

Read Married at First Sight Chapter 2679

Married at First Sight Chapter 2679-Liberty said, "Don't think too much about me in the future. I really have never disliked you, just like I was as fat as a pig, and you never disliked me for being fat and ugly."

Duncan said quickly, "You are not ugly, not at all. When you were mellow before, you were not ugly. You look very lucky."

Liberty said, "Ugly is ugly. When I look in the mirror, I hate my chubby self."

It was okay to be stupid once. She wouldn't be stupid a second time. She needed to take better care of herself. She also shouldn't eat so much again.

Before she lost weight, she was so fat that she not only had a fatty liver but also had high uric acid.

After losing weight, uric acid became normal, and the fatty liver improved.

"Liberty, you bought Sonny toys and new clothes, but you didn't buy anything for me."

Duncan changed the topic and became jealous of Sonny.

Liberty smiled and said, "You don't lack anything. Sonny is a child and grows up very fast. He needs to buy new clothes almost every year. Your height has already been determined, and last year's clothes can still be worn this year. When I go back, I will bring you some specialties from Jensburg."

Duncan said sourly, "Sonny grew up to be someone else's husband. In the future, his wife will care about him and take care of him. I am the one who will accompany you until you grow old. You should care about me more. I also want new clothes. As long as you buy it, I like it."

She rarely gave him gifts. It was she who said she didn't want to remarry and rejected his feelings before.

Now, she didn't explicitly say that she would marry him in the future, but she already felt like a lover for him. In everyone's eyes, they were a couple.

Duncan automatically stepped into the role of her husband. He stayed with her for the rest of her life. Even if she didn't marry him in the end, he would still be by her side, and they could remain good friends for the rest of their lives.

Duncan really wanted to receive the gift from Liberty. No matter how high or low he was, as long as it was from her, he would like it.

The bouquets she sent before count as visits to the patient when he was a patient.

Zachary and Josh would receive small gifts from their women from time to time. Duncan would be very envious every time he saw those two close friends showing off in front of him.

Now, their women all bought the clothes that these two close friends were wearing.

Josh showed him that even the bottoms and socks were prepared by Jasmine for Josh.

Of the Iron Triangle, Duncan was the most miserable. There was a woman, Liberty, he liked, but he hadn't married yet, and he rarely got the most thoughtful gifts.

Liberty smiled and said, "I'm just teasing you. If you don't mind, I'll buy it for you. Let me make it clear first. The things I buy for you are not as expensive as what you buy yourself. They won't be from big brands. With my current financial resources, I can only afford mid-range products to you."

Duncan said, "I said, no matter what it is, no matter how high or low it is, as long as it is a gift from you, I like it.

If you give me a handful of grass, I will know how to hide it."

Liberty said, "When the time comes, I will go to the outskirts of Jensburg to cut a handful of grass and bring it back to you. You have to keep it well after bringing it back all the way."

At the end of the sentence, Liberty couldn't help laughing.

She lied and didn't want him to worry, but ended up getting herself into trouble and had to give Duncan a gift.

"Okay."

Duncan also laughed.

Knowing that Liberty would not actually cut a handful of grass and bring it back to him.

Liberty said, "It's very late. You should go to bed early and remember to do rehabilitation tomorrow morning. Auntie said you didn't do rehabilitation today."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2680-Mrs. Lewis was ready to report Liberty about Duncan if she had anything to do.

Duncan was afraid of Liberty.

Duncan asked, "I will, and will continue to do rehabilitation. When you come back, I may be able to walk two or three meters. By the way, how long will it take for you to come back?"

Liberty was silent for a moment and then said, "It is possible that I will stay until the New Year."

Duncan: "For such a long time, what has Sonny missed you?"

I feel relieved that Serenity is taking care of Sonny. He misses me so much. On weekends, I will go back to accompany him when I have time. If I don't have time, I can only ask Zachary to send him over to reunite with me for two days."

Liberty was only getting busier.

In a short period of time, she would have very little time to spend with Sonny.

Liberty said, "Serenity has been helping to take care of Sonny since he was born. He can adapt. The New Year is not far away. It will pass in the blink of an eye."

"Actually, I miss you!" Duncan uttered.

Sonny was just a pioneer; Duncan used it as rhetoric, but in fact he missed Liberty.

Duncan thought it would drive Liberty crazy to take so long to come back.

Being able to talk on the phone or video chat couldn't relieve the pain of lovesickness.

Serenity was with Sonny, and they had a close relationship. He didn't cry or fuss without Liberty around. He could adapt to it.

But Duncan was not used to it. During this time, he got used to seeing Liberty every day.

"Liberty, when I miss you, is it okay for me to go see you? Don't worry, you don't have to take care of me. I have a private plane at home. I will fly there with bodyguards, and they can take care of me.

I won't interrupt your work. I just want to see you, eat with you, and talk to you. I will also go there on weekends. I will be back on Monday. I also need to go to work."

Liberty felt warm in her heart, and she said warmly, "If that's the case, you can bring Sonny over here on the weekend. I want to spend the weekend with you as two people. If you don't bring Sonny along and you come here by yourself, he'll become angry and ignore you. Then you'll need to take your time coaxing him."

Duncan: "Okay, if I go over there, I'll take Sonny with me. No more chatting. You need to take a rest. You're exhausted today."

Feeling sorry for his beloved woman, Duncan took the initiative to end talking on the phone.

After talking to Liberty on the phone, Duncan's mood completely improved.

Because Liberty advised him not to follow him to Jensburg, he caused an awkward incident but was blown away by the evening breeze and ran away without a trace.

Duncan returned to the bedroom from the living room in a wheelchair. He stopped a few steps away from the bed.

He grabbed the armrests on both sides of the wheelchair and stood up slowly. After standing straight, he took steps again and walked slowly to the bed. He quickly grabbed the bedside table and then slowly sat down on the bed.

After walking a few steps, his legs were still shaking a little, but not as much as before.

Duncan muttered, "Liberty, when you come back for the New Year, I hope I can walk in front of you."

The New Year was still a few months away, and he did rehabilitation every day. There was still hope that when Liberty returned, he could walk a few meters away in front of her and give her a surprise.

As long as he could walk a few meters, he would probably be able to walk like a normal person by next year.

As soon as his legs recovered and he could walk normally, he proposed to Liberty and married her!

He didn't want Liberty to wait for him for too long.