Married At First Sight Chapter 2763-Sonny was very disappointed.

He can't cause his friend to be punished just to save him, right?

After hearing what Titus said, Serenity asked him curiously, "Can you understand medical books? Can you copy them?"

Titus and Sonny were similar in age, and Sonny could write a few simple numerals and recite a few poems.

Both Serenity and Liberty felt that in the early childhood stage, the main thing was to let the children eat well, drink well, and have fun so that they could have a happy childhood without adding too much learning pressure to the children.

So Sonny went to kindergarten very relaxed and happy.

That's it. Sonny didn't want to go to kindergarten for a while. Every day when she screamed, she would say she didn't want to go to kindergarten.

The novelty was over.

"I can't understand. My master will teach me to memorize medical books. I can memorize them, but I don't know what they mean. I have to copy them, even if I can't. Otherwise, my master will not give me the delicious food. I copy very slowly. When I was punished, I was asked to copy a page of a medical book, and it took me a long time to copy it."

Although Titus was very smart, knew many more words than Sonny, and could also write, after all, he was a child of three or four years old. It was still a huge task for him to copy so many words in a medical book.

He was frightened after being punished once. As long as the master told him that he had made a mistake and needed to copy the medical book, he would not dare to make a mistake, honestly.

Serenity touched Titus's head lovingly and said distressedly, "Thank you for your hard work."

Sonny was still living a carefree life, but Titus was about to undergo devilish training.

Fortunately, the old genius doctor and the others knew how to be relaxed and did not force Titus unreasonably. After a while, they would give him a few days off and take him back to Annenburg to stay at FC Manor for a few days to relax. Don't push it too far, and it will be counterproductive.

It was the first time for Mrs. Lewis to see Titus. After hearing Titus's words, Mrs. Lewis asked Serenity, "The eldest mistress of the Johnson family plans to train Titus to be a doctor? Even if she trains a doctor, there is no need to wait for three years. When I was four years old, I was forced to copy medical books."

Serenity brought Sonny and Titus to the Lewis family and only told Mrs. Lewis that Titus was Jane's adopted son but did not clarify that he was the apprentice of the fourth young lady of the Johnson family.

After hearing what Mrs. Lewis said, she smiled and said, "Titus is Dr. Carden's successor, the same Dr. Carden who helped Camryn treat her eyes."

Mrs. Lewis suddenly realized—no wonder the little guy was punished for copying medical books at such a young age. He turned out to be the apprentice of Divine Dr. Carden.

Serenity let the two children play for a while, while she whispered to Mrs. Lewis not to tell anyone about Titus's visit, let alone anything related to Titus in front of outsiders.

Mrs. Lewis didn't know why, but when she saw Serenity's serious expression, she nodded and said, "I will keep it a secret, not even to your Uncle Lewis."

Mr. Lewis was not at home today.

Serenity said, "Thank you, auntie."

She looked at the time and said, "Auntie, I will take the two little ones back first. Jane is probably waiting. They will go back to Annenburg in the afternoon."

It was Sonny who showed off to Titus how good Duncan was, so Titus wanted to follow Sonny to the Lewis family. After consulting Jane and Ben, Serenity dared to bring Titus to the Lewis family. Following them were four bodyguards from the York family.

They followed, mainly to protect Titus but also to try to block the news about Titus.

Titus had to hide when he was alive. Only with so many people and so many forces could he be protected. When he went out, he didn't dare to take it lightly.

Mrs. Lewis was quite reluctant and said, "I have to go back so soon. I just came here. The eldest mistress of the Johnson family came here on a private plane. I can ask her to go back later."

She couldn't bear to leave Sonny.

Mrs. Lewis now regards Sonny as her grandson.

If there is no blood relationship, there is no blood relationship.

Sonny was a sensible child, and the adults around him had good views. Sonny would not be any worse in the future.
