

Chapter 804 The Cemetery

Sensing Julie's intention, Liam stopped her before she could take another action. "Julie, let me deal with them," he told her. "Go to Asher and cover his eyes. I don't want him to see such a brutal scene."

As soon as he said that, a menacing aura burst out of his body. Within a blink of an eye, he made a move.

Before any of the men could react, one of them was knocked over by Liam's punch, sending him crashing to the other four men standing behind him.

Seeing this, Ruben began to panic. He waved his hand at his men and ordered, "He's alone. You can take him on if you fight him all together!"

At his command, all those men rushed forward. As they approached, a look of contempt flashed in Liam's eyes. He was relentless with his attacks. With just a single punch, he was able to knock down several people.

Liam's punches were so strong that any men who happened to be on their receiving end were sure to suffer broken bones after. Even the simple movement of Liam's fist could summon a harsh tempest, capable of injuring anyone nearby.

Before any of the men could react, one of them was knocked over by Liam's punch, sending him crashing to the other four men standing behind him.

Seeing this, Ruben began to panic. He waved his hand at his men and ordered, "He's alone. You can take him on if you fight him all together!"

At his command, all those men rushed forward. As they approached, a look of contempt flashed in Liam's eyes. He was relentless with his attacks. With just a single punch, he was able to knock down several people.

Liam's punches were so strong that any men who happened to be on their receiving end were sure to suffer broken bones after. Even the simple movement of Liam's fist could summon a harsh tempest, capable of injuring anyone nearby.

In less than a minute, Liam managed to knock down all forty-three people, including Ruben.

Without exception, all of them were seriously injured.

If Liam hadn't held back his strength and decided not to kill them, they would've been all corpses by now.

Julia, who had watched the fight from the side, had her jaw slacked in awe.

Since she had received training from the killer organization, she could feel the change in strength when other people started attacking. As she watched Liam launch an assault to those men, she noticed how much his strength had grown compared to five years ago.

For a master like Liam, it was difficult to progress in strength any further. But when she saw that his strength had exponentially grown, Julie was now curious what he must've gone through during the past five years to improve this much.

Liam looked down on Ruben, whose body was trembling in fear. "If you don't want to die, crawl to my father-in-law's tomb and kneel down in front of it. Then, bow your head one hundred times!"

Although Liam's recent display in strength terrified him to the core, Ruben remained defiant. He struggled to push himself off the ground as he threatened, "Don't be so arrogant, you brat! My family have shares in this cemetery. If you dare to lay a finger on me, I will call someone to demolish the tomb of your father-in-law sooner or later."

At the mention of those words, a murderous intent flared in Liam's heart. He clenched his fists, ready to deliver the killing blow to Ruben.

However, before he could do it, Julie intervened and pulled Liam back. "Don't be so impulsive, Liam," she admonished him. "He's right. If we kill him today, his family might avenge him in the future. If that happened, then my father won't be able to rest in peace."

Ruben overheard what Julie said and became more cocky. The fear in his heart gradually lessened as he said, "You are afraid now, huh? Apologize to me right now. We could resolve..."

Before he could finish what he was saying, Liam slapped Ruben, knocking him down to the ground and shutting him up.

He stood over Ruben and looked down on him once again. "Do you think you can threaten us?" he uttered with disdain. "As far as I know, you're not the only one in charge of the cemetery, right?"

Surprised that Liam knew this, Ruben gritted his teeth and insisted, "It's under my family's control. Do you think you're the owner of this cemetery?"

Liam sneered and responded, "Soon, it will belong to me. If I want to, I can take away this cemetery at any time."

Liam said these words matter-of-factly.

Before coming back to Salem, he made sure to research the current force of Salem, including its largest cemetery. Now that everyone's eyes were on Liam, he couldn't afford to have any weakness that his enemies could exploit.

When Julie first mentioned that she wanted to go to the cemetery, Liam had already expected that someone might do something to Ulises' tomb. However, he didn't expect this intrusion to happen so soon.

On the way to the cemetery, he had already given an order to the governor and asked for the ownership of the cemetery. Based on his earlier calculation, the person in charge of the cemetery transfer should be arriving in a few minutes.