

Chapter 1135 Hunting The Shadow Beast

Liam's unleashed beam of light illuminated the shadow beast's true form. In the next moment, Liam used his gravitational field, sharply increasing the gravity affecting the beast's limbs ten times more due to his enhanced spiritual power.

Trapped within the radiant glow, the shadow beast struggled against the oppressive weight.

In a frenzy of panic, the shadow beast emitted a shrill cry of agony, bewildered by Liam's unexpected prowess.

Sensing he had the upper hand, Liam chose not to rush the final blow. Instead, he advanced slowly towards the shadow beast, beginning to drain its life force methodically using his life-draining ability.

A look of surprise and excitement flashed across Liam's face as he realized a new level of control over his life-draining ability. He discovered he could precisely target specific areas within a creature's life force, a skill that could inflict maximum damage swiftly.

Now, he could directly sap the life energy from the heart, delivering a lethal blow.

Empowered by this breakthrough, Liam felt a surge of confidence. He knew that if he ever encountered the formidable Zephyr Ape again, he could employ this technique to drain the ape's heart energy directly. This approach would bypass previous complications of over-absorbing energy, which had caused him to swell

As Liam reveled in his newfound power, the shadow beast suddenly erupted in a peculiar black glow.

To Liam's astonishment, the creature executed a molting escape, leaving behind nothing but an empty husk.

Liam's brow furrowed in surprise—this was an Origin Technique!

He hadn't anticipated such a rare escape-oriented ability from the shadow beast.

This kind of Origin Technique was rare, after all.

Determined to learn more about this extraordinary ability, Liam planned to consult his mentor, Carlden, once he exited the maritime secret realm.

If he could acquire and master such an Origin Technique, his combat capabilities would experience an extraordinary boost.

Liam's thoughts then drifted to the Universe Crystal Dew he had consumed earlier.

The myriad benefits it had conferred were beyond his expectations.

Indeed, the Universe Crystal Dew was a coveted treasure sought after by many powerful entities, and even the formidable Zephyr Ape had shown a keen interest in it.

The boost one drop of Universe Crystal Dew had given to Liam's strength was substantial, making him wonder about the potential heights he could reach if he had access to more. Fantasizing briefly, Liam imagined consuming all the Universe Crystal Dew available at Lotus Lake.

The power he could have gained might have propelled him to the peak of the sixth rank or perhaps even allowed him to break through to the elusive seventh rank.

However, this was merely wishful thinking. Most of the Universe Crystal Dew had fallen into the clutches of the Zephyr Ape, and Liam had managed to secure only a few.

Shaking off the distracting thoughts of what could have been, Liam refocused on the task at hand and resumed his pursuit of the shadow beast.

To Liam's surprise, the shadow beast appeared rejuvenated and faster than before, likely due to a temporary boost from the same Origin Technique that had allowed it to escape earlier.

Despite Liam's renowned agility, the shadow beast almost matched his speed, making the chase more challenging than he had anticipated.

Nonetheless, Liam was undeterred.

His stamina was legendary, and he had never been outlasted by any opponent in endurance.

Besides, he was confident that the speed enhancement granted by the Origin Technique was not permanent.

With time, the shadow beast would inevitably slow down, and Liam would catch up with it.
