Chapter 1366

Chapter 1366 "Let's go." After carefully assessing the situation, Andrius and Kate entered one after the other.

As soon as they stepped inside, Kate's expression changed slightly, and she reminded, "Andrius, I felt about ten strands of killing intent targeting us as soon as we entered. Be careful."

Andrius nodded. He was stronger, so he sensed even more strands of killing intent!

"This place is full of dangers. It's indeed a treacherous location. We can't see clearly with all the fog around either, so danger could strike from any direction at any time.

"So, I've decided..."

A trace of sharpness flashed in Andrius' eyes. "We'll proceed cautiously and systematically destroy all the mechanisms here so we won't have to worry about hidden arrows at all times."

Just as he spoke... Swoosh!

Whoosh!

Swish!

Countless arrows glinting coldly came from all directions. Many even fell from the sky, leaving no gaps of blind spots. They were numerous and dense, swift as lightning.

They covered the mountains and plains, even darkening the sky.

Such indiscriminate attacks explained why very few people could pass through successfully. "Rise!"

Seeing this, Andrius waved his arm, and the Argentum Qilin Spear erupted with a dazzling light. Clang, clang, clang...

As Andrius swung the long spear, a formidable wall formed, blocking the cold iron arrows. outside.

The first round of mechanisms did not pose any trouble and Andrius easily dispelled them. However, this was just the beginning.

Rumble...

Rumble...

Just when Kate thought she could catch her breath, a sound like deafening rolling thunder erupted on both sides of the valley. No, it was not thunder!

The two quickly realized that those were the sounds of heavy objects sliding down the mountain!

Sure enough, just as they thought emerged in their minds, long and large logs rolled down the mountainside toward them, fast enough to destroy everything.

The attack this time was blatant yet flawlessly executed. The only way to resist was through brute force!

Boom-

Andrius once again swung the Argentum Qilin Spear without hesitation, shattering the incoming logs with his Andrius once again Wood splinters flew in all directions along with the i scent of wood ashes.

Then, a thick section of a log fell from the sky, about to crush Kate.

Kate was at her limit and could not dodge or avoid it...

At the critical moment, a silver radiance appeared and forcefully shattered the log into countless fragments. It was Andrius.

Chapter 1367 Rumble- Bam!

At the same time, the Argentum Qilin Spear danced wildly, shattering all the rolling logs into pieces and creating a shower of wood splinters.

Unlike Andrius' steadfastness, as she was tightly held in Andrius' arms, Kate felt an unprecedented sense of masculinity. With a racing heartbeat, she instinctively hooked her arms around his neck.

Her proud bosom pressing against him had undergone a dramatic change! At that moment, Kate could not help but feel her heartbeat accelerate. "Pheew..."

After a while, Andrius resolved all the rolling logs. Only then did he notice that at some point, in his arms, Kate revealed an amorous gaze, and her whole body was warm and soft....

At that moment, the heat in their chests became unprecedented.

"Ahem!" Andrius blushed and was just about to put Kate down.

Thud!

Boom!

Clang...

At that moment, another earth-shattering explosion echoed throughout the surroundings. Andrius looked up.

Well, damn.

After arrows and rolling logs, there were now colossal stones weighing thousands of pounds rolling down with a momentum that shook the heavens and earth. Their might was intense and awe-inspiring!

The arrows and rolling logs that were seemingly overwhelming before were nothing in front of these boulders descending with these thunderous sounds.

Facing the endless and thunderous boulders, even a seasoned veteran like Andrius had to be on high alert. Rumble-

Boom, boom...

The single spear thrust was like a dragon soaring through the heavens, dominating the world.

Andrius used the fifth form of the Burden of Nine Skies and shattered the boulders into pieces.

However, although the attack was clean and decisive, it did not really help. The boulders continued to fall endlessly, increasing in number and speed.

There was a limit to human effort.

The moment Andrius' strength was insufficient, just one falling stone could turn him and Kate into minced meat... This could not go on!

At the critical moment, Kate in his arms reminded him, "Andrius, try breaking the Eye of the formation for this trial!" She remembered what her grandfather told her before she left. Although the mechanisms were fierce and seemed insurmountable, there was a switch to activate them, also called the Eye'. Destroying this would end the mechanisms. Andrius was struck by a realization.

Immediately, he observed the situation around him while shattering the falling boulders.

Kate also did not remain idle and surveyed the surroundings.

“Hm?” Andrius soon discovered a suspicious place.

However, after an intense burst of inner energy, nothing happened.

Although Andrius had pierced a large pit onto the ground, it was not the location of the Eye.

The falling stones continued to come.

After scattering several large stones again, Andrius tried again.

Often, after Andrius thrust the spear, the next stone would come before he could gather his inner energy to retract the Argentum Qilin Spear.

They were on the brink of danger!

Suddenly, Kate pointed in a direction and shouted, "Over there."

Andrius instinctively looked in the direction indicated by Kate's slender finger.

At the end of the direction was a large stone.

At that moment, Andrius suddenly realized...

Yes.

The most dangerous place was often the safest.

The Eye of the formation for this falling stone checkpoint was right under their noses.

Ordinary experts would never shatter other boulders when faced with the danger of falling boulders. After all, shattered boulders would only increase the number of stones, thus increasing the danger as well.

The par person who set up this trial understood this psychology well and utilized it. They hid the switch under a large boulder. What a well thought out and clever plan!

Bam!

Clang-

After shattering some falling stones again, Andrius finally arrived in front of the large boulder. With a lift of his hand, the spear thrust out like a dragon, easily smashing the boulder.

The overwhelming momentum was like a mighty mountain!

It was like a high-speed train crashing into an egg.

The only difference was that Andrius was not as fragile as an egg. He was a Martial Saint! Even so...

