

MARRIED AT FIRST SIGHT BY GU LINGFEI

Chapter 3043

Chapter 3043

-Seeing that Mr. Labbe still didn't look right, Carrie blamed herself again: "It's my fault.

She heard my voice before I learned how to change it.

It's strange that she didn't doubt it.

She tested me, but I endured it without getting angry." What Camryn said to her was definitely testing her.

Mr. Labbe said coldly, "Your self-control is still not good enough.

If my bodyguards hadn't called you back, you would have exposed your flaws at that time." Carrie opened her mouth to defend herself, but when she faced Mr.

Labbe's cold gaze, she was speechless.

She was ecstatic to see Samira verbally insulting Camryn.

And what Camryn said to her really made her so angry that she almost took action without holding back.

Camryn could always make her angry.

After a while, Carrie said softly, "Mr.

Labbe, I'm sorry; I didn't do a good enough job." Mr.

Labbe looked at her for a moment; his voice became gentler, and he said, "I can't blame you.

You are still young, and your character has already been established.

As the saying goes, it is easy to change the situation, but it is hard to change nature.

In just a short period of time, you have been able to do what you are now; it's already pretty good."

Carrie cursed in her heart.

Well, how could Mr.

Labbe demand so much from her? Her parents gave her a lot of freedom to do as she pleased.

It was only after going in for a while that she got a taste of the warmth of human relationships.

She also knew that her personality was not lovable and that she could easily get into trouble.

When she first came out, she could still control her temper.

As time passed, she returned to her original state.

In Mr.

Labbe's words, her status was easy to change, but her nature was hard to change.

"Did your phone ring?" Mr.

Labbe suddenly asked.

Carrie quickly took out her cell phone, looked at it, and replied, "There were no missed calls, and my cell phone didn't ring during the Erickson family banquet." After Mr. Labbe thought deeply for a moment, he reminded her: "Beware of Camryn calling your original mobile phone number in front of you." Carrie said, "I have set it to mute. No matter who calls my mobile phone number, I can't hear it." Mr. Labbe said, "Well, in short, you should be careful. You bullied Camryn in that way, but she was still able to arrange in secret for a man by the name of Dalton to join Newman's company and aid her in gaining control. She was a very tolerant and calm person." To be honest, Mr. Labbe quite admires women like Camryn. He had a lot of women. Except for his first wife, who was somewhat capable and scheming, his other mistresses were far behind. But his mistress was just a tool for him to change his taste and vent his feelings. Carrie didn't have to spend her whole life with him, as long as she was young, beautiful, and in good shape. "I know." Speaking of Camryn's forbearance, Carrie said bitterly, "That blind woman, if it weren't for her, my parents would be fine." She would not be reduced to Mr. Labbe's mistress or plaything.

Mr. Labbe praised her for being young, beautiful, and having a hot figure, but he had no respect for her at all.

Toss her as much as he wanted, without mercy.

She was young and did not have much experience in relationships, but she had heard people say that a man who really loves you will care about you very much and will not treat you in an abusive manner.

“Go upstairs and take a shower.” Mr. Labbe said calmly.

Carrie said, Oh, and went upstairs carefully.

When will these days end? Carrie returned to her room, took a hot bath, and put on her pajamas.

When she came out of the bathroom, she saw Mr.

Labbe half-lying on her bed with his upper body naked, obviously waiting for her.

His tossing was about to begin again.

Carrie felt a little bored.

As long as he came over, he would hardly give her any time to rest.

He was so old, but he also had such good physical strength that she almost couldn't get up the next day.

Chapter 3044

-Carrie suspected that Mr. Labbe had taken medicine.

“come over.” Mr. Labbe seemed to be in a good mood.

He waved to Carrie.

He quite liked the scent of Carrie just after taking a shower.

“Mr. Labbe.” Carrie came over and called him sweetly.

Although she wanted to kill Mr. Labbe in her heart, unfortunately, she didn't have the ability and could only please him.

When he was happy, her life became easier.

It was best to eat and drink enough and leave Wiltspoon as soon as possible.

As long as he was not around, she could live a happy life.

Although she had to learn etiquette, it was better than facing the uncertain Mr. Labbe every day.

One moment he could be intimate with her, and the next moment he could strangle her neck and make her almost meet her great-grandmother.

Mr. Labbe grabbed Carrie's hand and pulled her to fall on him.

He turned over and pressed her under him.

Just when he was about to attack her, Carrie suddenly pushed him away.

Then she jumped out of bed as quickly as possible and rushed to the bathroom.

Then Mr. Labbe heard the sound of Carrie vomiting in the bathroom.

Mr. Labbe's well-maintained face immediately became frighteningly gloomy.

He had a lot of mistresses, but no one had ever dared to treat him like this.

Carrie was impatient with life! Did she think he had to use her? He could find the chess pieces at any time.

He only liked her because of her hatred for Serenity and Camryn, so he dared to use her boldly.

Others were always afraid of the York family's power.

After a long silence, Mr. Labbe got out of bed and walked into the bathroom.

