

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3086-The assistant: "Playing, having a lot of fun, she plays all the projects that are suitable for her."

Matriarch Farrell's face softened a little, and she said with a chuckle, "This child, maybe he didn't go to the amusement park when she was a child, so she should make up for it now."

Thinking of the bullying and abuse her biological daughter suffered in that family, Matriarch Farrell suddenly hated Shiloh.

Shiloh still had the nerve to blame them, but she didn't want to think about how her biological parents treated Kathryn.

Shiloh had lived a life of fine clothing and food since she was a child. Not to mention the children's playground, she even went abroad countless times.

As for Kathryn, she only now has the opportunity to go to the children's playground.

"The eldest lady's life was too hard before." The assistant's words also contained feelings of distress for Kathryn.

He has always disliked Shiloh. He didn't know that Shiloh was a fake daughter before. He thought that he was the future young mistress and would have to give her some face, so he suppressed his displeasure towards Shiloh.

He didn't dare to reveal anything. After the real and fake daughter were exposed, he finally understood.

It turned out that Shiloh was not the biological daughter of Matriarch Farrell; no wonder he disliked Shiloh so much.

"Yes, that child has lived a hard life, but she has also developed a strong character. There are gains and losses. She is much better than Shiloh."

The assistant hummed. He did not tell Matriarch Farrell that before returning to the Farrell family, Kathryn had successfully started her own business and had nearly $100 million in assets to her name.

Kathryn was indeed a member of the Farrell family.

Even in very unfair circumstances, she was able to stand up little by little.

There were some things that Matriarch Farrell wouldn't tell unless she asked.

Matriarch Farrell: "Where is Shiloh now?"

The assistant: "In Celebrity Garden. The eldest young master bought an apartment for her to live in."

Matriarch Farrell's eyes darkened, and her expression became cold. She said coldly, "Marco is such a great son of mine. What I have said has turned a deaf ear to him!"

The assistant: "The eldest young master has spent the past two nights there."

Matriarch Farrell: "..."

The assistant took out a stack of photos from the hidden pocket of his suit jacket.

He handed the stack of photos to Matriarch Farrell and said softly, "Madam, this is the photo I took. She rented a house next to the one that the eldest young master had purchased. The house that the eldest young master bought is visible from the window. I took photos with the best pixel phone and posted them."

Matriarch Farrell took two puffs of cigarette and said, "Put it on my desk first. I'll look at it later."

The assistant responded respectfully.

He turned around, walked to the desk, and put the photos on the table.

Matriarch Farrell: "When I go on a long trip in two days, I'll see if anyone is following me."

The assistant said, "Yes."

Matriarch Farrell took two more puffs of cigarettes, exhaled the smoke, and waved her hand to the assistant, indicating that he could go out.

It was true that she wanted to go on a long journey to see an old friend, and it was also to test whether her daughter was of the same mind as her.

The person she went to meet may not be her old friend.

She just went to confirm the authenticity.

“Kathryn, I hope you won’t betray mom; we are mother and daughter!”
Matriarch Farrell murmured.

She dug a hole for Kathryn to jump into. She was very afraid that Kathryn would really jump.

What should she do if mother and daughter can’t be of the same mind?

Kathryn was just a daughter!

Matriarch Farrell let out a long sigh, left the window, walked back to the desk, and sat down.

Throw cigarette butts in the ashtray.

She just picked up the stack of photos.

After looking at the photos, she angrily threw them into the air.

Those photos were scattered everywhere, like a goddess scattering flowers.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3087-Marco’s two younger brothers would occasionally appear in the apartment at Celebrity Garden. Every time they went there, they would carry large and small bags. Without asking, they were shopping for Shiloh.

Matriarch Farrell was so angry that her heart ached.

At the same time, she hated Shiloh very much.

It could be said that Shiloh and Holden were calculated. She just couldn’t pass her own test, so she could no longer tolerate Shiloh staying in the Farrell family mansion.

Everything she gave to Shiloh, she also wanted back.

Shiloh could blame her, but why was Shiloh not her biological daughter?

In fact, as long as Shiloh decided to leave Wiltspoon when the incident happened, she would ask her assistant to send Shiloh a sum of money to ensure Shiloh's future life.

Shiloh didn't, but wanted to take revenge on her.

Matriarch Farrell sneered, "Shiloh, I wanted to leave you a way to survive. If you don't cherish it and insist on going to h-e-l-l, don't blame me for being ruthless and unrighteous."

