Chapter 926

"That girl..." Dax paused and smiled wryly. "After I brought her back from Murrfield, she kept talking about her father..."

"A few days later, Noir brought back Conrad, who transformed into the insect soldier king.

"She stays with him all day, occasionally crying, occasionally mumbling to herself, occasionally praying, and gradually grew thinner and more haggard..."

Andrius fell silent.

Conrad had become like this in order to save him. Although he existed in a different form now, he still lacked intelligence and could not return to the way he was before.

Andrius could only gradually repay this debt in the future. Right now, he had more important things to do.

He patted Dax's shoulder and said, "Dax, I'll have to trouble you to take care of Sumeria and Vivian. I'm leaving." After saying that, he walked toward the private jet with Kate.

"Wait!" Dax suddenly called out to Andrius. "There's something I hope you can help me with."

Andrius paused and turned around. "What is it?"

"It's a long story." Dax had a complicated expression. After a sigh, he said slowly, "To tell you the truth, I'm also from an ancient martial family."

Andrius' eyes widened.

That was truly unexpected.

Could Dax's family be one of the four great martial families in Kiyoto?

Dax continued, “However, many years ago, because my father violated the family rules, our branch starting from my father was expelled from the Fuller family.

“Although our last name was changed to Wimbledon, we still carry the bloodline of the Fuller family.

“Our family has a long-standing tradition. Even those who were expelled from the Wimbledon can still have a wish granted if they pass the trials arranged by the family elders.”

Andrius understood.

Dax’s request was likely related to these trials.

“With my current strength and talent, I’m afraid it’s difficult for me to step into the martial realm in my lifetime. Therefore, my hope rests entirely on my son, Hugh.”

Dax looked at Andrius with burning eyes. “I want you to take him as your disciple, teach him martial arts, and help him achieve my father’s wish.”

Andrius felt somewhat conflicted. His meridians were not fully recovered yet, and he was heading to Mount Albus to study the mysteries of the mural. Then, he had to participate in the Ancient Martial Assembly...

There was a series of events lined up in front of him. He did not know what the future held.

If he took Hugh as his disciple, it might also expose Dax to unknown enemies. It was definitely not a good idea.

“Dax... You know that I have a lot on my plate right now.” Andrius said with a wry smile, “How about this? I’ll take him as my disciple when I return safely from Kiyoto. What do you think?”

Hearing this, Dax’s expression became excited and much more serious. “Andrius, I’ve never been so grateful to anyone in my life. Thank you!”

Then, he bowed deeply to Andrius.

“What are you doing?”

Andrius hurriedly helped Dax up. He did not expect Dax to suddenly bow to him.

“Haha...” Dax said, “My father’s wish has weighed on my heart for a long time. Now that it’s resolved, I got a bit too emotional. Don’t take it too seriously.”

Andrius patted his arm and then set off with Kate to Mount Albus.

The plane landed at the airport at the foot of the mountain.

Andrius and Kate rented a snowmobile and headed to the meeting point they agreed to with Wade.

Half an hour later, they arrived.

“Andrius, you’re finally here.”

Wade and several trusted members of the Medicine Sect had been waiting for a long time.

Andrius smiled. “Sorry for the wait.”

Wade asked, “Has everything been arranged?”

Andrius nodded. “Yes.”

“Good!” Wade was very satisfied. “Prepare yourself again. You must succeed this time. We don’t have any more time.”

“What happened, Grandpa?” Kate keenly sensed something off and asked.

Wade looked at Kate and said in a low voice, “The latest news is that the Ancient Martial Assembly has been brought forward again.”

Chapter 927

Andrius asked, “When is it now?”

“In half a month.” Wade’s tone was filled with urgency. “That’s why we must decipher the secrets of the mural, even if we have to stay inside for half a month.”

“Half a month...”

Andrius smiled wryly.

The mural was indeed profound and full of mystery. To completely understand it within half a month would be harder than learning how to fly!

Even with the ‘Records of Profundity’, Andrius was not that confident. He could only do his best and leave the rest to fate.

“We shouldn’t delay any longer. Let’s set off now!”

Wade saw Andrius’ expression and knew that this matter was not easy. However, they had to take action.

After all, the Medicine Sect was running out of time.

Soon, the group arrived at the high platform once again.

Wade’s heart sank when he looked at the constantly bubbling and churning magma below. He asked doubtfully, “Andrius, are you sure the magma is fake?”

“Yes. Maybe it’s not all fake, but the spot where Kate and I fell into is definitely fake!”

Although that was what Andrius said, Wade still had some doubts.

“Watch closely,” Andrius did not explain further and simply informed Wade. Then, he leaped into the location he remembered.

Several dozen meters were crossed in the blink of an eye. His figure soon disappeared from everyone’s sight.

“Don’t worry, Grandpa,” Kate said to Wade, then jumped down in the direction where Andrius had just fallen.

“Well...” Wade instructed the others, “Wait here for a while. I’ll go down to see what’s going on and be back in a moment.”