Seeing Carrie, who was vomiting uncomfortably, he asked coldly, "Does my touch make you so disgusted?" Carrie was vomiting until the sky turned dark, and she was feeling very uncomfortable.

When she heard Mr. Labbe's cold words, she was frightened to death and quickly shook her head.

After barely stopping vomiting, she explained, "Mr. Labbe, it has nothing to do with you.

I don't know why I suddenly felt nauseated and then vomited." Mr. Labbe stared at her for a long time before saying, "I'm sorry you don't have the courage." Nausea, vomiting? Mr. Labbe, who already had a son and a daughter, suddenly asked Carrie, "After every time, don't you take medicine?" Carrie: "..."

She understood the meaning of Mr. Labbe's words and said with a look of disbelief, "I have taken medicine, but I don't take medicine every time.

Do I need to take medicine every time?" She thought taking the medicine twice would be enough.

Mr. Labbe softened his expression and said calmly, "Tomorrow, I will have someone come over to take your pulse and check it." Carrie asked, "Mr. Labbe, what if I am really pregnant and the child is yours?"

"Kill it off!" Mr. Labbe said it ruthlessly.

"I'm still pregnant after taking the medicine.

This child is destined to us." Carrie said.

Mr. Labbe still said coldly, "Those medicines have serious side effects and can easily cause fetal malformation.

If you are really pregnant, abort the baby immediately while the baby is still young to minimize the harm to your body." Carrie: "...Oh." Just knock it off.

If a deformed child is born, wouldn't he be laughed to death? What Carrie thought was that if she gave birth to a deformed child, she would become a joke to others.

Chapter 3045

-Carrie said, "From now on, I have to take medicine every time." Mr. Labbe reminded her, "Or I may arrange for you to go to the hospital for a sterilization operation." "That way, you don't have to take medicine all the time.

All medicines are 30% poisonous, and taking too much will cause serious side effects." Carrie: "I take medicine." She didn't want ligation surgery.

No matter how young or stupid she was, she still knew that after a vasectomy, she would never have the chance to be a mother in her life.

Why didn't Mr. Labbe have a vasectomy? As long as he had some sympathy for her and took good contraceptive measures, she wouldn't still be pregnant even after taking the pills and would need to have an abortion.

Mr. Labbe said, "Whatever you want." Anyway, it's not his body that was hurt, so he didn't care.

He would not let Carrie give birth to his child.

The children he had with his first wife had grown up, so he had no worries about having a successor.

Mr. Labbe didn't have much affection for his first wife, but he was very good to his children and cultivated each child with care.

There were several illegitimate children, born from two mistresses he particularly liked.

Those two women were very obedient and had no scheming or ambition, so he let them give birth to his children and bought them a house.

He bought a car and paid some living expenses every month for them.

As long as it was what he wanted, there's nothing he could do about it, even if his wife gets angry again.

It was not what he wanted.

For those women who secretly got pregnant in order to gain power, he would let his wife handle it.

He was very satisfied with Carrie's youth and beauty, but he looked down on Carrie's IQ, which was far behind his original wife.

Therefore, he would not let Carrie give birth to his child.

"You go to bed early.

I will arrange for a doctor to come over tomorrow to check on you and see if you are really pregnant.

If you are really pregnant, ask the doctor to prescribe some medicine for you, and you will be able to abort it.

The month is light now, so it won't hurt you too much.

After the abortion, just replenish your body.

You are still young, so take a rest.

Ten days and a half, it'll be fine." Mr. Labbe originally wanted to have a good love affair with Carrie.

Now that Carrie might be pregnant, he was no longer interested.

Even if he would not let Carrie give birth to his child, he would not touch her when she was pregnant, lest she miscarry on the spot, which would be too bad luck.

Mr. Labbe left soon.

Carrie sat on the bed and touched her belly.

Was she really pregnant? Camryn and Callum had been together for such a long time, but Carrie had never heard that Camryn was pregnant.

Maybe Camryn couldn't have children.

Moreover, Camryn was taking medicine.

All medicines were three-thirds poisonous.

Camryn probably did not dare to get pregnant.

If she took too much medicine, her body would not be suitable for pregnancy.

Then it would be great.

She would not be able to have children and be a mother for the rest of her life.

No matter how much Callum loved Camryn, Callum would definitely divorce Camryn when she became infertile.

Thinking of this, Carrie felt quite proud, feeling that she was a normal and healthy woman, unlike Camryn, who had all kinds of problems.

Soon, Carrie lost her complacency.

So what if she could get pregnant? Children were not allowed.

She had taken birth control pills, which would have an impact on the child.

What if she developed a deformity? Mr. Labbe didn't want her to have her child either.

Carrie murmured in a low voice, "Do you think I really want to be pregnant with your child? I don't even want to give birth to your child." She must take good contraceptive measures in the future.

She couldn't be careless like this time.

She got pregnant but couldn't have it and needed an abortion.

She wondered if miscarriage would be painful? Carrie remembered that when she first went to college, one of her classmates had an abortion.

She saw that her classmate was very weak and looked extremely ugly after the abortion.

She had to rest for a week before she felt better.

It was very painful and uncomfortable to think about.