She could even kill her own sisters, but she couldn't kill Shiloh?

If she wanted to kill Shiloh but no one could find her, she had plenty of ways.

"Marco, have your two brothers never seen a woman in their eight lifetimes?"

What made Matriarch Farrell most sad was the behavior of her three sons.

Although they could not take over the Farrell family, she had never treated her three sons badly. She defied all opinions and arranged positions for her three sons in the company early on.

They made some money in the company, but she turned a blind eye.

The wives chosen for them were a good match for the Janzen family. It should be said that the Janzen family had even surpassed their in-laws.

After all, they were descendants of the Janzen family. When marrying her sons, she could only choose her daughter-in-law according to the Janzen family's family background.

Everyone in Jensburg was aware that the Farrell family had daughters as their successors, making it virtually impossible for a son of the Farrell family to marry a daughter who was truly wealthy.

So they could only marry the daughters of wealthy families whose families had assets but were not yet wealthy.

Matriarch Farrell had also paved a lot of paths for the future of her three sons. They had their own small businesses outside, and whether they made money or not, she, the mother, helped take care of it.

However, they still let her down.

The three sons were able to get along well in the Farrell Group only because she, the mother, was the head of the family and looked after them.

She always lost money when starting a business outside. She took care of her sons and also lost a lot of money.

After leaving the Farrell Group, Matriarch Farrell felt that her three sons would be bankrupt and in debt within two years.

No wonder the Farrell family always let their daughters take over, as the sons were really not good at business.

Obviously, they received the same education, but they always had little luck starting their own business. Those who could operate normally were very good, and few could do it.

She was disappointed in her career and even in her personal life.

Her three daughters-in-law should have good figures and good looks. Even after giving birth to children, they would also pay attention to maintaining their figures.

The conditions of their natal family were not bad, and they were capable in all aspects.

The three brothers had to raise women outside.

She broke off with the woman outside after having previously taught her a lesson.

Shiloh is seducing him once more right now! Even if Shiloh meant it, they would have to take the bait. This kind of thing can't be done with a slap.

Maybe after they knew that Shiloh was not their biological sister and had no blood relationship, they might have some thoughts about Shiloh.

It was no wonder that they couldn't always treat Kathryn, their biological sister.

Shiloh fascinated them all.

Matriarch Farrell lit another cigarette and sat on the chair, puffing away the smoke.

After smoking two cigarettes in succession, Matriarch Farrell made an internal call to the butler and ordered the butler: "Is the eldest mistress back? Ask her to come to the study to see me."

The butler replied, "The eldest young lady has just sent her children back to school. They may not be back until a little later."

On Sunday evening, when everyone sends their children back to school, traffic jams are common on the road.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3088-The grandchildren of Matriarch Farrell all went to boarding schools. They came back on Friday evening and were sent back to school on Sunday afternoon.

Only the youngest two were in kindergarten, and they were the third Young Master's children. However, the two children usually live at their grandmother's house. The third young mistress's natal home was very close to the kindergarten. The children lived in their natal home, so it was convenient for them to go to kindergarten.

The two youngest grandchildren lived in the in-laws' home. Matriarch Farrell paid a sum of money to the in-laws regularly every month for the living expenses of the grandchildren.

Matriarch Farrell: "As soon as she comes back, let her come upstairs to see me."

"Okay. Madam, it's time for dinner." The Butler reminded her.

After Matriarch Farrell was silent, she said, "I have no appetite."

Her husband and children were not around, so she couldn't eat well by herself. And if she was in a bad mood, she didn't want to eat it even more.

The butler: "Madam, you don't eat much at lunch. It's been so long, and you still need to eat something."

“I do not want to eat.” After saying that, Matriarch Farrell hung up the intercom call.

The butler could only sigh.

Soon after, Kathryn came back.

Mr. Fraser sent her back.

She held a large ball of marshmallows in one hand and two bunches of candied haws in her other.

Mr. Fraser’s car drove directly into the Farrell family mansion and stopped at the door of the main house.

Kathryn played on the indoor playground for several hours, allowing him to see her childish side.

She said she never had a playground when she was a kid.

She hadn’t been to the zoo either.

In a word, her adoptive parents would never take her out to play. When they went to play, they would only take their biological son with them.

She’s making it up now.

