Chapter 936

Kate screamed, shaking her head frantically as she cried. "No! Andrius can't die!"

She sobbed while preparing to feed Andrius the Three-day Immortality Pill.

However, the pill could not bring the dead back to life. At most, it could only preserve his life for three days. If the root of the problem was not resolved within those three days, his life would still be at risk.

"Wait!"

At that moment, Wade suddenly called out to Kate.

Kate was confused and looked at him.

Wade stared at Andrius, his eyes filled with inexplicable excitement and astonishment.

"This is..." He slapped his thigh and exclaimed, "Impossible! That's impossible!"

Kate had lived for more than twenty years, but it was her first time seeing her grandfather being so emotional. She also turned to Andrius out of curiosity. She could not discern anything, but she held hope in her heart as she asked, "Grandpa, what happened?"

"He..." Wade's voice was filled with disbelief as he widened his eyes, and he said word by word, "He has already formed entirely new meridians!"

Meridians were innate to a person. Many martial artists had limited achievements due to naturally blocked meridians, and they could never reach a high level in their lifetime.

However, Andrius had forcefully ruptured all of his own meridians and regenerated new ones. This was a new breakthrough. It was a miracle. It was an unprecedented, unheard-of miracle!

Wade became increasingly curious about the technique Andrius cultivated to achieve miraculous effects such as regenerating his meridians.

It simply turned his world upside down!

Kate did not understand the significance but found her grandfather's words to be the most effective reassurance, and finally calmed down.

At that moment, due to Hades' Axiom continuously operating inside Andrius' body, the inner energy formed brand new meridians.

However, the meridians were as fragile as a newborn baby. Andrius had to be extremely careful in controlling his inner energy to avoid overexerting himself and rupturing these delicate new meridians.

Seeing his inner energy continue to generate, Andrius suddenly opened his eyes.

"Sect Master Klein, please use acupuncture to release all the inner energy in my body."

Andrius' words shocked the duo.

Wade quickly reacted and immediately started the acupuncture treatment. After personally witnessing the miracles that Andrius was capable of, Wade no longer hesitated.

Whoosh...

Chapter 936

He inserted the silver needles into Andrius' body, and the inner energy in his body released like a deflating balloon.

However, this process was as painful as shattering bone. Even someone as firm as Andrius could not help but scream in agony.

“Argh...”

Crack, crack, crack...

His teeth bled from the pressure. Andrius could not hold back the pain.

“Pfft...”

Swoosh...

Furthermore, because of the forceful inner energy, the silver needles were ejected from Andrius' body.

“Kate!” Wade understood the danger and used inner energy to protect Andrius's heart while instructing, “When you see the silver needles flying out, remember to replace them immediately.

“Otherwise, without the needles protecting him, all the inner energy will instantly rupture his meridians and cause even more trouble.”

“Got it!” Kate also recognized the severity of the situation and followed the instructions.

When any silver needle was sent flying, she immediately replaced it.

Swoosh...

Prick!

Whoosh...

Prick!

The three of them were doing their best.

After a dozen or so needles were sent flying at once and Kate replaced them, the needle on top of Andrius' head suddenly shot out and pierced the ceiling of the hall, disappearing from view.

Seeing this, Kate was just about to replace it.

Whoosh...

Swish...

Poof...

Just then, the inner energy in Andrius' body suddenly exploded, sending all the silver needles in his body flying.

The speed was like a meteor shower.

The suddenness caught Kate by surprise. Just as she was about to be pierced like a hedgehog, a broad figure appeared in front of her. A wall of inner energy formed, blocking all the silver needles.

It was Wade.

"Phew..."

After expelling all his inner energy, Andrius collapsed to the ground and fell unconscious like an ordinary person who had used up all their strength.

"Grandpa!" Kate asked anxiously, "How is Andrius now?"

Wade examined his pulse and was instantly dumbfounded.

"Incredible!" His eyes widened in astonishment. "Truly incredible!"

