

Married At First Sight Chapter 2901 -

Married At First Sight Chapter 2901-The other party hung up the phone on Carrie.

Carrie was so angry that she wanted to throw her phone away. She raised it and put it down again. She couldn't break her phone just because Camryn dropped it.

If they don't come, they won't come. There will be times in the future when they will regret it.

Carrie ran to the door of the villa. She was about to yell, but she saw Camryn coming out. Accompanying Camryn was Callum. This man was what Carrie had liked from the beginning. Before anything happened to her parents, her mother had been planning to get her and Callum together.

As a result, Callum became Camryn's man!

Carrie was envious and jealous, especially after believing that Mr. Labbe had raped her and that she was therefore only Mr. Labbe's mistress. She became even more jealous of Camryn.

"Camryn, you finally came out. I thought you didn't dare to come out!" Carrie shouted, "Give me money; I don't have any money to eat. You occupied my family's property and instigated Trenton to convince my parents to transfer all the property to his name. You just wanted to get all the Newman family's property through Trenton. You think I don't know your plan? That idiot, Trenton!"

Carrie scolded Trenton.

Trenton did think about transferring all the property that his parents had transferred to him to Camryn and letting her take care of it.

Camryn refused; she only took back what belonged to her.

It was not hers, and she wouldn't take it.

After taking away what belonged to her, the family property that Trenton received was actually not much. They all said that the main artery of the Newman family was now in Camryn's hands.

"You have no money to eat. For the sake of the same mother, I can't let you starve to death. I have prepared some money for you, but you need to count it yourself. Butler, give her the money. When she gets the money, let her go." Camryn said.

Only then did Carrie see the butler of Wildridge Manor coming out with the young couple.

The butler was holding a black plastic bag in his hand. The mouth of the bag was knotted. He didn't know what was inside. It seemed that he had no difficulty holding it. It seemed that it wasn't anything valuable.

The butler took a few steps forward, handed the black plastic bag to Carrie, and said, "This is the meal money the Second Young Mistress gave you. Take the money and leave quickly. If you don't leave, I'll have someone come to you again and put the smelly socks in your mouth!"

Carrie couldn't believe that the bag contained money.

Camryn was so generous and gave her a big bag of money?

She took the black bag and untied the knot with the mentality of seeking confirmation. She opened the bag and took a look twice. They were really money. She immediately reopened the bag. Knot the bag.

Taking the big bag of money, she said to Camryn, "You know what's going on; otherwise, I'll come to your husband's house every day to make trouble. Anyway, I'm not afraid of embarrassment."

After saying that, Carrie walked away triumphantly.

Returning to her car, she quickly drove away.

The proud Carrie thought she had won. When she returned to her rental house, she couldn't wait to open the bag again and pour all the money in the bag on the coffee table.

She was dumbfounded.