“Yes, Sect Master!”

Wade hesitated slightly and also jumped down from the same position.

The next moment, he felt his surroundings change and found himself in a completely new world. It was a spacious area, with Andrius and Kate at the other end. He hurried over.

On the wall was the mural that Wade had been longing for.

However, even after studying it for a while, Wade had various thoughts in his mind but could not find any breakthrough point to decipher it. He could only pin his hopes on Andrius and hope that the latter could comprehend the mysteries soon.

“Kate...”

Seeing Andrius deep in thought, Wade suddenly called and gestured for Kate to come over.

Kate was stunned but walked over to Wade.

“This mural is indeed cryptic. You stay by Andrius so the two of you can take care of each other. However, I have some things to tell you.” Wade instinctively lowered his voice and spoke quietly in a voice only they could hear, “If Andrius has any insights about the mural, inform me as soon as possible.”

In other words, he wanted her to spy on Andrius.

Kate could not help but recall what Andrius said before, that she was the only one he trusted in the whole Medicine Sect.

“I know, Grandpa.”

“Good.” Wade nodded meaningfully and then left through the underground river.

Andrius examined the mural for a while but still could not decipher it. He took out the ‘Records of Profundity’ and opened it to see what was written.

The ‘Records of Profundity’ mainly recorded ancient secrets and wonders, including many records of treasures, martial arts techniques, and secret methods, but most of them were brief and not very detailed.

After flipping through it for a while, Andrius finally found a record about the hidden treasure of the Kleins.

However, the record of the mural was equally brief.

“The Kleins of Kiyoto have hidden secrets for a thousand years and guarded them for years. No one has ever cracked them before!”

Chapter 928

“There are two hidden treasures.

“One of them is the seven jade pendants, corresponding to gold, wood, water, fire, earth, light, darkness, and mythological beasts!

“The second is a mysterious mural, cryptic and hard to understand, with only a short dictum to accompany it.

“All things flow with Yin and Yang. Men and women reach eternal life together.”

Andrius was momentarily stunned. He felt like reading those words was no different from not reading them at all.

They were virtually useless!

Kate saw Andrius open the 'Records of Profundity' and suddenly freeze, and glanced over in curiosity. However, she did not understand the meaning of those words either.

"All things flow with Yin and Yang..." Andrius muttered quietly, shifting his gaze to the mural. "Men and women..."

His heart skipped a beat as he looked at the small figures.

That was it. He had not observed carefully before.

Although the small figures were blurry, their gender characteristics were very obvious. Just like the book said, half of them were male, and half were female.

"Andrius, did you notice something?" Kate saw Andrius' eyes shining with excitement and casually asked.

"Look at these little figures." Andrius pointed to the mural, explaining to both Kate and himself. "Half of them are men, half are women, and they're arranged in an alternating pattern. Does this signify something?"

Kate fell into thought.

First of all, this mural seemed to represent a cultivation method.

Second, it included both men and women in a clear pattern.

Could it be...

Kate's eyes suddenly lit up as she said, "Andrius, do you think this means the cultivation method requires both men and women to cultivate it together?"

Andrius was stunned. It seemed that might be possible.

Dual cultivation...

Such practices existed since ancient times but had become rare nowadays. The mural seemed to represent such a possibility.

Kate looked at Andrius and suggested, "In that case, why don't we try it out together?"

Andrius thought about it. Cultivating together was indeed a feasible direction, so he agreed.” Let’s give it a try...‘

Kate immediately contacted Wade. “Grandpa, we’ve made a discovery. Come over here!”

Wade had just emerged from the underground river. When he received the message, he jumped back down the magma and quickly arrived.

“What did you discover?”

Kate immediately recited the dictum and her guess to Wade. “I’m planning to cultivate this technique with Andrius.

“I want you to help administer acupuncture to him to maintain the inner energy in his body so we can try.”

Wade looked at the ‘Records of Profundity’ and the mural, muttered a few words, and nodded heavily. “That’s indeed possible. It’s worth a try.”

Then, he used silver needles to infuse Andrius with inner energy, allowing him to briefly recover his strength.

“Remember to inform me immediately if anything happens!”

After reminding them, Wade left again. After all, he was an old man. He was worried that staying there would make it difficult for the two to relax.

“Let’s start, Andrius,” Kate said and sat cross–legged in front of the mural.

Andrius also sat down facing her.

“Wait!”

Just as Kate was about to start cultivating, Andrius suddenly pointed to the mural and said, Kate, look. The figures on the mural aren't wearing any clothes.

“Do we... also need to take off our clothes?”

Chapter 929

“Uh...”

Upon hearing Andrius' words, a blush immediately appeared on Kate's face like the summer sunset, making her look incredibly beautiful.

At that moment, Andrius also felt slightly uncomfortable.

After all, she was an unmarried young lady, and he was a young man in his prime! It would indeed be a bit embarrassing to practice dual cultivation.