Chapter 937

Kate asked curiously, "What happened to him?"

Wade gave Andrius a deep look and sighed. "Andrius broke his own meridians, and with tremendous willpower and endurance, he achieved rebirth!

"Now, his meridians are much stronger than before. Furthermore..."

At that point, Wade's lips curled into a smile. "At this point, he has theoretically broken through to the Martial Emperor realm! His meridians are just empty now, so he needs to cultivate them from scratch."

Kate understood.

Right now, Andrius was akin to a Martial Emperor expert who expended all his inner energy. He needed time to recover and cultivate to return to his peak condition.

Martial Emperor!

Kate's eyes were filled with astonishment.

When they first met, Andrius was only at the early stage of Martial Lord and even had his meridians severed. Back then, the four great families had deemed him a waste.

However, in less than half a month, he made a qualitative jump from Martial Lord into the realm of Martial Emperor!

It was beyond belief and truly amazing!

"What an unexpected joy..." Wade looked at the unconscious Andrius and smiled. "With Andrius' sudden breakthrough to Martial Emperor, the Medicine Sect has gained another pillar of strength. It's a cause for celebration."

Kate thought of all the miraculous things that Andrius had done and muttered to herself, "Martial Emperor... Will that be his limit?"

"What was that, Kate?" Wade did not hear her and asked.

However, Kate did not respond.

After another comprehensive examination, Wade found nothing wrong with Andrius and handed some medicinal pills to Kate.

"Alright. Kate, take care of Andrius. I've been here for quite some time and have to go back to oversee the overall situation. The current state of the martial world is far from peaceful..."

Kate understood the severity of the situation and nodded. "Go ahead, Grandpa. Leave this to me,"

Wade nodded and glanced at the mural, then at Andrius, and strode away.

Kate had just given Andrius acupuncture treatment and used up a lot of inner energy. After recovering her strength, she looked at the bloodied Andrius and decided to clean him up. Thus, she lit a bonfire by the riverbank and heated the water. After consideration, she realized that the blood would contaminate the water if she cleaned Andrius by the river. It would be gross if they had to drink from the river again later.

Thus, she brought the heated water up and cleaned him inside the hall. There were no outsiders anyway.

Five minutes later, Kate was halfway done cleaning his body. Only his lower body was left.

Kate hesitated.

Should she clean him or not?

She examined his condition carefully and saw that his pants were soaked in blood and dust...

Thus, she gritted her teeth and took off his pants. Then, she reached out for the last piece of clothing covering him.

“Ugh...”

At that moment, Andrius woke up.

Their eyes met. Andrius' expression was filled with astonishment, and Kate's was filled with embarrassment.

“You...”

“I...”

They spoke almost at the same time.

“Ahem...”

Andrius choked and did not speak again. He noticed the bucket of hot water steaming nearby and figured out what was happening.

Kate looked embarrassed and explained, “You were covered in blood, so I wanted to help wash you...”

Then, she bit her lip and continued cleaning him. This time, it was Andrius’ turn to feel awkward.

“Cleanliness is important to health!”

Andrius replied stiffly, “I know. Thank you...”

Kate blushed and did not speak. She continued her task in earnest.

Chapter 938

The process was quite thrilling, but the outcome was very quiet. The both of them fell into silence, not knowing what to say.

After Kate finished wiping him off, she suddenly thought of something and said, “Andrius, try to meditate now. My grandpa said that you have the strength of a Martial Emperor!”

A Martial Emperor!

Andrius could not help but feel excited when he heard those words. After all, the Medicine Sect Master, Wade, and the three ancient martial families’ heads were also at this level.

Now, he had the strength to stand up against them!

“Phew...”

Andrius immediately started cultivating. With each breath, pure inner energy gathered within him.

Kate took Andrius' clothes and went to wash them.

Half an hour later, she returned. The clothes in her hands were all dried.

"How is it, Andrius?" she asked while handing the clothes over.

