

Chapter 951 Eradication

Dotson reeled under the impact of Liam's slap, his face a canvas of shock and despair. It was beyond his wildest thoughts that Liam, too, was a Primogem Warrior!

It was a revelation that shook him to his core. The striking youth and the profound strength of Liam haunted Dotson's thoughts, and he asked in panic, "Who are you? How could you have such terrifying strength?"

Liam's response was a dismissive sneer. "You'll learn the answer in due time, but not today. Carsen, seize him. He's to be confined for interrogation."

At Liam's command, Carsen's lips curled into a grim smile.

Having been defeated by Dotson before, Carsen relished this moment of retribution. With a swift move, he landed several blows on Dotson, taunting him scornfully.

"I didn't expect you to be so weak. You crumbled so easily under General Liam's might, utterly defenseless. Such a pathetic loser."

Only after Dotson lay unconscious did Carsen drag him away.

This scene left the onlookers at Earth Star utterly astonished.

Dotson, a scion of the esteemed Duncan family and a formidable level two Primogem Warrior, had been effortlessly subdued by Liam. His defeat raised questions about Liam's true capabilities. How powerful was Liam?

Those who had earlier scorned Liam now quaked with fear, realizing their grave error.

They were afraid that they would be punished by Liam.

In a desperate bid for mercy, they rushed to Liam. Falling to their knees, they bowed deeply, begging for forgiveness.

"General Liam, we erred grievously! Our judgment was clouded by Benedict's influence. Truly, our respect for you has always been unwavering!"

"Yes! We were coerced into coming to Earth Star! From now on, we will do whatever you ask us to do without any complaint!"

"General Liam, henceforth, we will heed your commands unconditionally. Please forgive us!"

"In truth, I came here just to seek information. General Liam, I'm always on your side!"

Liam, hands clasped behind his back, surveyed the groveling crowd with an impassive gaze. Wordlessly, he strode towards the central seat in Earth Star, his path cleared by those eager to avoid his displeasure.

In the midst of the throng, Benedict's complexion turned ashen. He was consumed by a reluctant acceptance of Liam's unforeseen and formidable ascent to power.

The plans of the Hoffman family had crumbled before his eyes.

How did Liam suddenly possess such terrifying strength?

Meanwhile, Gallagher observed Liam with a penetrating gaze, his thoughts inscrutable to the onlookers.

It was only when Liam took his place in the center that he broke the silence with a soft cough, signaling for silence.

He then turned to Gallagher, a mischievous smile playing on his lips, and declared icily, "From this moment, I am the leader of Salem! Any dissenters, make yourselves known now."

A palpable chill ran through the crowd. Liam's demonstrated might was beyond dispute. Who would dare deny his position?

Seeing no opposition, Liam's sneer grew colder as he announced, "Before I redistribute the commercial domains of Salem, there is one pressing matter to