She also bought the marshmallows and candied haws that children like to buy.

“Would you like to go in for a glass of water? Or go back after dinner.” Kathryn asked him.

Mr. Fraser wanted to do it, but he still declined. Mr. Fraser said, “I can just go back and eat a bowl of noodles by myself. I won’t go in.”

He noticed that the owner’s special vehicle was parked in the open parking lot in the yard.

Matriarch Farrell was at home, and she couldn’t stay for dinner.

After all, in this big villa, the person in charge was not Kathryn, but Matriarch Farrell.

“Just eat a bowl of noodles? Don’t treat your stomach badly. If the living expenses are not enough, tell me, and I will give you more living expenses.” Kathryn said it with a joking smile.

Mr. Fraser smiled and said, “I’m not short on money; I just don’t want to eat too much at night. Eat too much to avoid gaining weight and losing my handsome look.”

How can he possibly win Kathryn’s affection when he is unable to match the attractiveness of the men outside?

Mr. Fraser: “Miss, please go in quickly. I’m going back. If you need anything, please contact me.”

Kathryn hummed, said goodbye to him, then turned and walked into the house.

Mr. Fraser watched her enter the house, then drove back to an open area before turning the car around and going out.

Kathryn entered the house. The lights were on, but there was no one in the hall.

Wasn’t her mother’s car at home? Why was it missing?

Kathryn walked to the sofa and sat down while licking the marshmallow.

The butler came in and walked to her side. As soon as he noticed her devouring that enormous marshmallow ball, the corners of his mouth began to twitch.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3089-The Butler: “Why do you still eat this, young lady?”

Kathryn asked back, “Why, I can’t eat this food?”

The Butler: “Only children love to eat.”

Kathryn: "I am young again."

The Butler: "..."

Kathryn: "What's up?"

The Butler said, "Miss, Madam Farrell ate very little for lunch. For dinner, she said she didn't want to eat. Miss, you're back. Go upstairs and persuade her to eat as much as she can."

Kathryn: "My mother has no appetite?"

The Butler: "She said she has no appetite."

"Has anyone been here?" Kathryn asked.

The Butler: "Madam's assistant came over. After he left, she said she didn't want to have dinner."

Kathryn: "Maybe something happened that affected my mother's mood and caused her to have no appetite for food. Okay, I'll go upstairs and take a look. My mother is in the study, right?"

The Butler responded, "She is in the study. He told the eldest mistress to go upstairs to see her when she came back. Miss, do you want to send food to her?"

Was it related to her sister-in-law, Erika?

Kathryn suddenly thought of her mention to her mother that Shiloh wanted to seduce her elder brother, Marco.

Could it be that Shiloh had already taken action and succeeded?

Then Marco must have been seduced too easily.

Kathryn: "You prepare the food, and I will go upstairs to take a look. When my mother wants to eat, I will bring her food up."

The Butler: "Okay."

Kathryn went upstairs with marshmallows and candied haws.

Soon, she arrived at the door of her mother's study.

She freed up one hand and knocked on the door. There was food in her hand, and she didn't forget to take a bite.

The marshmallows were too sweet and didn't taste good to her. Even when she was a child, she saw other people eating them and her adopted brother eating them, but she didn't eat them. She always thought they were very delicious.

When she grew up, she was able to earn money and was busy working, so she never bought anything to eat.

She went to the amusement park in the afternoon and saw a large ball of marshmallows for sale, so she bought one to taste it.

After buying it, she didn't think it tasted good, so she couldn't bear to throw it away. After all, it was a luxury dream of hers when she was a child.

Kathryn said, "Mom, it's me. Can I go in?"

Hearing Kathryn's voice, Matriarch Farrell spoke, "Come in; the door is unlocked."

Kathryn pushed the door open and went in. She smelled a strong smell of tobacco as soon as she entered, and she frowned.

She saw her mother sitting on a black chair inside the desk, holding a cigarette in her right hand, and smoking. There were many photos scattered on the desk and on the ground.

She walked over and bent down to pick up a few photos and look at them. Before she could see clearly, she heard her mother yelling at her, "Put it down!"

She was so frightened that she let go of her hands, and the photos fell from her hands to the ground.

Matriarch Farrell: "Don't look; at least your eyes get dirty."

Kathryn still lowered her head and glanced twice.

After seeing clearly that it was an intimate photo of Marco and Shiloh, Kathryn cursed in her heart: Shiloh is so fast.