"Absorbing the inner energy by myself is too slow." Andrius shook his head in dissatisfaction. "I only have the inner energy of an early-stage Martial Lord. It'll take a while to reach the Martial Emperor realm."

Kate laughed. "Reaching the realm of Martial Lord in just an hour is already quite impressive." Andrius also smiled and said nothing. Being an early-stage Martial Lord was not enough for him.

Kate looked at his profile and suddenly asked, "Andrius, how could you have been so ruthless to yourself and sever your own meridians?"

Andrius told Kate about what he deciphered in the mural, the concepts of yin and yang coexisting and putting oneself in a life-or-death situation.

"That's amazing!" Kate was thrilled and said, "I think there should be no problem this time. Let's give it another try!"

"Sure!"

Andrius felt the same.

Thus, they stripped for the third time and began cultivating together. They were already well-versed in circulating their inner energy.

However, they were still cautious.

Soon, their inner energy completed a full cycle, and a faint inner energy began to form. This was the crucial point again.

Andrius subconsciously opened his eyes to look at Kate, only to find that she was also looking at him. They both nodded at each other.

Chapter 938

Then, Andrius directed his inner energy over.

Boom...

Sure enough, the inner energy exploded again.

Fortunately, they were both extremely cautious and only suffered minor injuries. It was not a significant problem.

“Phew...”

Andrius was frustrated. He felt that he had deciphered all the rules in the mural and met all the conditions. Why was he still failing?

What was the problem?

He continued to contemplate with a single-minded focus.

Soon, three days passed.

During these three days, Andrius and Kate proposed many new ideas and tried countless new attempts. However, they all ended in failure.

Kate saw Andrius' constant frown and said sympathetically, “Andrius... You don't have to push yourself so hard. Why don't we return to the Medicine Sect first?”

“You can find a way to restore your inner energy to its peak as soon as possible and become a Martial Emperor. That'll be very helpful for both your cultivation in the future and when dealing with the upcoming Ancient Martial Assembly.”

“Sure!” Andrius agreed.

Registus should have contacted their master by now. Andrius wanted to ask Old Hagstorm exactly what he had planned. Maybe Old Hagstorm knew a hidden secret behind the mural.

Chapter 939

After leaving Mount Albus, Andrius thought about the current situation. The ancient martial world was in turmoil, and the Ancient Martial Assembly was imminent. Thus, Kate and he returned to the Medicine Sect headquarters in Mount Cura.

In Mount Cura, their path was blocked when they arrived at the main gate.

Two figures stood in their way.

One was Vincent, who had been slapped by Andrius before and scolded by Kate, then had to leave with resentment.

The other was a middle-aged man with a slim figure and a cold demeanor. He looked somewhat similar to Vincent, and he stood with his arms crossed, exuding a chilling aura. He was Vincent's brother, Zane!

Upon receiving news that Andrius and Kate were returning, the two had been waiting here for a while.

"Kate, you're finally back."

Vincent had specifically invited his brother, who had just come out of seclusion, to help him get revenge for his humiliation. He glanced at Kate and then at Andrius, and his expression instantly turned resentful.

"Kid, we can finally settle our score today!"

In his view, as long as Zane helped to hold Kate back, he would be able to easily deal with Andrius, whose meridians were severed.

Kate glanced at Vincent and snorted. "Vincent! Don't go looking for trouble when there's none. Andrius is a guest of the Medicine Sect. You have no right to order him around."

"Guest?" Vincent laughed and said sinisterly, "The Medicine Sect doesn't have such useless guests!"

Then, he lunged at Andrius like an agile cheetah.

Kate immediately stepped forward to intercept Vincent.

Vincent grinned with a mocking gaze, but instead of dodging, he accelerated instead!

The next moment, just as Kate was about to block Vincent, a dark figure appeared in front of her. It was none other than Zane.

Bam!

Their palms clashed.

“Ugh...” Kate grunted and was pushed back several steps. She steadied herself and looked at Zane grimly.

