An Understated Dominance by Marina Chapter 1954

Chapter 1954

As everyone walked along, they saw nothing but desolation.

Everywhere he passed, there was nothing but sand, and there was no breath of life at all.

However, what is displayed in front of them now is another extreme scene.

Looking around, there is a green area ahead, full of flowers, plants and trees. It can be said to be green and full of vitality.

From a distance, it looks like a huge forest with no end in sight.

It wouldn't be strange to see such a scene in a rainforest area.

But now, everyone is in the desert of death, in a harsh environment with no grass growing, and suddenly they see such a leafy oasis.

The shock in his heart was beyond description.

The oasis in front of them seemed to be two different worlds from where they were.

One side is lifeless and full of yellow sand; the other side is full of life and green trees.

“Oh my God! I didn't expect that there is such a place in the desert of death?” ”

What kind of oasis is this? This is clearly a forest!” ”

Surrounded by green trees, delicious grass, and colorful fallen flowers, it is truly a paradise. “!”

“...”

Looking at the beautiful scenery ahead, everyone couldn't help but marvel.

Most of the oases they had seen before were small woods.

In the woods, there is a pond, some flowers, plants and trees, plus some insects, fish, birds and beasts, that's all.

However, now, the oasis standing in front of us is more like a forest, with endless branches and luxuriant leaves as far as the eye can see.

It is truly a spectacle.

"Captain, when we entered the Death Desert last year, there shouldn't be this oasis, right? I didn't expect that such a big change would happen in just one year?" the short-haired woman from the Black Scorpion Team sighed.

Look at those lush flowers, plants and trees. Normally, it would be impossible for them to grow so tall in just ten or eight years. "It may be that the movement of the earth's crust caused the underground river to overflow, resulting in such a scene." Leo Alexander gave his own explanation.

But this explanation is obviously not convincing enough.

Putting aside the harsh environment of the Death Desert, even if there is sufficient rain and sunshine, it is impossible to have such lush vegetation.

In the middle of the desert, a forest appeared out of thin air, which obviously went against common sense.

"What a treasure land of Feng Shui!" Kevin Snow said brightly, "There must be many treasures hidden in it!"

He had always been doubtful about Feng Yao's words before.

Now after seeing this wonderful scene, he has already believed most of it.

"There may be many treasures, but there are definitely many dangers. You must be careful after entering." Margaret reminded.

“We have a large number of people and many experts. Even if we encounter danger, I believe we can survive it safely.” Kevin Snow was very optimistic.

With Billy Ruso, the desert dragon, in charge, there will definitely be no problem in terms of safety.

If it doesn't work, just stay away from the edge for a few days.

He has already notified the Golden Knife Sect, and the elders and guardians within the sect will arrive soon.

By then, no matter how powerful the monster is, it will be easily defeated.

“Everyone, let's go explore the road before dawn.”

Billy Ruso couldn't wait. After saying a few words, he took the lead and walked into the oasis forest.

“Let's go.”

Margaret didn't say much and led a large army, following Billy Ruso.

Soon, a team of nearly a hundred people burst into the oasis in a mighty manner.

As soon as they entered the oasis, everyone felt that the heat on their bodies was swept away and replaced by coolness.

The breeze blows on the face, and it also carries a special floral fragrance, which makes people feel relaxed and happy.

After staying in the desert for a few days and suffering a lot, he suddenly appeared in a place where birds were singing and flowers were fragrant.
