Chapter 1086

They used all their strength but still could not match up to the speed of the avalanche. Many experts were buried.

Fortunately, being buried under this level of snow was not fatal. However, if it continued or happened again, that would be troublesome...

Andrius took advantage of the chaos and left the area.

The fighter jet also left.

“Argh!”

“Andrius, you bastard!”

“I’ll remember this humiliation today!”

“Andrius Moonshade...”

Not long after, the experts emerged from the snow. All of them had grimy faces. There was no trace of the demeanor and grace befitting of a martial expert as they cursed vehemently.

“Everyone, I have something to say.” Norvin was stronger, so his appearance was relatively less disheveled. He calmly analyzed, “Although Andrius is powerful now, he’s not capable of taking on the entire martial world alone.”

Everyone nodded in agreement.

Yes, Andrius was powerful, but he had not reached the point where his strength was absolute. Once he exhausted his strength, he could still be easily killed.

“Thus...” Norvin continued, “It’s clear that someone instructed Andrius to intercept the strongest individuals and kill them. This person’s goal is undoubtedly to become the chief of the Ancient Martial Alliance. So, I have an idea.”

Norvin looked at everyone and said after a pause, “As long as we don’t let the person behind Andrius become the Alliance Chief, it doesn’t matter if Andrius runs away.

“At that time, no matter who among us is selected as the chief, we just need to give the order and mobilize the martial forces of Florence to kill Andrius.

“We’ll make sure he’s dead as a doornail!”

Norvin’s words immediately gained unanimous approval.

“What a brilliant plan!”

“I think it’s feasible.”

“That’s what we should do!”

Seeing everyone agree, Norvin shouted, “In that case, let’s return to Valdez Village first. Andrius can’t escape.”

The various experts returned to Valdez Village and immediately contacted their forebearers and fighters to come.

These were all figures who had dominated Florence in the past. They were all prominent existences and possessed the strength of the Martial God realm!

Each one of them was enough to give Andrius a run for his money.

If they joined forces....

It would be extraordinary.

On the other side of Mount Valdez, Luna had been waiting for news about Andrius. She waited all day but did not receive a reply from him.

“Did something happen?”

She felt a slight unease in her heart.

After a moment of contemplation, she gritted her teeth and summoned the Dragon Manor. Then, she headed for Valdez Village.

As soon as she arrived, she was stopped by the guards at the entrance.

“This is Valdez Village. Outsiders are to leave quickly, or don’t blame us for being impolite!”

The guards did not relax just because Luna was beautiful. Instead, they were more vigilant due to the death of their Tower Master, Nile Orior.

Luna frowned and said, “I’m the Wolf King’s wife. I’ve come here to...”

Swoosh!

Clang!

Before she could finish speaking, the guard who heard her say the words ‘Wolf King’s wife’ immediately became infuriated and drew their swords.

The other guard shouted into the tower and called for reinforcements. “There’s someone who claims to be the Wolf King’s wife at the mountain gate. Send support quickly!”

Chapter 1087

Luna had the strength of a Martial King.

The guards could sense some of that power, so they acted cautiously.

Luna frowned and was just about to ask what was going on but was not given the chance to.

Swoosh!

Swoosh!

Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh –

Numerous experts rushed out from inside, preparing to surround her.

“Where are the experts from my Dragon Manor?” Luna did not back down and immediately summoned Marcellus and the other Dragon Manor experts.

Both sides confronted each other nervously, on the verge of a major battle.

“You’re Andrius’ Moonshade’s wife?” An elder from the Beholden Clan stared straight at Luna, channeling all hatred for the death of his clan master to her, and prepared to launch an attack.

“Wait!”

Just then, a shout came from inside.

It was Kate leading the members of the Medicine Sect out. She frowned as she looked around, more or less understanding what had happened, and sighed softly.

Then, she said to Luna, “Ms. Crestfall, you shouldn’t have come.”

Luna became even more confused and asked, “Ms. Klein, what’s going on?”