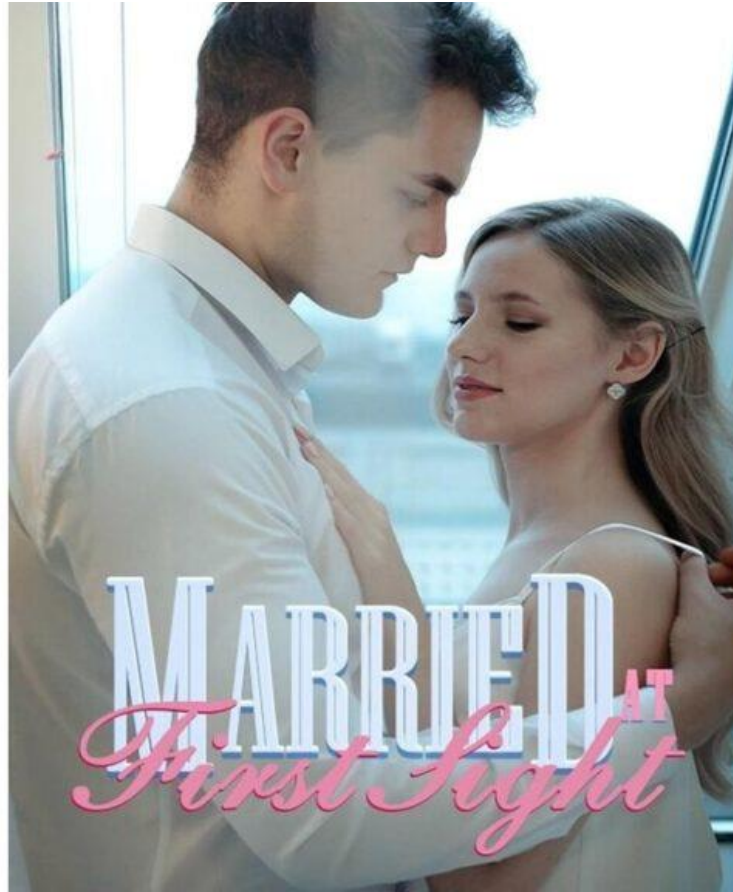

That big bag of money was all loose money, with very small denominations. They were all fifty-cent and one-cent denominations. There were also many coins. The coins were also ten cents and fifty cents. That was all she saw. Those $100 bills were the largest denominations.

The money in $100 denominations, a total of $300, was used to cover up the loose money underneath and deceive her.

She glanced at it twice without taking a closer look. After confirming that it was money, she walked away triumphantly, thinking that Camryn was finally afraid of her.

Camryn had already told her to count the money by herself. There were so many dimes; even if she finished counting them, there wouldn't be much left.

How could she have the nerve to shell out a lot of dimes when she went out to spend money?

Married At First Sight Chapter 2902-Carrie visually estimated that the sum of all the money was less than $1000.

Carrie was so angry that she immediately called Camryn and scolded: “Camryn, what do you mean? I asked you to give me money. This is not how you insult people. Sending beggars, sending beggars, everyone... I hate the money you gave me.”

Camryn said coolly, “Didn’t you ask me to give you meal money? That’s meal money, and a dime is money. Count them up. If you add them all up, there should be a thousand or several hundred dollars. Eating out for a fast food meal only costs ten or twenty dollars, which is enough for you to eat for a while. If you buy and cook your own food, it might take longer.

My mother-in-law mobilized all the people in the villa and took out all the money in their wallets to get so much money for you. You have to thank my mother-in-law. If it’s me, I don’t care if you have money or not. It’s my mother-in-law’s kindness that says you will always be my sister.
“

Carrie: “Camryn, you are so cruel!”

She hung up the phone angrily and swept all the dimes into the trash can. She didn’t want Camryn’s charity!

She was so angry!

What a bully!

Carrie sat on the sofa and was angry for a while, then called Brenda, thinking that she should give these small coins to her and let her count them slowly. No matter how small the mosquito is, it is still meat, no matter how small the denomination. Money is money. She thought Brenda would be very happy.

She wanted to ask Brenda to take away the trash can, and she didn't want to see the money.

"The phone you dialed is switched off."

What Carrie didn't expect was that Brenda's cell phone was turned off.

How does it shut down?

Carrie thought she had dialed the wrong number, so she took the phone away from her ear and checked to make sure she had made the right call. She dialed again and still said it was turned off.

She called Amy again and also turned off her phone.

As for her cousins, none of them had their cell phones turned on. They all turned them off.

No matter how dull she was, Carrie knew that her two aunts and cousins had cut off contact with her and collectively ignored her.

It's best to ignore her!

They always wanted money from Carrie, which was not a good thing.

Carrie consoled herself, yet she could not help but curse: "You must have committed the act, blind Camryn, btch, btch! Wait, one day, you will kneel in front of me and beg me to let you go!"

Looking at the loose money in the trash can, Carrie picked it up and put it on the coffee table. She counted them dime by dime. She wanted to remember how Camryn humiliated her tonight!

Camryn over there had finished her dinner early and was walking in the villa with Callum.

In this season, the scenery in the villa was a little less beautiful, but relatively speaking, it was still very beautiful.

The main reason was that it had not rained in Wiltspoon for a long time.

If it rains, the flowers, plants, and trees will take on a new look, and the air will become fresher.

Camryn said, “The idea Mom came up with is so wonderful.”

Camryn thought that Carrie would be so angry when she opened the bag and actually saw the money in it that she thought her mother-in-law’s method was wonderful.

