

Chapter 1062 Garrett Glyn

Clutching the eight-color Elemental Stone Mr. Jenkins had handed him, Liam was overwhelmed with emotion.

He was touched, realizing that even after he left Genesis Island, his master held him in high regard.

The fact that Mr. Jenkins had chosen not to keep the rare eight-color Elemental Stone for himself also moved Liam profoundly. He carefully stored the Elemental Stone, looked at Mr. Jenkins with genuine appreciation, and said, "Thank you! I promise to make you and our master proud!"

Laura, watching the exchange, felt a sting of jealousy but did her best to hide it, not wanting to reveal her desire.

Yet, her effort to mask her emotions didn't go unnoticed by Mr. Jenkins.

Amused by Laura's reaction and bearing affection for her since she was a member of the Rhodes family, the elders of which had been kind to him, Mr. Jenkins decided Laura shouldn't be left out. He reached into his robe and took out another Elemental Stone. This one had six colors, and while it wasn't as impressive as Liam's, it was still a significant gift.

As Laura held the Elemental Stone, looking at it in his robe and took out another Elemental Stone. This one had six colors, and while it wasn't as impressive as Liam's, it was still a significant gift.

As Laura held the Elemental Stone, looking at it in wonder, Mr. Jenkins offered a warm smile and said, "I found this treasure a long time ago during an adventure in a secret realm. Maybe it will come in handy once you've navigated the secrets of that realm."

Mr. Jenkins, strong as he was, had recognized Laura as a level four, fifth-stage Primogem Warrior.

Seeing Laura's skill, it was clear to him she could move up to level five in the secret realm.

And with a bit of luck, she might even stumble upon treasures there more impressive than the six-color Elemental Stone, aiding her in a significant breakthrough.

Holding the Elemental Stone, Laura couldn't hide her excitement and smiled broadly at Mr. Jenkins. "Thanks a lot, Mr. Jenkins!"

Mr. Jenkins returned the smile and said, "Spend the next few days getting used to the life here in the Saint Society. In three days, you'll head out to the maritime secret realm together."

Liam and Laura nodded seriously, showing they understood.

Mr. Jenkins then cautioned them, "Be careful not to disclose who you are unless it's absolutely necessary. If you're vying for crucial treasures, make sure you can defend yourselves. Most importantly, stay safe!"

Liam agreed, and he and Laura, clutching their Elemental Stones, exited the main hall.

his robe and took out another Elemental Stone. This one had six colors, and while it wasn't as impressive as Liam's, it was still a significant gift.

As Laura held the Elemental Stone, looking at it in wonder, Mr. Jenkins offered a warm smile and said, "I found this treasure a long time ago during an adventure in a secret realm. Maybe it will come in handy once you've navigated the secrets of that realm."

Mr. Jenkins, strong as he was, had recognized Laura as a level four, fifth-stage Primogem Warrior.

Seeing Laura's skill, it was clear to him she could move up to level five in the secret realm.

And with a bit of luck, she might even stumble upon treasures there more impressive than the six-color Elemental Stone, aiding her in a significant breakthrough.

Holding the Elemental Stone, Laura couldn't hide her excitement and smiled broadly at Mr. Jenkins. "Thanks a lot, Mr. Jenkins!"

Mr. Jenkins returned the smile and said, "Spend the next few days getting used to the life here in the Saint Society. In three days, you'll head out to the maritime secret realm together."

Liam and Laura nodded seriously, showing they understood.

Mr. Jenkins then cautioned them, "Be careful not to disclose who you are unless it's absolutely necessary. If you're vying for crucial treasures, make sure you can defend yourselves. Most importantly, stay safe!"

Liam agreed, and he and Laura, clutching their Elemental Stones, exited the main hall.

Liam decided to take this opportunity to fully immerse himself in harnessing the power of the eight-color Elemental Stone.

If he managed to unlock another ability from it, he would be more equipped to face the challenges of the secret realm.

Meanwhile, on the other side of Mount Moria, in the suburbs of Invone, was the home of Protector Cillian Glyn.

Shayla, taken by Adamson's forces, was being led to this place, straight into the room of Cillian's son, Garrett Glyn.

Garrett, who had been anticipating Shayla's arrival, gave her a disturbing smirk as he dismissively told the men who delivered her, "Leave us. I'd like to spend some alone time with this young lady from the Alvarado family."

The men quickly bowed and exited, familiar with Garrett's infamous temperament.

Garrett had previously shown interest in the wife of one of his men, demanding her attention. Despite the man's protests, Garrett remained persistent. His anger at being opposed had led him to kill the man's entire family in a burst of fury!

With the men gone, Garrett's expression morphed into a malicious grin.

His look, brimming with uncontrolled lust, settled on

Chapter 1062 Garrett Glyn

 +120 Points at most

Shayla, who was tied up and defenseless.

"Shayla, I have been waiting for you for a long time!"
he said.

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