“Your husband...”

Kate pursed her lips with slight anger and resentment. “The Wolf King intercepted and killed the strongest experts of various forces on Wyndsheer Slope. Thus, with your identity as his wife, everyone hates and resents you!”

Luna’s expression instantly darkened. She knew that Andrius was involved in Old Hagstorm’s plans. However, he did not tell her about this. This incident was simply a mess.

“That can’t be!” Luna’s mind was spinning with various thoughts as she refuted, “I know Andrius. He will never commit such a treacherous act!”

“Heh...” Kate sneered. “Whether you believe it or not, the truth is right in front of you. Andrius not only killed the top experts of many forces but also personally killed my grandfather. He pierced his heart with a spear right in front of me. Now, he’s the enemy of the entire martial world!”

“No, that’s just impossible!”

Luna’s reaction was extremely intense upon hearing this. She shook her head and immediately began defending Andrius. “I know Andrius’ character. He would never harm someone who helped him!

Chapter 1087

“Sect Master Klein is his benefactor. It’s impossible for Andrius to kill him.....” Luna’s words were spoken in a rush.

However, before she could finish speaking, Kate suddenly struck a palm at her chest.

“Pfft

Luna was caught off guard and sputtered out blood Fortunately, an expert from the Dragon Manor held her in time.

“Luna Crestfall!” Kate’s expression was cold as ice and emotionless. She pointed to Wade’s corpse in the hall and said angrily. “You keep saying that he won’t do that. Then, is my grandfather’s corpse fake?”

Luna looked over

Wade lay stiffly there, his body already rigid. The wound on his chest had already formed dried blood clots

Luna paled, instantly speechless.

“He stabbed my grandfather to death in front of everyone!” As Kate spoke, a deathly cold smile appeared on her lips, and tears shimmered in her eyes. “He’s gone mad!

“I’m telling you now, Luna. I won’t kill you today for the sake of our past friendship. However, the next time we meet, I’ll definitely pierce a hole in your chest in the same way!” Kate spoke firmly, leaving no room for negotiation.

Chapter 1088

Luna knew she was wrong and fell silent.

"Luna, remember that Andrius is the enemy of all of us. You'd better be careful!"

"Luna, after today, we'll definitely chase Andrius to the ends of the earth. You'd better stay away from him!"

"Luna"

The people in the hall chimed in with harsh words

Luna was silent and cast a deep look at everyone Then, she left Valdez Village in a daze with the Dragon Manor experts She went back to Hertan

"Master. "Marcellus said in concern, "What should we do now?"

"No..."

Luna shook her head and muttered to herself, seemingly answering Marcellus, "I know Andrius. He would never repay kindness with ingratitude. There must be something going on Marcellus and the other experts exchanged glances and fell silent.

A moment later, Luna raised her head and looked at Marcellus. "Let's do this... Contact Master I want to ask him what's going on."

She knew that Old Hagstorm had a plan, but she did not know the details. The current situation was beyond what she expected. She had to plan to deal with this unexpected turn of events

"Yes!" Marcellus answered and said to the elders, "Wait here for me and treat her. I'll go contact Old Hagstorm now."

Then, he left while the four Martial King elders took turns healing Luna

Half a day later, Marcellus returned alone.

He said with concern, "How is your injury?"

"I'm fine "Luna shook her head "Kate held back, so I only suffered some minor injuries. With the help of the elders, I've mostly recovered. Did you contact Master?"

That was what Luna cared about the most

Marcellus face darkened as he shook his head "No I tried various ways to contact hin, but there was no response

Luna fell silent, her expression darkening She knew that this was a part of Old Hagstopn plan

However, the current situation had exceeded her expectations. She needed to isect wi Old Hagstorm or Laina

Since Old Hagstorm was nowhere to be found, she had to meet with Andr bur De would ask hun what was going on and why he killed Wade Then, they could plan what to do next

At that thought, Luna instructed, "Marcellus, mobilize everyone in the Dragon Manor and find Andrius. Report to me as soon as you find him."