Zane was a standout talent of the Medicine Sect. He had gone into seclusion recently. Unexpectedly, he had reached the level of a Martial King!

Although Kate was also a Martial King, the countless injuries she sustained when she was cultivating under the magma meant she could only utilize about sixty percent of her strength.

This caused her to be pushed back by Zane’s attack.

On the other side, with Kate no longer blocking him, Vincent was just a few meters away from Andrius.

“Stop!” Kate shouted and prepared to intervene again.

However, just as she moved, Zane blocked her once more.

“Kate, I am your opponent.” Zane’s voice was cold.

“Andrius, watch out!” Kate defended against Zane’s attacks while warning Andrius.

“It’s useless! If being careful will help withstand an attack from a Martial Lord, then the last few years of my cultivation would have been a waste!” Vincent sneered and moved closer to Andrius.

Kate was being held up by Zane and could not get away, so Vincent was not worried at all. He stood in front of Andrius, preparing to insult him to regain his dignity.

However, before he could speak, Andrius said disdainfully, “Good dogs don’t block the road. Get out of my way.”

Andrius was not afraid of the likes of Vincent. He was a Martial Emperor now and had the strength of one. Although his inner energy had not caught up, his physical strength was that of a Martial Emperor.

Even if he stood there without moving and let a Martial King attack him, it would not deal any damage against him, let alone a small fry like Vincent who was only a Martial Lord.

“You—Andrius Moonshade, arrogance comes at a price!” Vincent did not expect Andrius to be so arrogant and was instantly furious as he charged.

Smack!

Just as he appeared before Andrius, before he could attack, Andrius slapped him across the face. The tremendous force caused him to spin two rounds in the air before finally stopping.

Vincent was stunned. Andrius was supposed to be useless after getting his meridians severed. How could he be that fast?

Andrius was not surprised at all. He immediately demonstrated to Vincent what it meant to be a Martial Emperor.

“Left cheek!”

Smack!

“Right cheek!”

Smack!

“Chest!”

Bam!

This caused her to be pushed back by Zane’s attack.

On the other side, with Kate no longer blocking him, Vincent was just a few meters away from Andrius.

“Stop!” Kate shouted and prepared to intervene again.

However, just as she moved, Zane blocked her once more.

Chapter 940

With each shout from Andrius came an attack from that direction. Vincent instinctively went on the defensive, but Andrius' attacks were precise and flawless.

After half a minute, he was beaten all over by Andrius, unable to defend against even a single one. He was completely suppressed.

It was like an adult was toying with a baby. Vincent had no way of fighting back at all.

This scene left everyone present shocked.

As a late-stage Martial Lord, Vincent was considered exceptional among the younger generation. However, in front of Andrius, he was hit around like a football. What kind of joke was that?

Andrius was supposed to be crippled after his meridians were destroyed by Norvin.

“What...”

“Andrius' speed of attack is astonishing.”

“I think even the Maiden and Zane aren't as powerful as him.”

“Could his strength surpass both Zane and the Maiden?”

“That’s impossible...”

The onlookers were dumbfounded and discussed in low voices, all amazed by Andrius’ performance.

Even Zane, who had so much confidence in Vincent, was in shock.

“Isn’t Andrius supposed to be crippled? How is he moving like that? What happened to him?” Zane stared at Kate coldly and asked in fury.

Kate mocked, “Why don’t you guess? I’ll tell you if you’re right!”

Zane was instantly infuriated and clenched his teeth in anger.

“Andrius Moonshade! I refuse to accept this!” Vincent finally exploded. He was unwilling to be beaten by Andrius, who he saw as trash.

It was a stain on his name!

It was a disgrace and humiliation!

Vincent shouted hysterically, “I am the rising star of the Medicine Sect. My grandfather is the First Elder, Tobias Klein! You’re just waste from the Kleins that was annihilated by the four families! How dare you? I refuse to accept this!”

Andrius’ expression turned cold at his words.

