

Chapter 712 Exposure

---

Liam's heartfelt words touched Julie deeply.

Julie gave a small nod. Overwhelmed and unsure, she took Liam's advice and returned to the venue with him.

While Sarai wasn't fond of Liam, with Julie's agreement, she had little choice but to accompany them.

At the hall, Liam, with a stern expression, took Fiona, the "mastermind", to the center.

Despite the hiccup, the plan would continue. Now that Julie had returned, it presented an opportunity for her to witness Liam's actions.

Before the gathered crowd, Liam lifted Fiona's veil!

Among those in attendance, a significant number hailed from the delta region. Recognizing Fiona as a member of the Dark Night Organization, they were stunned.

Wasn't the Dark Night Organization aligned with the Hoffman family? Why would a member from the delta region disrupt the wedding of the Hoffman family?

Had they turned against the Hoffman family?

Sitting on the main seat, Sergio wore a frown. When Liam had previously visited the delta region, Sergio had familiarized himself with the Dark Night Organization members there for safety.

Even in his old age, his memory was sharp. He instantly recognized Fiona as belonging to the delta region's branch of the Dark Night Organization.

His confusion mirrored the crowd's. Why would one of Dark Night Organization members cause such chaos?

Feigning surprise, Liam queried Fiona, "Fiona, why did you disrupt such an important moment for the Hoffman family? Haven't the Hoffman family always treated you well?"

Fiona wore a bitter smile, remarking, "I had to do that to repay the debt of gratitude I owe the Hoffman family."

Liam acted as if he were taken aback and responded with irritation, "Repay? Do you think you're repaying the favor?"

Fiona persisted, "I couldn't stand to watch the Hoffman family's dignity tarnished. So, I must inform you that Julie, who is going to marry into the Hoffman family, is having an affair with another man. The child she carries isn't yours, Mr. Hoffman."

Her revelation sent the hall into a whirlwind of gasps and chatter.

"Damn it! How could such a scandal arise? Thank goodness it's been unveiled. Had Liam truly wedded her, the Hoffman family would be the butt of jokes!"

"Who on earth would dare to have an affair with Mr. Hoffman's fiancée?"

"Whoever he is, he's surely in trouble now!"

Meanwhile, the Sandoval family members snickered covertly. They hadn't foreseen this twist and eagerly awaited the unfolding drama.

Timothy, however, looked visibly distressed in a corner, sensing impending doom.

Had the secret really been discovered?

In contrast, Vivian shot up, declaring vehemently, "This is utter rubbish! Clearly, she's been paid to frame me!"

Turning to Liam, she sought his affirmation, oblivious to the fact that he was the mastermind behind the scenes.

Sergio's fury was palpable. What was meant to be a joyous occasion had spiraled into a mess. Now this ridiculous claim emerged.

Slamming his hand onto the table, he demanded, "Fiona, explain yourself immediately. I need a name. Who did you witness having an affair with my soon-to-be granddaughter-in-law?"

The old saying states, "Where there's smoke, there's fire." Sergio, at this point, was less concerned about his family's reputation. There was still time to remedy this. However, to allow such a scandalous woman into the Hoffman family would surely tarnish their name.

 I want no ads >

