Chapter 1276

Chapter 1276 The crisp sound of applause came from behind. It was Lloyd, who had just gotten out of the car.

When he saw the scene in front of him, he was not only not astonished but expressed appreciation instead, "Your insect technique has become more and more extraordinary. What an eye-opener."

When he finished speaking, he was only a step away from the cloaked figure.

He stared at the person with a smile. "My old friend, you came all the way to Flandom. Why are you wearing a cloak? "Is there a need for us to be so formal around each other?"

From the tone of his voice, it was clear that the two were old acquaintances, and their relationship was quite close! "Hahahaha..."

The cloaked figure could not help but laugh upon hearing those words.

As he laughed, he lowered the hood of the cloak and revealed a familiar face. It was the Insect Ruler!

"Lloyd, my friend. It's been too long!" the Insect Ruler also greeted with a laugh.

Others who did not know might think that they were close friends who knew each other well. In reality, both were cunning old foxes with their own agendas.

"Hahaha..." Lloyd also laughed heartily. After a round of pleasantries, the Insect Ruler asked seriously, "How's your plan going? Is everything going smoothly?"

The smile on Lloyd's face also gradually faded, and he said, "I just came back from the Sauro Church headquarters. Everything is going smoothly. The Pontiff has joined and agreed to kill Andrius Moonshade during the competition in Praxis."

As soon as he spoke, the Insect Ruler could not help but applaud. “Good. Very good! St. Dmitri has always been cunning. If not for his son being harmed this time, it would have taken some effort to get him involved. Well done, Lloyd!”

It was clear that this was an organized and deliberate operation. Lloyd did not comment and only expressed his doubt, “Insect Ruler, there’s still something I don’t quite understand.

“With your skills, you can easily conduct various experiments in Florence. It should not be difficult executing the plan given Florence’s population and vast territory. Why bother coming all the way to the Obaro continent to seek cooperation?”

That was what Lloyd had always been puzzled about. It would be a constant nagging in his heart if he did not figure it out.

“It's because of the Wolf King.” The Insect Ruler’s eyes flashed with hostility, and his tone held a hint of resentment. “He claims to uphold justice and save the common people, so he destroyed all my insect soldier experimental bases.

No wonder. Lloyd immediately connected the dots. The Insect Ruler and Old Hagstorm’s conflict probably had to do with the Wolf King.

“I'll also deal with Dmitri and that knight, Theodore. I'll help you ascend to the position of the overlord of the Obaré continent!” The Insect Ruler wanted live subjects and corpses for his insect soldier experiments.

On the other hand, Lloyd wanted to take over the Obaro continent.

Their cooperation was born out of this common goal.

“Hahaha...” Lloyd burst into laughter at the Insect Ruler’s words. “Insect Ruler, words grip enough for Rat Iniidepwntt on the final outcome of your actions!” The Insect Ruler raised his brows, his tone carrying a playful hint. “Lloyd, you mean...” Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Lloyd looked at the Insect Ruler and said seriously, “Old Hagstorm has been entrenched in Florence for many years, and his depths are hard to fathom. I don’t consider myself his match.

“Whether or not we take our cooperation further will depend on your strength, Insect Ruler.”

Chapter 1277

Chapter 1277

In reality, Lloyd inciting the Pontiff to kill Andrius during the Praxis competition was the first move to deal with Old Hagstorm. This was the second move,

There must not be any mistakes in the family’s century—long plan, so he had to be extremely cautious.

“No problem.” The Insect Ruler grinned and said mysteriously, “Since you want to test me, then come. Don’t wait for me to make the first move, or you’ll be unable to withstand it.”

The words were confident to the point of arrogance.

Lloyd, who had been renowned in the Obaro continent for many years, could not help but be infuriated. Swoosh...

The next second, he leaped forward like a sparrow taking flight.

Lloyd’s figure moved unpredictably in mid-air, sometimes fast and sometimes slow, making it difficult for anyone to predict when he would suddenly attack.

However, this was all just child’s play to the Insect Ruler.

Whoosh...

While Lloyd was still in mid-air, the Insect Ruler suddenly thrust his palm in a certain direction.

Bam!

Immediately, a palm shot out from that direction and clashed with the Insect Ruler. It was none other than Lloyd.

The Insect Ruler predicted Lloyd's attack!

Furthermore, the vast and intimidating inner energy made Lloyd retreat seven to eight steps to dissipate the overwhelming force. On the other hand, the Insect Ruler stood where he was, unmoving as a mountain. He looked completely relaxed. Swoosh!