Chapter 1088

"Yes!"

In the western foothill of Mount Valdez, after expressing his gratitude to Anna through the satellite phone, Andrius returned to Immemoria Palace where the Insect Ruler was, and recovered his inner energy.

After an unknown amount of time, when he was fully recovered, a servant sent by the Insect Ruler approached him.

"Wolf King, the Insect Ruler invites you for a chat."

Then, he took the lead and walked ahead, leading the way for Andrius who followed.

After arriving, the Insect Ruler immediately questioned with a dark expression, "Andrius! I heard that you didn't completely eradicate those forces. Why is that? Is it because you want those people to make a comeback and cause trouble for us?"

The Insect Ruler's attitude was extremely terrible.

However, Andrius said nonchalantly, "I killed the strongest of each family. The remaining ones are simply insignificant small fry. Is the great Insect Ruler afraid of such opponents?"

After mocking, he sneered, "Besides, our initial deal was for me to kill the strongest of each family. Slaughtering the weak was never within the scope of our cooperation.

"If

you still don't trust me, you can go clean up the remnants of those families now. You can exterminate them and eliminate your future troubles!

"Besides, your goal is to become the Ancient Martial Alliance Chief. If I exterminate all the strongest of each family, you won't be able to achieve that goal..."

1089

"In that case, wouldn't you have been living so many years like a dog?"

The death of Lewis and the other soldiers fueled Andrius' immense anger and hatred toward the Insect Ruler.

Although the Insect Ruler had indeed killed the white wolf king, the soldiers would never come back to life. Thus, Andrius did not hold back at all when he mocked the Insect Ruler.

"You! Andrius, do you really think I have a good temper?" the Insect Ruler shouted and leaped like a cheetah, lunging straight for Andrius.

In mid-air, his inner energy surged. Each strand was filled with killing intent like thunderclaps. It was clear that the Insect Ruler was genuinely angered.

Swoosh!

Andrius did not expect the Insect Ruler to be so impulsive and attack first, so he could only defend himself as best as he could. He countered each attack as they came and was at a disadvantage for some time.

Soon, during the third attack, Andrius gradually stabilized his position. He lifted his hands to force the Insect Ruler back. Then, he gripped the Argentum Qilin Spear and prepared to unleash the Burden of Nine Skies.

Swoosh...

With a sharp sound, the spear blossomed with cold brilliance.

It seemed that the two were about to have an all-out battle and create an irreversible situation.

"Stop!"

An old figure rushed over from a distance. With a loud shout and a palm strike, the inner energy on the tip of Andrius' spear was dissolved.

It was none other than Old Hagstorm.

"Andrius!" Old Hagstorm scolded with some anger, "Since you're working together, if there's a problem, then sit down and talk it out. Why are you getting angry?"

Andrius frowned and said, "Master, I'm only fulfilling my obligations according to our cooperation. It was the Insect Ruler who attacked me first. I was acting in self-defense.

"So, you still remember that this is a cooperation?" Old Hagstorm rebuked Andrius, but he knew that Andrius was upset, so he softened his tone. "Alright, let's leave it at that. You must be tired from the consecutive battles. Go now.

The Insect Ruler looked at Andrius' departing figure and narrowed his eyes, terrifying flashes.

constantly flickering inside. "Old Hagstorm, I suspect that Andrius is not completely aligned with us."

Old Hagstorm glanced at him and said faintly, "I know Andrius well. He won't disobey any of my orders. Even if I told him to cut off his own head, he won't complain. Don't make baseless find Andrius. Report to me as soon as you find him."

"Yes!"

In the western foothill of Mount Valdez, after expressing his gratitude to Anna through the satellite phone, Andrius returned to Immemoria Palace where the Insect Ruler was, and recovered his inner energy.

After an unknown amount of time, when he was fully recovered, a servant sent by the Insect Ruler approached him.

