

Read Married At First Sight Chapter 2782

Married At First Sight Chapter 2782-Hayden didn't tell Kevin but just said, "My parents were shopping outside. I remembered that I needed some daily necessities, so I asked my mom to buy them for me to save my butler a trip."

Kevin said, Oh, and didn't ask any more questions.

The elevator took the two people down to the first floor.

Kevin wanted to kiss her in the elevator, but he had no chance.

In the Queen Enterprise, he still dared not be presumptuous. Hayden needed to save face and maintain her dignity. After all, she was the head president of the Queen Enterprise.

Kevin drove Hayden away from the Queen Enterprise in his car, and Hayden's driver and bodyguard also followed.

Because after dinner, Hayden still needed to discuss business with Mr. Miles.

When Kevin and the others arrived at the Fortress Hotel, Liberty and Duncan had not returned yet. They waited for about half an hour before Liberty and the others returned to the Fortress Hotel.

Liberty was in a bad mood. She pushed Duncan into the hotel. Duncan kept turning his head to talk to her, and she didn't answer much.

Duncan knew the reason for her bad mood.

Even though she said too many words of comfort, it failed to improve her mood, so Duncan stopped saying any more words of comfort.

Liberty needed to adjust her mentality.

She felt better after going upstairs to the private room arranged by Kevin.

"Brother Duncan."

When Kevin saw Liberty pushing Duncan in, he quickly stood up and went forward to help Liberty.

Liberty said, "Kevin, your brother Duncan can walk a few steps on his own."

Without Kevin's help, Liberty pushed Duncan to the table and stopped. Duncan stood up on his own, walked two steps, and then sat down in front of the table.

Hayden also stood up. She greeted the two politely.

“On the way back, there was a traffic jam, and I kept you waiting.” Liberty adjusted her mood and became strong and confident again.

“It’s okay; we have just arrived. Sister Liberty, has everything been taken care of?”

After everyone sat down, Hayden poured a cup of hot tea for each of them and asked Liberty with concern.

Liberty hummed.

“That’s good. Mr. Lewis, will you go back tomorrow?” Hayden asked in a low voice.

Duncan said gently, “I just came here to take a look. I will go back tomorrow afternoon. There are many things in the company. I picked up Sonny on Friday afternoon. I will bring him over again. He said he misses his mother.”

Hayden said, “Sonny is so young. Sister Liberty, you left him in Wiltspoon, and it’s already great that he doesn’t cry. It’s normal for him to miss you.”

Fortunately, Liberty and Serenity took care of Sonny when he was a child. Liberty was not at home, and he could accept it with Serenity taking care of him.

Duncan said, “This time I came here on an impromptu basis and didn’t tell Sonny. Sonny didn’t know I was coming to Jensburg until he went to my house. He called me to complain that I wasn’t honest, and I didn’t even say a word to him when I came over.”

Mentioning Sonny, Duncan smiled.

It could be seen that he really loved Sonny.

No wonder he conquered Liberty’s heart in the end. His love for Sonny was sincere.

For women who are mothers, their children are their bottom line.

Married At First Sight Chapter 2783-Everyone laughed.

Kevin had arranged in advance that after Duncan and Liberty returned, the waiter would start serving the dishes.

The meal was also lively, and everyone was happy.

After the meal, Hayden quickly said goodbye. She needed to return to the Greenrest Hotel to discuss cooperation with Mr. Miles.

Fortunately, the Greenest Hotel and the Fortress Hotel were very close to each other, diagonally opposite.

No matter how close they were, Kevin insisted on sending Hayden there.

Liberty pushed Duncan out of the hotel and wandered around the streets near the hotel, visiting the night market in Jensburg and enjoying the night view of Jensburg.

“Do you feel better?” Duncan asked Liberty behind him.

After Liberty was silent, she said, “I have calmed down. In the future, the things I encounter will be more cruel than what I encounter now. If I can’t face what happened this time, I don’t have to stay in Jensburg. Now, let’s go back to Wiltspoon and continue to manage my restaurant.”

That would be a failure to live up to Audrey’s trust and expectations.

“That’s fine if you can think about it. You’ve been shopping for so long, and there’s nothing you want to buy?” Duncan turned to her and asked, “What do you want? Let’s buy it, and I’ll give it to you.”

Liberty smiled. “I can buy it myself; I don’t need you to give it to me.”

“I am your boyfriend now, and I will be the man you spend the rest of your life with. We don’t have to be so clear about it. I haven’t given you any gifts. If I did, you wouldn’t want them. To be honest, there is a guest room at home, and the guest room is filled with all kinds of gifts that you women like.

They are all gifts I prepared for you. Some are for you, but you don’t accept them. Some are gifts I haven’t given yet, and I know you won’t accept them, so I have to put them there first. From now on, we will become a family. Those things naturally become yours.

If you don’t use it, it will be a waste of our little family’s money. After all, you are reluctant to let our little family’s money be wasted.”

Liberty: “...”

In the past, she did not accept Duncan, saying that she did not want to remarry; she only wanted to make money, start a career, and raise her son. Therefore, she almost refused to accept the gifts Duncan gave her, not even the bouquets and expensive luxuries.

It turned out that he had more expensive gifts that he had not sent to her, and he guessed that she would not accept them.

Liberty: “Even if we form a small family in the future, how much jewelry can I wear? How many skin care products and cosmetics can I use? How many sets of clothes can I wear? How many bags can I carry?”

Duncan: “You can change it to a different style every hour.”

Liberty said amusingly, “I’m not a model. I wear the same clothes on and off the stage.”

Duncan also laughed, “Then I will buy less clothes and more jewelry. If you have worn it and don’t want to wear it, you can leave it. When Sonny gets married in the future, you can give it to our daughter-in-law, or you can leave it to your granddaughters to inherit. I want to be a grandfather as well as a father.”

Duncan blushed slightly and smiled. “Thinking about the good days in the future, I am confident and motivated to persist in rehabilitation, strive to recover as soon as possible, and marry you. Liberty, I will definitely give you a grand wedding, like Zachary and Serenity’s; you will have everything Serenity has, and you will have everything she doesn’t have.”

