He had already approached Andrius and leaped up, launching a flying kick.

"You're seeking death!" Kate snorted coldly and intercepted Max in mid-air with her extraordinarily long legs.

Feeling the force transmitted through her foot, Kate looked at the opponent in surprise, and a hint of confusion flashed in her pretty face. "Hm? He's a martial realm expert!"

A martial realm expert!

Although he was only in the first realm, it was far beyond the reach of ordinary people!

"Y-you..."

Kate was surprised, but Max was astonished.

As a martial realm expert, his combat power was undoubtedly at the pinnacle of the secular world. Even ordinary firearms posed no threat to him!

However, he now encountered another martial realm expert. Furthermore, the force he felt just now seemed to be even higher than his level!

"Hmph!" Max snorted coldly and said disdainfully, "I know your strength is above mine, lady, but I advise you not to get involved in trouble."

So what if she was at a higher level? Since he dared to appear in the secular world openly, he naturally had his confidence.

"You're bold!" Kate laughed in anger at his words and scolded him, "The various the ancient martial world have long-established rules. Martial realm experts aren't allowed to participate in the secular world's affairs arbitrarily.

"However, you blatantly violate the rules and still dare to boast about it. I'll cripple you today!"

With Kate's angry shout, she leaped forward.

Bam!

The next moment, her majestic inner energy slammed into Max's chest, and he was immediately sent flying.

"Pfft."

A long arc of blood was sprayed out in mid-air.

After landing, Max realized that Kate's palm had broken his meridians, crippling him.

"U-ugh, 1..." Max was shocked and angry, in unbearable pain. He could only cover his chest and wall, unable to utter a threatening word.

However, his eyes were filled with resentment about to overflow.

Swoosh!

Jasper, who saw the whole scene, could not help but feel a chill run down his spine.

Damn.

Max's strength had been verified through countless battles. He was Jasper's greatest reliance.

However, he was crippled by one attack from this beautiful girl?

What was her true strength? Who exactly was she?

Jasper could not come back to his senses for a long time.

Andrius and Kate walked toward the exit. While passing by Jasper, he paused slightly and said, "I'll say it one last time. Hand over what doesn't belong to you. Otherwise, if you wait for me to collect them, then you might not be able to afford the price!"

After saying that, he left the auction house with Kate.

The place was deathly silent.

The dignitaries were shocked by Andrius' financial and martial strength. They began to speculate about his identity. After all, the helicopter that appeared earlier was not fake! Justin walked over with an ashen face and asked resentfully, "What should we do now?" Jasper stared intently at Andrius and Kate's backs.

After a while, he finally snapped back to reality and looked at Justin with an extremely sinister expression, "That woman is indeed powerful. She's even stronger than Max. She's also a martial realm expert. However, as long as she's made of flesh and blood, she can't withstand blanket attacks."

Blanket attacks?

Justin's eyes twitched at the thought of a certain possibility. He immediately looked at Jasper and lowered his voice. "Jasper, are you planning on using that trump card?"

Blanket attacks...

It could be considered their final trump card.

"Of course." Jasper nodded and said meaningfully, "Let them be arrogant for a w longer.
