An Understated Dominance by Marina Vittori Chapter 2086

He thought that Han Feiyang was the only one in the world who could be considered a hero, and now there was a little gun wizard named Chen Xingwen.

The key is that he and Chen Xingwen are similar in age, but their strength is quite different.

After all, he couldn't even block Yayoi Kusama's sword, but Chen Xingwen was able to fight evenly with her opponent, and even had a slight advantage.

This is enough to show how powerful Chen Xingwen is.

"Brother Lu, who do you think will win in the end, Chen Xingwen or Yayoi Kusama?"

Yan Buqi looked at it and asked Dustin another question.

"Chen Xingwen's marksmanship has indeed reached the pinnacle, and he has rich combat experience. If they are at the same level, then Chen Xingwen has a higher probability of winning." Dustin commented.

"Hmph! Even a blind man can see it, why do you need to tell me?" Liu Hongxue sneered.

Chen Xingwen's attack was so fierce that Yayoi Kusama was unable to fight back. As long as he was not blind, he would naturally know who was strong and who was weak.

Dustin glanced at Liu Hongxue and said calmly: "The prerequisite for Chen Xingwen's victory is that both parties are of the same level, but the problem is that Kusama Yayoi's true cultivation level is higher than Chen Xingwen's."

"Nonsense!"

Liu Hongxue snorted coldly and became even more unhappy: "If the little devil is really as powerful as you say, why don't you fight back? Why are you still being beaten back?"

In my opinion, you just don't know how to pretend to understand and are trying to impress people here!"

He is obviously a warrior from the Dragon Kingdom, but he kneels down and licks a little devil with a national hatred. What is the difference between this kind of behavior and a traitor?

"You'll just know after you read it."

Dustin was too lazy to explain, and it was useless to explain.

After the battle just now, he had already seen that Yayoi Kusama was actually a master-level expert.

In terms of true cultivation, he is much better than Chen Xingwen.

It's just that Yayoi Kusama deliberately lowered her level and planned to compete with Chen Xingwen with the same level of cultivation.

However, Chen Xingwen's marksmanship was so powerful that Yayoi Kusama was no match for him at the same level.

That's why there was a situation where Yayoi Kusama was suppressed and beaten.

But this is just an appearance. As long as Yayoi Kusama is willing, she can break through the situation at any time and defeat Chen Xingwen with the powerful cultivation of a martial arts master.

In other words, the decision of winning or losing has long been in the hands of Yayoi Kusama.

"Shocking Dragon Break!"

Chen Xingwen, who had been attacking for a long time without any results, finally lost his patience. He no longer held back and used his own trick.

I saw him holding a gun with both hands, quickly pulling back to accumulate strength, and then thrust out suddenly.

“Boom~!”

There was only an explosion in the air.

The silver spear in Chen Xingwen’s hand suddenly burst into light, and a large amount of true energy spurted out, transforming into a huge silver dragon head in the air.

The dragon’s head was lifelike, with teeth and claws spread out, carrying terrifying pressure as it roared towards Yayoi Kusama.

Wherever it passed, strong winds roared, sand and rocks flew, and the color of the sky and earth changed.

“Good marksmanship!”

Yayoi Kusama suddenly laughed.

Seeing the huge dragon head surging towards him, he did not dodge or dodge. He held the famous sword Onimaru tightly with both hands, put his clogs on the ground, jumped up high, and then slashed hard at the dragon head.

In an instant, the master’s energy from his body spurted out, forming a shadow of an armor-piercing warrior on his body.

The samurai was three to four meters tall, extremely burly, wearing black armor, and holding a blood-red sword in his hand.

When Yayoi Kusama raised her sword to strike, the black-armored warrior immediately made the same move.

In the blink of an eye, the bloody sword collided with the silver dragon head.