Chapter 1090

In Hertan, after Marcellus got the news, he immediately informed Luna. “Master! A message just came from Old Hagstorm. He has urgent matters to deal with and can’t meet with you. However, he learned about Andrius’ whereabouts.

Luna had a troubled expression. When she heard his words, she immediately said, “Tell me.”

“Andrius is resting in a place called Immemoria Palace in Mount Valdez.”

Immemoria Palace?

Luna frowned. She had never heard of that place before.

“Master, Immemoria Palace is a mysterious hall on the western foothill of Mount Valdez. It’s not far away—about half an hour’s walk along a fork in the road to Valdez Village.”

Marcellus briefly explained the location of Immemoria Palace and asked, “Shall we all go and see what the situation is?”

Luna contemplated for a moment and raised her hand. “No need. If you all go, it might make Andrius more cautious and unwilling to tell me the truth. I’ll go alone. That should be enough.”

“That’s...” Marcellus hesitated and said, “Master, you haven’t eaten yet. How about having your meal first before looking for the Wolf King?”

Luna had been rushing back and forth and was indeed a bit hungry, so she agreed.

Not long after that, she finished her meal and set off alone for Mount Valdez, heading toward Immemoria Palace.

Just as she reached the area around the western foothill, the sentries hidden between the snow and ice peaks noticed her.

Thus, one of the sentries instructed the others to continue keeping an eye on her while he went back to report to the Insect Ruler.

In Immemoria Palace, the Insect Ruler took a sip of wine and said in a low voice, “Old Hagstorm, the situation has reached a critical moment. There must be no room for mistakes

Otherwise, all our plans will be in vain. That is not the outcome I want

The Insect Ruler spoke with a heavy tone.

Old Hagstorm glanced at him and said faintly, “Don’t worry, Insect Ruler I also don’t want the efforts we’ve put in to end up in vain. You and I have the same goal and are heading in the Same direction”

The Insect Ruler’s tone softened considerably. He refilled his own cup and Old Hagstorm’s cup as well

Then, he lifted his cup and clinked it lightly with Old Hagstorm’s “In that case, let’s toast to a smooth journey and our success!”

Old Hagstorm also raised his cup “A smooth journey and our success!”

“Sir-”

Chapter 1090

Just then, a shout came from the outside.

Then, someone ran over to the Insect Ruler. He hesitated for a moment and glanced at Old Hagstorm by the side.

Seeing this, Old Hagstorm snorted in dissatisfaction.

The Insect Ruler frowned and said coldly, "Old Hagstorm is one of us. If there's something to say, then speak up. There's no need to be secretive."

"Yes, sir." The servant immediately said, "Insect Ruler, just now, the sentries outside found Andrius' wife, Luna Crestfall. She's climbing up the western foothills of Mount Valdez. Judging by the direction, she seems to be heading to Immemoria Palace."

Luna Crestfall!

The Insect Ruler's eyes narrowed as a playful glint flashed on his face.

"Perfect. She's arrived at just the right time. Hahaha-"

He laughed and said to Old Hagstorm, "I'm planning to use Luna to test Andrius and see if he's sincere about cooperating. What do you think?"

The look in Old Hagstorm's eyes was hard to discern, and his expression was meaningful as he agreed easily. "That can work, but..."

The Insect Ruler frowned and looked straight at Old Hagstorm. "But what?"

"But consecutive tests will make Andrius lose patience," Old Hagstorm spoke leisurely.

The Insect Ruler frowned.

Andrius was a Martial God and naturally had his pride. Constant suspicion would indeed cause distance to grow. Even if he was sincere about cooperating at first, that sincerity would crack. Furthermore, the Insect Ruler valued Andrius' strength and hoped that the latter was sincere in cooperating.

Old Hagstorm put down his cup and continued, "Thus, this must be the final attempt to test Andrius. If he completes this task, then you cannot probe him again."

Even a saint had a temper. The Insect Ruler knew that he could not go too far. Thus, he agreed.

"Sure. This will be the last time."
