

The Wolf's Bride by Coffee's Tea

Chapter 1387

Chapter 1387

The two of them remained indifferent when surrounded and were even pushing the role to the other...

This instantly infuriated Justin.

“Wow! Keep pretending, you two!”

Justin's lungs were about to explode from anger, and he yelled at the high school boys, “Get them! Make them kneel before me!”

Thus, the high school boys rushed forward.

Kate really did not want to get involved with these kids. However, since they were so determined, she had no choice but to act.

Bam...

Smack....

Thud...

She did not have to use inner energy at all and simply used her physical strength to knock them all down easily.

“Ugh...”

“My leg...”

“My waist...”

“My chest hurts...”

They all lay on the ground, moaning in pain.

Then...

“Remember, violence is not a tool to bully the weak with,” Kate admonished them, then looked at Justin and snorted. “If I hear you talking about killing again, then don't blame me for being rude.”

Then, Kate and Andrius left together with the stunned Liliana.

Only the high school boys lying on the ground and an ashen Justin remained in the alley.

“Damn it!” He glared at the trio's backs and took out his phone.

Chapter 1387

2/2

“Jasper, something happened! I tried to snatch the documents from that bitch Liliana, but a man and woman suddenly appeared. They were too strong and managed to rescue that bitch.”

On the other end of the phone, Jasper Conway's expression changed slightly. “The documents in her hands are detrimental to our family. We can't let her get away. Don't worry, I'll send reinforcements right away.”

After hanging up the phone, Jasper issued one order after another.

On the other hand, Andrius and Kate escorted Liliana back to her residence.

It was a shabby house located in the slums. Several foul-smelling ditches surrounded the area, emitting a faint odor as if warning Andrius not to enter.

“This is my home.” Liliana pushed open the door and led Andrius and Kate inside.

They saw a young man, who looked similar to Liliana, sitting by the window doing handwork. He was none other than Liliana's brother, Scott.

“Scott!” Liliana called out to him and went forward.

Andrius immediately noticed that one of Scott's legs was twisted. It was clear that he was crippled, which was why he resorted to handwork at home to make a living. The truth was that it was Justin who brought his people to beat his leg.

Scott heard the shout and raised his head to see Andrius and Kate, then asked Liliana, “Lili, who are they?”

“My name is Andrius Moonshade.” Andrius took the initiative to reply. “I received kindness from your family before and have come to repay it?”

Received kindness? Repay it?

That was something magical that only happened in novels.

However, Scott did not think much of it. He remembered that his parents were generous and did many good deeds during the prosperous days of their business.

Then, Liliana told him about what happened earlier.