

Chapter 1076 Alliance

As Leif and his team reached the entrance of Myriad Beasts Valley, they encountered a formidable opponent known as the "primogem beast".

These creatures were a result of genetic manipulation, combining DNA from various planetary animals with primogem, resulting in beings with unparalleled combat prowess. Their strength rivaled that of a Primogem Warrior.

Upon defeating a primogem beast, hunters could extract a unique crystal core from its body called "beast crystal", which was akin to primogem rocks.

Beast crystal was invaluable for enhancing the training speed of Primogem Warriors below level six.

As a primogem beast exceeded its initial limitations, much like a Primogem Warrior, the beast crystal within it would transform into a translucent, vibrant crystal resembling a high-quality Elemental Stone.

Myriad Beasts Valley, where Leif and his team ventured, served as a dense hub for these primogem beasts.

Leif had his sights set on hunting a level six primogem beast in Myriad Beasts Valley. His goal was to secure a high-level beast crystal from the creature to aid in his training and potentially trigger another awakening within it would transform into a translucent, vibrant crystal resembling a high-quality Elemental Stone.

Myriad Beasts Valley, where Leif and his team ventured, served as a dense hub for these primogem beasts.

Leif had his sights set on hunting a level six primogem beast in Myriad Beasts Valley. His goal was to secure a high-level beast crystal from the creature to aid in his training and potentially trigger another awakening of his special power.

For any Primogem Warrior who had surpassed their limits, the allure of accessing new special powers was irresistible.

However, Liam was an exception.

With three special powers already at his disposal, he focused on fully mastering his earth element ability before entertaining the thought of awakening a fourth power.

He understood the importance of pacing himself and avoiding overextending.

Nevertheless, Liam remained intrigued by the prospect of acquiring more resources. Although he did not need them immediately, he recognized their value for Laura, who had yet to break through her limits. Procuring beast crystals from primogem beasts to expedite Laura's growth would be a prudent decision.

As Leif's team prepared to enter Myriad Beasts Valley, another group emerged, led by Santino Fowler.

Santino greeted Leif courteously, and Liam couldn't help but notice the map in Santino's hand.

It dawned on Liam that Leif wasn't the sole possessor of a map to parts of the maritime secret realm.

Many who had reached the sixth level as Primogem Warriors owed their success to the resources of their families.

Interestingly, Liam realized that Santino, like Leif, was also a Primogem Warrior without any awakened special power.

Liam had already assessed the leaders of the ten teams before entering the secret realm and had noted that only two lacked an awakened special power. Now, quite unexpectedly, he had encountered both.

Amused, Liam shook his head. He knew that if Santino had indeed awakened his special power, he wouldn't have headed straight to Myriad Beasts Valley.

The rewards here were minimal for Primogem Warriors who had already reached their limits.

At that moment, Leif approached Santino with a smile. "Are you also here for the beast crystals?" he inquired.

Santino nodded and glanced at Leif, suggesting, "Since we're both after the same goal, why not join forces? Myriad Beasts Valley harbors more than one sixth-level primogem beast. By combining our teams, our chances of success would significantly increase."

A subtle glint of greed shimmered in Santino's eyes as he spoke, but Leif remained oblivious to Santino's underlying motive.

After a moment of consideration, Leif found Santino's proposal reasonable and nodded in agreement. "Okay! Let's collaborate," he replied.

Liam, observing this from a distance, furrowed his brows slightly.

He had detected something amiss about Santino and understood that the alliance between Leif and Santino was tenuous.

If conflicting interests arose, they would likely betray each other without hesitation.

However, Liam opted not to voice his concerns.

With his superior strength, he remained confident in his ability to navigate any potential conflicts. After all, neither Leif nor Santino could match his prowess, and he was prepared to assert his dominance if necessary.