Lloyd was unwilling to accept defeat and gathered his strength to attack again.

This time, he used the family's secret technique. It was swift as the wind, invasive as fire, with unpredictable movements.

The Insect Ruler continued to smile as he made his move, effortlessly dissolving the attack into nothingness. Then, he skillfully reached out and grabbed Lloyd's right hand like a claw.

Lloyd paled and was forced to retreat.

Riiip...

His sleeve was torn into five gashes, hanging in strips.

Seeing this, Lloyd finally accepted defeat. "Insect Ruler, you are indeed powerful!"

If the Insect Ruler had not held back, his entire right arm would have been crippled. He had no choice but to concede.

"So..." The Insect Ruler smiled and said, "Am I qualified to cooperate with you now?"

"Of course!" Lloyd was genuinely happy to find such a powerful ally praised sincerely, with your help, my heart is much more at ease. I look forward to working with you."

“When | leave, I'll definitely develop and promote the Lamiai clan's secret arts. Please rest in peace, Master!” Then, Luna paid her respects. After that, she looked at the tranquil blue water outside the cave.

“Hubby, I'm coming to save you!”

Luna's face showed a confident and anticipating expression as she plunged into the water.

Chapter 1278

The Lamiai clan's secret arts included a technique for swimming underwater, Coupled with Luna's increased strength, swimming came as naturally to her as if she were a fish.

However...

Splash...

Before long, Luna vaguely saw some dark figures.

It was the lesser demon snakes that she encountered earlier. They were lurking in the water, constantly moving. When Luna appeared, they smelled her scent and swam straight toward her.

“Heh...”

If it were before, Luna would have found them troublesome. Now, however, these lesser demon snakes were no threat to her. She could deal with them with barely any effort.

Whirr...

Luna's eyes lit up, forming pupils that resembled snake eyes. Her whole body released a powerful snake-like aura. It was like she was the king of snakes, no, the God of snakes!

This was one of the secret arts that Luna cultivated-Medusa's Gaze. It could intimidate and control snakes. It was one of the Lamiai clan's innate talents.

Sure enough, as the aura spread, the lesser demon snakes around quickly calmed down and became as docile as kittens, showing no intention of attacking.

Luna controlled the lesser demon snakes to clear a path and smoothly returned to the surface. Splash...

She emerged from the water like a changed person.

Rufus, who had been standing guard here all along, was startled and stammered, “Y—you're back...”

Then, he did not dare to look at Luna again and shouted loudly toward the distance. “Master, Ms. Crestfall has come out of Tartarus...”

As soon as he spoke, an elegant old man soon appeared in their line of sight. It was Adeptus Cirrus. He quickly walked up to Luna and looked her up and down.”

Ms. Crestfall, | presume the injuries in your body and the poison have all been healed?” Although that was what he said, he still shot out a few silk threads to entangle Luna’s wrist to check her condition.

“Huh?” Upon inspection, he was instantly amazed. “Not only are you fully healed, but your condition is better than ever. It’s truly incredible!”

Luna’s strength had increased considerably. The influence of the demon snake’s power and the Sanguis Blade had also diminished, and her character was gradually returning to how it used to be before. She smiled faintly. “It’s all thanks to you for pointing me in the right direction, Adeptus Cirrus.” Then, she bowed respectfully toward Adeptus Cirrus.

“You’re too polite, Ms. Crestfall.” Adeptus Cirrus smiled kindly and asked with curiosity, “Ms. Crestfall, what did you encounter in Tartarus? Was there really a demon as the rumors say?”

Ademon?

Luna could not help but laugh.

Luna shook her head and said, “I’m not sure. | just encountered some demon snakes in the pool and passed out. “When | woke up again, | was healed.”

Luna did not decline the gift from the legendary doctor.

“Thank you, Adeptus Cirrus.”

She put away the pills and expressed her gratitude as well as apologized for the previous incidents, then left Fleming Manor. When she returned to the underground secret chamber in Dream's Waterfront, she called Marcellus over.

“Marcellus, how is the situation outside now? How prepared is the Shrouded Gate?”

Luna was already eager to act.

Chapter 1279

Chapter 1279 Marcellus looked at her and knew that she had recovered, so he did not ask any questions.

He immediately said, “The situation in Florence is stable, and there haven't been any unimaginable events from the killing of the Officials.

“However, there was news from Obaro saying that the Pontiff's son was crippled by someone and that the Pontiff will be participating in the competition in Praxis. It's unknown if it's related to the Wolf King.”

