

Chapter 1105 Origin Technique

Liam strained to control his growing form. His display of strength stunned Rodney and Doug, who had just been sent flying by the Zephyr Ape's punch.

Liam's power was far greater than they had imagined. They realized Liam was stronger than them.

Liam's Kolton disguise held no high rank in the Saint Society, so Doug had no clue about Liam's true potential.

Amazed, Doug turned to Rodney. "He's been keeping this secret, huh? You probably didn't expect someone under your command to be this strong, did you? Maybe even the two of us wouldn't be enough to take him down."

Rodney, however, wore a thoughtful frown. Unlike Doug's surprise, Rodney harbored growing suspicion.

Was this "Kolton" who he claimed to be?

Rodney kept his doubts hidden, simply shaking his head. "I don't know his limits, but he's definitely good at hiding them."

"He's strong, for sure," Doug said. "But I still doubt he can take down the Zephyr Ape. That thing's a monster."

Rodney offered a nod in agreement.

Reaching his limit, Liam finally managed to stop his body's growth. The life force within him was maxed out now. Any more absorption risked his body exploding.

Realizing he wouldn't be able to win, Liam gritted his teeth and retreated, using the Zephyr Ape's distraction to his advantage. He shut off his power and rejoined Rodney and the others.

Freed from Liam's attack, the Zephyr Ape pounded its chest in fury.

While Liam's life-draining ability wasn't fatal, it had significantly depleted the Zephyr Ape's life energy, energy it had built up for years.

Enraged, the Zephyr Ape's purple aura flared again.

This time, the Zephyr Ape prepared to unleash its full might, determined to kill everyone present.

Its purple light pulsed, and its body began to swell rapidly.

Within moments, it had grown to a colossal size, its shadow stretching vast across the ground.

This was the Zephyr Ape's unique skill, an innate ability called the Origin Technique.

Like Rodney's thunder ball, the Zephyr Ape's Origin Technique boosted its strength significantly.

Legends spoke of Zephyr Apes reaching such heights that their bodies brushed the heavens and that their purple glow veiled the entire sky.

This Zephyr Ape, of course, wasn't at its peak. But the Origin Technique propelled its power to the cusp of the seventh rank, a formidable power boost.

Sensing the shift in the Zephyr Ape's aura, Rodney and the others paled. "It's using the Origin Technique! Run!"

Their shouts were drowned out as the Zephyr Ape's enormous body slammed down. A colossal fist, blotting out the sky, met the ground with a deafening crash.

The earth fractured under the impact. Dust clouds billowed.

When its fist retracted, it revealed a horrifying sight. A crater, several meters deep, now marred the ground.

In the crater lay Huxley's dead body. The blow had been too swift, leaving him no chance to react.