Married At First Sight Chapter 3090-Also, the people who took these photos were also amazing, and they could take such powerful photos clearly.

It was also possible that Shiloh didn't close the window or draw the curtains on purpose, hoping to let people watch the show.

It was not revenge if it was done secretly. It had to be known by everyone. To the Farrell family, it's revenge.

Kathryn: "Mom, the Butler said you didn't eat. What's going on? I haven't eaten either. Otherwise, I would eat with my mother."

Kathryn sat down opposite her mother. After sitting down, she stood up and handed a bunch of candied haws to her mother and said, "Mom, I bought a bunch of candied haws. I'll give you a bunch."

"You only bought one marshmallow and ate it, so you won't share it with mom."

Matriarch Farrell looked at the candied haws and then at the marshmallow in her daughter's hand. It was pink, which only little girls like. Her daughter, who was in her twenties and almost thirty, still bought this kind of candy and ate it.

She didn't care whether others ate or not. Her daughter was the young mistress of the Farrell family, but...

"Why do you buy these things to eat?" Matriarch Farrell frowned and asked the same question as the butler.

"When I was a kid, I saw other people eating them. I was envious and thought they must be delicious. When I grew up, I didn't often see these kinds of marshmallows, so I never bought them to eat. When I went to play in the afternoon, I bought them when I saw them."

Matriarch Farrell suddenly felt her heart twist into a ball.

Her daughter was once a proud daughter of heaven, but because Shiloh suffered harm at the hands of her own father, she had never even tasted a tiny marshmallow and could only look on with envy.

Thinking that Matriarch Farrell had loved Shiloh for more than 20 years, Shiloh had slept with her husband, and now she was seducing her son to take revenge on her.

Matriarch Farrell hated Shiloh even more deeply. She took the candied hawks from her daughter. "Do you think marshmallows taste good?"

Kathryn took another bite of the marshmallow, so big that it was all over her mouth and face.

Matriarch Farrell took out a tissue and handed it to her daughter, saying, "Look at how you eat; you look like a cat with a painted face."

Kathryn: "It's too sweet and not tasty. After eating it once, I won't think about eating it in the future."

Matriarch Farrell: "It doesn't taste good; throw it away."

Kathryn: "I spent money to buy it, and it's a childhood nostalgia. I have to finish it, and I just won't buy it in the future."

Matriarch Farrell was absolutely speechless.

Kathryn: "Mom, eat some candied haws on a stick. We'll go downstairs for dinner later."

Watching her daughter take a bite of marshmallow and then a bite of candied haws, Matriarch Farrell's eyes were full of tenderness, and her mood suddenly improved.

What happened to Shiloh? Why was she angry? Shiloh was not her daughter.

Kathryn was her biological daughter! As long as Kathryn was fine, that's fine.

Thinking this way, Matriarch Farrell took a tentative bite of the candied haws.

Kathryn: "Mom, Have you ever eaten these?"

Matriarch Farrell: "I have eaten it, but it is not sold outside. My eldest sister made it for me and my younger sister to eat."

Kathryn's beautiful eyes flickered a few times, and she said, "My aunt can also make candied haws."

Matriarch Farrell: "Your aunt is a very powerful person. She knows everything and understands everything. Your grandparents passed away when I was very young. Your aunt and I were both raised by your aunt. No matter how busy she is at work, she will never ignore us. She cares about us very much. She is like a sister and a mother. This is clearly reflected in her."

When Matriarch Farrell talked about her eldest sister, her expression became gentle. Kathryn looked at her mother's expression and couldn't believe that her mother could cruelly kill the eldest sister who raised her.

"She got married too late and gave birth to children. She was of advanced maternal age and continued to work during pregnancy. She did not take a good rest after giving birth. She was in charge of a family and the huge Farrell Group. At that time, the Farrell Group was still at its peak. She was really, really busy.

Overworked, her health deteriorated. After giving birth to your little cousin, she became very weak. My brother-in-law felt sorry for her and wanted her to rest. For this reason, the couple often quarreled.

In order to allow your aunt to have a good rest, I started to help your aunt with work and handle company affairs and family affairs on her behalf. Later, your aunt and others left unexpectedly, and your two cousins were taken away by the nanny and disappeared. I sent people to look for them, but they couldn't be found after a long time, so they thought they were no longer alive."