Marcellus knew that the Wolf King was what Luna was most concerned about. Thus, he did not neglect Obaro and Flandom when gathering information.

“The Pontiff...” A hint of killing intent flashed in Luna's beautiful eyes. “You'd better just be participating in the competition. If you dare have any malicious intentions toward my husband, then I'll kill you on the spot!”

With that, a killing intent sharper and more intense than ever soared to the sky. Marcellus could not help but be stunned.

After returning from Fleming Manor, not only did Luna recover from her injuries, but she also greatly enhanced her strength. He felt a vague sense of fear as if he was facing a dormant volcano that had been silent for thousands of years. Once it erupted, it would surely be earth-shattering.

He put his thoughts aside and asked, “When will we set off, Master?” “There’s no rush.” Luna looked toward the north, a chill appearing on her beautiful face. “Before we set off, I need to make a trip to Kiyoto and settle the score with the Swallow family!”

Although Luna was not easily controlled by the power of the demon snake and was less affected by the sinister aura of the Sanguis Blade, it did not mean that she had forgotten her grudge.

In a way, it was true that Duncan had contributed to her current state. However, she still remembered clearly how grievously Duncan had injured her.

Furthermore, the Swallows had repeatedly tried to kill Andrius, so Luna hated them to the bone.

Now that she had the opportunity, why not seek revenge?

“That’s...”

Marcellus never expected Luna to be so bold after just recovering from her injuries. She wanted to fight the Swallows! That was reckless!

He hesitated and said, “Master, although the Swallows’ forebearer has also been injured, the overall strength of the Swallows is still very formidable. They’re the number one among the four great martial families in Kiyoto for a reason.

“The Shrouded Gate is still in its baby steps. Confronting the Swallow family now might be...” Marcellus trailed off, but his meaning was clear.

“Might be what?” Luna snorted disdainfully. “The Swallow family is just a group of chickens. Even if Duncan is in his prime, I’m not afraid of him at all. Go and make the preparations.”

Since she had already made up her mind, Marcellus did not dare to refuse any further. He responded and then went to gather the members of the Shrouded Gate. A moment later, he brought all the members of the Shrouded Gate to report to her. "Let's go." Luna glanced at the many experts and gave the order to head to Kiyoto.

"Quick! Notify the family head. The Shrouded Gate is attacking!"

"The Shrouded Gate's master is truly arrogant. Does she think the Swallow family is defenseless?"

"Kill, kill, kill..."

The Swallows saw the mask on Luna's face and instantly knew her identity. They hollered and charged toward her.

"Like ants trying to shake a tree!" Luna took a step forward and gently pushed her hands out. Her movements were not flashy but incredibly concise.

However, the inner energy stirred up was like a surging wave. In the blink of an eye, all the Swallow family experts who charged at her were completely overwhelmed.

“Argh...” “Oh...”

“Ugh...”

The experts were struck and flew back with miserable screams, spitting blood continuously when they landed.

The so-called martial realm experts were like rabble compared to Luna. They were no match for her and were easily swept away.

Hiss...

Marcellus and the other Shrouded Gate members behind Luna could not help but gasp when they saw this scene. Her strength was domineering. She had to be in at least the Martial Saint realm, right?

Swoosh... Rustle...

Just as Luna was about to order them to continue forward, two figures flipped several times in mid-air and landed gracefully in front of her.

It was the forebearer of the Swallows, Duncan, and the current head of the family, Norvin. They stood side by side, both wearing unpleasant expressions.

“It's you!”

Duncan saw the familiar mask and could not help but recall the battle outside

Paramount Hotel. The overwhelming hostility and endless killing intent from that day were still fresh in his memory. Even though the master of the Shrouded Gate was struck by his Swallow's Iron Sand, she was still alive...

This made Duncan's expression even more unsightly, and his throat became dry. “You... Weren't you struck by my palm? How are you unscathed?”

That undoubtedly touched a nerve. Luna's already cold and beautiful face instantly turned frosty. “Do you really want to know?”

Her lips curled into a seductive curve, but what it brought was overwhelming murderous intent. "Then, come and find out for yourself."

As she spoke, a ferocious gust with a radius of a dozen meters suddenly rose with Luna as the center, lifting stones and sand into the air.

However, Luna only casually raised her hand and effortlessly pushed away Duncan's hands. The vast improvement made Duncan momentarily dazed. It had just been a few days... How did Luna's strength improve to this level?

Was she even human? How did she do it?

“Die!”

Luna did not give him the chance to think. After deflecting Duncan's hands, her long leg casually swept in a semi-circle and slammed onto Duncan's back from above.