The fall of the Kleins was an eternal wound in his heart. It was a humiliation that needed to be washed away with blood.

Vincent’s words were like salt in a wound, stripping away layers of Andrius’ patience.

Boom-

Chapter 940

A cold and intense storm instantly erupted in all directions with Andrius as the center. He finally showed his killing intent after Vincent insulted the Kleins multiple times.

Whoosh...

The next moment, he appeared in front of Vincent and struck his palm at Vincent's chest.

As soon as he did, turbid winds blew in all directions, blowing across the people's faces like sharp knives. The sheer strength of the pressure made Vincent unable to breathe.

It was like a mountain crushing him.

It was like a torrent, unstoppable and earth-shattering.

"No! Watch out-" Zane's eyes widened, but it was too late to save Vincent. He could only shout to warn his brother.

However, Vincent had already been frozen and could not move at all, let alone evade.

"Insolent child!"

Just then, a deep voice resounded throughout the area.

The first word was spoken far away, but the second word was heard right next to their ears.

A dark figure rapidly approached from a distance.

The moment the person finished speaking, he was already standing in front of Vincent and struck a palm toward the hostile Andrius.

Bam!

The surging energy scattered rocks and sand, creating a deafening roar.

Andrius was forced five steps back and steadied himself.

The dark figure shook and took two steps back, and also steadied himself.

Andrius stared closely.

The person was an old man in a dark blue robe with a pale face. He looked at Andrius with a serious expression. The old man's mind was far from calm.

In the attack earlier, it appeared that he had the upper hand because Andrius retreated three steps more than him.

However, Andrius' astonishing strength was beyond belief. The hand hidden under the old man's sleeve was still trembling slightly!

"That boy..." The old man's expression was calm as a thought swirled in his mind. "He has an incredibly strong physique!"

"Grandpa."

"Grandpa!"

Vincent and Zane immediately greeted the person respectfully upon seeing him. Then, they quickly moved to stand behind him. Excitement was evident on their faces.

The old man was none other than Tobias Klein, the First Elder of the Medicine Sect. He was an early-stage Martial Emperor!

Vincent and Zane were his beloved grandsons. Even if Andrius was a big shot, he had to behave obediently in front of Tobias.

"What's going on?"

There were many Medicine Sect disciples around, and Kate, the Maiden of the Medicine Sect, was also present, so Tobias could not show too much favoritism and pretended to be concerned.

"Grandpa, Andrius is despicable. He's so arrogant just because he has a little strength!" Vincent immediately began to steer the narrative. "A few days ago, I questioned why Kate brought Andrius to the library. He's an outsider. How can he enter our library?"

“However, he slapped me across the face! Despite being the Maiden of the Medicine Sect, Kate was even more biased.

“You saw what happened just now. Zane and I wanted to seek justice, but just because Andrius is strong, he tried to kill me.”

At that point, his expression turned aggrieved. “If not for your timely arrival, you might never have seen me again...”

Vincent did not mention a single word about how he insulted the Kleins.

Sure enough, Tobias’ expression instantly turned cold. He stared at Andrius and said in a firm tone, “Andrius Moonshade, how dare an outsider like you try to kill a disciple of the Medicine Sect? You’re truly reckless and arrogant.

“However, since you’re the orphan of the Kleins, I won’t make things difficult for you.

Apologize to Vincent immediately.”

Andrius had expected this. The old man would certainly protect his grandson. He was prepared to confront Tobias directly.

However, before he could speak, Kate stepped forward and said, “First Elder, it’s true that Andrius slapped Vincent, but that was because he didn’t watch his words. He kept insulting the Kleins, Andrius’ family... He deserves to be slapped!”

At Kate’s words, Vincent immediately became furious. He was just about to jump out, but Zane grabbed him and shook his head.

Tobias frowned. “Kate, although you’re the Maiden of the Medicine Sect, you’re showing a strong bias in your words and actions.”

He looked at Kate and sneered. “If the Kleins were truly strong, they wouldn’t have been