Andrius cleared his throat and said sheepishly, “It's what the mural depicted. It's not my idea. If you're not comfortable with it, we can start cultivating directly.”

“I...”

Kate hesitated. Various thoughts raced in her mind.

Many years ago, during that snowstorm, her grandfather brought her back to the Medicine Sect. He stood his ground against the opinion of the masses and made her the Maiden of the Medicine Sect.

Otherwise, she would have perished in the cold winter as an ice sculpture. Over the years, her grandfather's nurturing and guidance left her unsure of how to repay him.

Now, deciphering the mural before her was his greatest wish! She should do everything in her power to help him.

Furthermore, Andrius was a distinguished figure in Florence and was bound to be recorded in history. Ever since they first met, he already made his attitude toward her clear.

After spending time with him during their journey, she sensed that Andrius was a man of integrity, kindness, and perseverance, and knew when to act and when not to!

Especially during the time in the underground river when she kissed him...

At that thought, Kate slowly raised her head and stared straight at Andrius. She blushed but said in determination, "Andrius, you're right. Since the mural depicts it, let's give it a try!"

Although that was what she said, she was still a young lady after all. As she spoke, her voice grew softly as she lost her courage.

However, since they were so close, Andrius heard every word she said. He could not help but raise his head and look at her in astonishment.

Kate did not say anything more. She shyly turned her head to the side and began to take off her outer layers, saying in a low voice, "D—don't look!"

Her delicate hands trembled, and her voice quivered.

"O—oh, r—right... I won't look. I won't look!" Andrius' face instantly turned red as he looked at the mural, trying to divert his attention.

However, as he gazed at the mural, he could not help but notice a certain snowy—white sight in his peripheral vision. He was caught off guard and could not tear his eyes away.

It was too captivating.

He could not control his body. Andrius' mouth went dry, and a battle started in his body.

Kate was already feeling extremely shy. When Andrius reacted so intensely, her embarrassment deepened, and tears welled up in her eyes.

"Andrius. Andrius?" Kate's trembling voice called out twice, but Andrius did not react at all, so she could only poke him lightly with her finger.

“Huh?” Andrius finally snapped out of his daze, but his mind was filled with a snowy scape.

Wait, no!

It was completely blank!

Kate immediately lowered her head and said in a barely audible voice, “Y—you should also undress quickly.”

Chapter 930

“Right... Undress...”

Andrius' throat was so dry that his voice sounded hoarse.

Soon, he removed all his clothing.

“Phew...”

“Hiss...”

Almost simultaneously, they both closed their eyes and took a deep breath, trying to calm the turbulent emotions in their hearts so they could focus on comprehending the mural.

“Alright.”

“Let's begin!”

The two opened their eyes at the same time and spoke almost simultaneously.

Kate blushed again, her face becoming even redder. Then, she began to channel her inner energy.

Andrius suppressed his inner thoughts, cleared his mind, and also channeled the residual inner energy in his body.

Smack!

After circulating their inner energy through one cycle, they simultaneously held out their palms that gently met in mid-air.

The moment their palms touched, inner energy began to flow from Andrius' left hand into Kate's meridians. Then, it passed through her other hand into Andrius' right hand, flowed through his limbs, and returned to his left hand, completing a full cycle.

Everywhere the inner energy flowed, they both sensed the emergence of a small new energy in their bodies.

Although this strand of inner energy was extremely weak, there was a saying that a spark could start a fire. It was undoubtedly a very good start.

At that moment, both Kate and Andrius could not help but grin. They sensed the inner energy in their bodies. It seemed that they had succeeded.

However...

Just as Andrius was about to pass the inner energy through his left hand and channel it into Kate's palm again, an irresistible force suddenly forced their palms apart.

Boom...

The force was no less powerful than an attack from a Martial Emperor!

Kate was sent flying.

Andrius, who was already injured, was shaken and fell to the ground, spitting out a mouthful of black blood. His internal organs had suffered injuries.

Chapter 930

“Andrius!”

Kate immediately suppressed the surging blood and rushed to help Andrius, not caring that they were both naked.

Swoosh!

Plop!

Prick!

She pierced silver needles into his meridian points to stabilize him, preventing his injuries from worsening.

Afterward, Andrius felt much better and slowly opened his eyes. What met him was a concerned and serious gaze.

And... a sight he could not directly look at.

“Andrius, how do you feel now?”

Kate’s clear eyes reflected his pale face.

Andrius felt some guilt and shook his head. “It’s not a big deal.”

Kate smiled wryly.

It was not a big deal?

She knew his personality well. He silently endured his problems and never complained or shared his sufferings with others. She could not help but feel a pang of heartache.

“We were just about to succeed. Why did it suddenly...”

After stabilizing himself, Andrius began to recall the details of their cultivation process, trying to find the cause of their failure.

Kate also frowned and said, “Everything was normal at the beginning. The flow of our inner energy was smooth without any delay, but after completing one cycle, why did it...”
