mouth.

Then he stretched out his hand and waved.

“Whoosh, whoosh, whoosh...”

A row of silver needles shot out, accurately piercing into key points on Stefan’s body.

After the silver needle entered his body, Dustin Rhys waved his hand again.

“Buzz, buzz, buzz...”

All the silver needles began to spin rapidly, and streams of mysterious energy flowed into Stefan’s body along the silver needles, dredging his meridians and removing congestion.

Such a miraculous medical technique made the village doctor stunned for a while.

He can also perform acupuncture, but when he performs acupuncture, he must carefully find the acupuncture points and then prick them one by one.

However, Dustin Rhys in front of him waved his hand casually, and more than a dozen silver needles flew out, hitting the acupuncture points accurately, as if they were spiritual.

Even during the whole process, the other party did not touch the patient's body.

He had never heard of such miraculous skills.

I didn't expect that the other party would have such accomplishments at such a young age, which is really amazing.

About a cup of tea later.

Stefan's somewhat purple face finally returned to normal.

"Get up!"

Dustin Rhys reached out and waved his hand, and the dozen or so silver needles that had been inserted into Stefan's body immediately ejected out and returned to his sleeves.

The next second, Stefan, who had been unconscious on the hospital bed, suddenly coughed violently.

Then he tilted his head, said "wow", and spat out a large mouthful of black blood.

"Wake up, wake up, the patient is awake!"

Seeing this scene, the village doctor was surprised and happy, and he admired Dustin so much.

After just a few injections, a seriously ill and dying man came to his senses. What a miracle young doctor!

"Little brother is really amazing! He really cured the patient within a cup of tea!" Arthur was amazed.

It's not that he has never seen the world, but it is unheard of for him to have a genius with superb medical skills at such a young age as Dustin Rhys.

"I can't say it's cured, but the patient is no longer in danger. He only needs to take the decoction for a few days and he will be cured." Dustin Rhys said calmly.

"Who...are you?"

Stefan struggled to sit up from the bed, looking very weak, but his eyes were extremely alert.

"I am Arthur, the village chief of the Desert Village. I saved you."

Arthur was the first to speak: "You were seriously injured and almost died. Fortunately, I invited this young miracle doctor, so that you can save your life."

"Huh?"

Dustin Rhys raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at Arthur meaningfully.

This old man is really shrewd enough to take all the credit on himself in just a few words.

Although he was a little unhappy, he didn't bother to care.

He could most likely guess what the other party was up to, it was just to win favor and take advantage of the opportunity to get more benefits.

"Thank you, Village Chief Arthur, and thank you the miracle doctor."

Stefan was quite polite and thanked Arthur and Dustin Rhys respectively.

"Little brother, how could you be so seriously injured? What happened?" Arthur asked everyone's doubts.

"I..." Stefan hesitated before he could speak.

“Little brother, don’t worry, we are not bad people, we just want to help you.” Arthur smiled slightly, with a kind face.

At first glance, he does look like a loving elder.

“Stefan, I didn’t save your life in vain. We need to understand the situation in the desert, especially that weird oasis!” Dustin Rhys got straight to the point.

Time was running out now, and he was in no mood to waste time. Maybe by now, news of Stefan’s survivors would have spread.

“You also came here for that oasis?” Stefan’s pupils shrank.

As if he thought of something, a look of deep fear suddenly appeared on his face.

“That’s right! You are the only person who has come out of the oasis so far. We need to know the details. This is the prerequisite for me to save you. Of course, as long as the information you provide is valuable, we will also pay you generously. .” Dustin Rhys said.

“Don’t go in... Don’t go in... It’s too dangerous in there. There are monsters everywhere, and there are man-eating monsters everywhere!”

Stefan seemed to have been stimulated by something, and his mood suddenly changed. He became excited, covering his head, shaking his body, and screamed again and again.

A completely crazy state.

Dustin Rhys and Margaret looked at each other and couldn’t help but look serious.

To be able to scare a genius disciple of the Five Elements Sect into such a state, what is hidden in the oasis?