“Pfft!”

Andrius sprayed out a mouthful of blood, holding only Kate tightly as he was knocked away. The next moment, he was like a kite with a broken string, unable to control his body.

Bang...

After flying dozens of meters in the air, the two crashed heavily onto the ground and slid for several more meters. Fortunately, with their martial realm physique, this level of impact would not cause a second injury.

“Gah-”

However, Andrius still spat out a thick wad of blood.

“Andrius! Andrius, are you okay?” After getting up, Kate immediately checked Andrius’ injuries.

“|... Cough, cough. I-I’m fine...” Andrius struggled to sit up, but the blood from the corner of his mouth continued to flow. The last boulder was too vigorous and unstoppable. Andrius could not withstand it without injuries.

“Hang in there... I’ll help to treat your wounds...”

Kate went behind Andrius and could not help but shiver when she saw the bloody and mangled scene. His skin and flesh had been smashed into meat sauce, sticking to his outer clothes. Just the sight made her shudder uncontrollably.

“Go ahead.” Andrius said calmly, “Be quick. This is just the first trial. There are still two more.”

Kate was stunned for a moment but quickly started boldly. She first carefully cut the stuck fabric, then cleaned the wound with alcohol, and finally bandaged it with the gauze she had prepared.

Andrius wanted to dodge, but it was too late. He could only gather all his Martial Saint inner energy and focus it on his back, trying to reduce the damage when the boulder fell.

“This place is full of dangers. I’m afraid there are still unknown risks.” Kate reluctantly left Andrius’ secure embrace and warned, “Let’s leave quickly.”

“Right.” Andrius also had the same intention. Then, they walked in tandem, heading toward the deeper part of the valley.

Chapter 1370

Andrius was both shocked and amused when he saw the true form of this creature. However, his hands did not hesitate, and the spear struck down with a thunderous force.

Bam! Sparks flew, and a clear explosion sounded.

However, the turtle’s shell was an extremely rare and natural defensive treasure in the world. Its defensive power was astonishing and not something that Andrius could break through.

The spear strike did not cause any damage at all. looked more ferocious and terrifying.

As soon as it appeared, an endless chill spread and turned the surrounding area into an ice field!

The winds howled, and the atmosphere turned eerie.

The entire place was shrouded in a cold killing intent.

Whoosh-

The next moment, the head lunged at Andrius. It opened its bloody mouth, seemingly intending to swallow Andrius whole. As the head approached, Andrius noticed some clues.

Behind the huge head was a smooth neck. It was not the snake skin or body that he imagined! There was also no sign of a forked tongue in the angry gaping mouth.

Swish! However, Andrius did not have time to think.

The Argentum Qilin Spear in his hand swung instinctively. The spear glinted radiantly like a galloping dragon emerging from the sky.

Andrius knew that this thing was powerful and did not dare to be careless. He immediately used the seventh form of the Burden of Nine Skies!

Whoosh-

With a shrill whistle, Andrius' dazzling attack hit the ugly and ferocious head.

The head suddenly shrunk back. Then, its entire body emerged from the cold pond. "What..."

Andrius was dumbfounded when he saw the appearance of the beast.

It carried a hard shell on its back that was adorned with mysterious but exceptionally clear patterns. It was not a demon snake. It was a turtle that had been alive for an unknown amount of time!

The agile head that had just appeared was the turtle's head...

Andrius instantly understood.

This beast should be what Kate mentioned yesterday—a spirit turtle that had lived for thousands of years.

Andrius and Kate were both somewhat surprised. After exchanging a glance, they hastened their pace. A moment later, they arrived at the source of the chilling air. It was a deep and cold pond!

"What..."

Andrius and Kate were stunned.

The Northern Desert was known for its aridity, strong winds, intense sunlight, and scarce vegetation and rainfall... How could there suddenly be such a deep pond?

Something was very off!

"Hiss-" Suddenly, Kate shivered and said in astonishment, "Andrius, there might be something extraordinary in this pond! When the cold air invaded just now, it penetrated deep into my meridians. | only remained unharmed when | used all my strength to resist it."

Just the aura made Kate, a Martial King, feel like she was facing a formidable enemy. It was clear how terrifying this pond was!

“Step back! I'll see what's going on,” Andrius said to Kate decisively, then gripped his Argentum Qilin Spear and strode toward the pond.

The pond was a deep green. Even with Andrius' eyesight, he could only see a few meters past the surface. He could not see what was happening in the depths.

Gurgle... Gurgle... Just then, countless bubbles suddenly emerged from the pond's surface.

Andrius snorted slightly and gripped the Argentum Qilin Spear tightly, ready for battle at any moment.

The bubbles became more intense.

Splash-

The next moment, a huge head emerged from the pond, creating mMM countless splashes. The head was similar to the demon snake's head from the sealed area of Mount Valdez, but it Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

“Done...”

Kate was meticulous throughout, afraid that she might accidentally hurt Andrius. Even after finishing, she held her breath and focused.

“Let's go.”

Andrius was much more relaxed. He stood up and walked further in.

Although the boulder was fierce, it only caused superficial injuries and was not too troublesome. With Kate's dressing and Andrius adjusting his breath, it would not pose that much of a problem.

Just as they reached an intersection, the old voice sounded again, "Have you thought carefully? Your strength is acceptable, but your companion seems to be a burden.

It might cost their lives! Andrius could not help but think about what Kate said yesterday: no one had passed the second stage, the beast trial, so far! However...

He swore an oath before the Flame Emperor's remains, so he would never regret it. "Let's go!" Andrius responded firmly to the Turtle Sage.

Soon, the two walked out of the mountain pass and arrived at the second location.

As soon as they stepped foot inside, a biting chill came rushing toward them.
