

An Understated Dominance Chapter 2375

Chapter 2375

The audio recording played by Fenley was very clear.

Conor and Tyson Houle, the Chief of Pantheon, had a word-for-word conversation.

After listening, Noemi and Cassidy were stunned; their eyes widened, and they looked unbelievable.

On the other hand, Conor was struck by lightning and stood there.

He never imagined that someone would record his conversation with Tyson last night.

Could it be that Tyson betrayed him?

Tyson had no reason to betray him because their interests were so closely aligned. However, how was it possible?

At this moment, Conor's face was uncertain, and his heart was even more turbulent.

Not only was he filled with doubts, but he was also more terrified.

The evidence was indisputable, exposing his betrayal of the sect. What should he do?

"Conor, what else do you have to say now?" Fenley said it coldly.

In fact, the sect had long noticed Conor's abnormality and installed a bug on him in advance, just in case.

It turned out that the sect's suspicion was not wrong.

Conor secretly teamed up with the Pantheon Gods and betrayed the sect.

Noemi looked at Conor in astonishment.

She said, "Big Brother, I didn't expect that the person who framed me was you? You and I grew up together and are as close as brothers and sisters. I don't understand why you did this?"

"I..." Conor was speechless for a moment.

"Big Brother! The sect has treated you well and has always focused on training you.

"I didn't expect you to collude with foreign enemies and betray the sect.

"You are simply ungrateful.

"I really misjudged you!" Cassidy said. She was furious.

Although Cassidy had previously guessed that there should be a ghost around her, she never doubted Conor.

Because the two sides had been friends for more than ten years, it was not an exaggeration to describe them as relatives.

However, the recording has now completely shattered her fantasy.

Conor's behavior proved that you can recognize a person's face but not their heart!

"Conor, come back to the sect with me and apologize to the master."

"As long as you honestly admit your mistakes, the master should spare your life for many years of friendship." Fenley spoke again.

"Go back?" Conor's eyes twitched, and a fierce look flashed in his eyes.

"It's already like this; how can I go back? Betraying the sect is punishable by death, but the living punishment is difficult to avoid.

"Stopping cultivation is the lightest punishment, while lifelong imprisonment is the harshest!

"Returning with you will ruin my life!"

