

Mate

Damon

I walked in to my room after my early morning run , my wolf has been anxious for the last one week for no apparent reason.

So I had been forced to go out for run lately in order to keep him calm since I don't want him to attack anyone.

Logan can be quite aggressive when anxious.

I dressed up and walked to my oce which I inherited from my father 3 years ago.

I was happy to take over as the Alpha at the time but now I miss him all the time .

He has moved out of the pack and to a small cottage outside.

He is the closest person to me after my mother's death years ago

He has nurtured me into the man I am today.

Even though my mom's death affected him badly he never once neglected me or the pack .

I have learnt a lot from him to become the Alpha I am today.

I still seek his advice when I stumble upon something.

I am an only child so it's feels extra lonely even though I have my friends Nathan, Jason and William.

I have decided to have more than one child so that my children don't have to feel lonely.

That reminds that the former Beta's step daughter is going to join the pack today.

I don't know why Logan is starting to stir in my mind again but I will just ignore him.

We normally don't allow rogues to join our pack but I am breaking the rules this time.

The former Damien has always been working hard for the pack so for his sake I decided to allow her to join .

The poor man lost his mate as well, I am glad he has found his second chance mate, I wish my Dad will too , he deserves to be happy for the awesome man he is.

Shaking my head I buried my self into my work .

Knock knock!

Nathan came in and told me he brought Raelynn Keller.

"Raelynn."

Logan repeated after Nathan with a loving look on his face before he started pacing around.

I raised my head to look at her and my heartbeat accelerated in a way I never thought was possible as my eyes met with her emerald orbs.

The sweet scent of chocolates and cocoa rushed into my nose instantly making me dizzy , Logan instantly jumped and said "mate"

I dismissed Nathan and focused on her.

She is so beautiful, curly brown hair framing her slightly round face, green orbs that hold so much innocence in them, a nice well rounded ass ,full thighs and C cup boobs.

I noted she is standing too far so I told her to come closer.

"Raelynn," her name tastes so nice in my mouth..

I beckoned and held her hand as I brought my nger to her slightly parted full lips.

Logan purred in my head as soon as she held my hand and the way she was sucking on my nger made me imagine her full lips wrapped around my

I could smell her arousal with her standing close to me and our bodies touching.

I had to let her go before I do something drastic.

She looks so cute when I read her mind and she doesn't know how lift the block.

Which is among the many things we need to teach her about werewolves.

This is a problem I had forgotten , Damien told she was not aware she is a werewolf before this and now she will need to learn everything about werewolves.

And she has not gotten a wolf when she was 13 even though she is daughter to two Alphas.

But that will not affect me because I will still love her .

Werewolves normally assume that those without wolves are weak and disrespect them but I sure as hell would not allow anyone to disrespect my future Luna.

My Dad has always told me that mates are perfect no matter how they are, they are our other part.

But I don't want to tell her we are mates yet before she can adapt to the pack or being a werewolf.

And also because I am hoping she will get her wolf and sense me when she turns 18 in a months time.

I offered to take her to her room even though I could assigned anyone so that I can spend more time with her and change her room.

I had previously arranged for her to live on the third oor where all the pack members live.

But now I want her to live on the fourth oor with me.

We walked from the second oor where there's my oce to the fourth oor.

We could have taken the elevator but I wanted to spend more time inhaling her scent and calming Logan who just wants to claim her, bloody animal.

We arrived at the room, which was vacant but kept clean by the omegas.

I showed her the room and told her to contact me if she needed anything but I would be happy if she contacted me anyways.

I went back to my oce and summoned Nathan.

I want him to enroll her in the wolf Academy which is the most prominent academy for werewolves.

I want her to learn more about our kind and receive training.

My reason for the training is Incase she get a very strong wolf I don't want her to not be able to shift.

I just feel she is not ordinary and I want to prepare her for that.

I informed Nathan as much and ignored his shocked face as I told him I needed her enrolled by tomorrow morning.

I went down for dinner and noted she is sitting next to my seat.

She looks so beautiful with her beautiful milky white thighs visible to me from where I am sitting,I could hardly control my hand from running over them and squeezing them.

So I informed she will join wolf academy tomorrow and left after eating a few bites.
